My Lady Tongue Other Tales:

My lady Ludlow, and other tales Elizabeth Cleghorn Gaskell, 1906 My Lady Ludlow, and Other Tales; Included in "Round the Sofa." Elizabeth Cleghorn Gaskell, 1861 What the Moon Saw and Other Tales Hans Christian Andersen, 2020-09-28

It is a strange thing that when I feel most fervently and most deeply my hands and my tongue seem alike tied so that I cannot rightly describe or accurately portray the thoughts that are rising within me and yet I am a painter my eye tells me as much as that and all my friends who have seen my sketches and fancies say the same I am a poor lad and live in one of the narrowest of lanes but I do not want for light as my room is high up in the house with an extensive prospect over the neighbouring roofs During the first few days I went to live in the town I felt low spirited and solitary enough Instead of the forest and the green hills of former days I had here only a forest of chimney pots to look out upon And then I had not a single friend not one familiar face greeted me So one evening I sat at the window in a desponding mood and presently I opened the casement and looked out Oh how my heart leaped up with joy Here was a well known face at last a round friendly countenance the face of a good friend I had known at home In fact it was the Moon that looked in upon me He was quite unchanged the dear old Moon and had the same face exactly that he used to show when he peered down upon me through the willow trees on the moor I kissed my hand to him over and over again as he shone far into my little room and he for his part promised me that every evening when he came abroad he would look in upon me for a few moments This promise he has faithfully kept It is a pity that he can only stay such a short time when he comes Whenever he appears he tells me of one thing or another that he has seen on the previous night or on that same evening Just paint the scenes I describe to you this is what he said to me and you will have a very pretty picture book I have followed his injunction for many evenings I could make up a new Thousand and One Nights in my own way out of these pictures but the number might be too great after all The pictures I have here given have not been chosen at random but follow in their proper order just as they were described to me Some great gifted painter or some poet or musician may make something more of them if he likes what I have given here are only hasty sketches hurriedly put upon the paper with some of my own thoughts interspersed for the Moon did not come to me every evening a cloud sometimes hid his face from me What the Moon Saw: and Other Tales H. C. Andersen, 2022-07-20

In What the Moon Saw and Other Tales H C Andersen presents a captivating collection of stories that epitomize his mastery of fairy tale narrative The book delves into themes of innocence imagination and the supernatural with a distinctive blend of whimsy and moral underpinning Andersen s characteristic lyrical prose and vivid imagery invite readers into a fantastical realm where the moon observes human experiences and quandaries offering wisdom through enchanting tales that bridge the gap between the mundane and the magical Each story resonates with the essence of Romanticism reflecting a deep appreciation for nature emotion and the complexities of the human condition H C Andersen a luminary in the realm of fairy tales drew inspiration from his humble beginnings and early experiences in Denmark His voracious imagination and keen insight into the human psyche enabled him to weave narratives that resonate across generations Andersen's own life was steeped in a quest for understanding and acceptance a theme that often surfaces in his works including the exploration of societal norms and individual identity This collection is highly recommended for readers seeking a profound yet whimsical journey through the intricacies of life and the power of dreams Whether for young readers or the young at heart What the Moon Saw offers timeless lessons that remain relevant inviting a sense of wonder and reflection on our shared humanity
