New Transnational Activism:

The New Transnational Activism Sidney Tarrow, 2005-08 The New Transnational Activism shows how even the most prosaic activities like immigrants bringing remittances back to their families can assume broader political meanings when they provide ordinary people with the experience of crossing transnational space This means that we cannot be satisfied with defining transnational activists through the ways they think The defining feature of transnationalism in this book is relational and not cognitive This emphasis on activism's relational structure means that even as they make transnational claims transnational activists draw on the resources the networks and the opportunities in which they are embedded and only then if at all on more distant transnational links

The New Transnational Activism Sidney G. Tarrow, 2005 Activism across Borders since 1870 Daniel Laqua, 2023-08-10 From the Occupy protests to the Black Lives Matter movement and school strikes for climate action the twenty first century has been rife with activism Although very different from one another each of these movements has created alliances across borders with activists stressing that their concerns are not confined to individual nation states In this book Daniel Laqua shows that global efforts of this kind are not a recent phenomenon and that as long as there have been borders activists have sought to cross them Activism Across Borders since 1870 explores how individuals groups and organisations have fostered bonds in their quest for political and social change and considers the impact of national and ideological boundaries on their efforts Focusing on Europe but with a global outlook the book acknowledges the importance of imperial and postcolonial settings for groups and individuals that expressed far reaching ambitions From feminism and socialism to anti war campaigns and green politics this book approaches transnational activism with an emphasis on four features connectedness ambivalence transience and marginality In doing so it demonstrates the intertwined nature of different movements problematizes transnational action discusses the temporary nature of some alliances and shows how transnationalism has been used by those marginalized at the national level With a broad chronological perspective and thematic chapters it provides historical context clarifies terms and concepts and offers an alternative history of modern Europe through the lens of activists movements and campaigns

Asianization of Asia Chang Kyung-Sup, Kim Taekyoon, Lee Joonkoo, 2024-06-21 This book explores the Asianization of contemporary Asia a trend that through neoliberal economic globalism has diluted the political effect of the EuroAmerican dictated segmentation of Asia and instead facilitated and accelerated socioeconomic exchanges and collaborations among Asian nations themselves It comprehensively analyzes and interprets Asia's Asianization in terms of intensification of intra Asian interactions and flows in industrial educational sociopolitical and ecological spheres Through such explorations the book successfully reveals that Asia's Asianization is particularly reflected in the major dimensions of regional industrial integration transnational class relations labor market regionalization international educational mobility regionalization of media and pop culture transnational social movements and activism's regionalized social governance for development cooperation and developmental mobilization of diasporic socioeconomic resources In particular as an interdisciplinary study of Asia's industrial social and cultural integration within and across Asian societies in both outbound and inbound directions this book will be of huge interest to students and scholars of Asian politics development and sociology Localizing and Transnationalizing Contentious Politics Teresa S. Encarnacion Tadem, 2009-08-16 The Philippines makes an interesting case for examining direct and collective acts of contention against the neoliberal project of economic globalization Crippled by foreign debt indiscriminate liberalization of trade falling stock markets and perpetual corruption the Philippines is also a democratic polity and one of the few countries in Asia with a vibrant and dynamic civil society sector This collection has chapters on the Freedom from Debt Coalition's campaign on debt relief the Stop the New Round Coalition's advocacy to change international trade rules and barriers the global taxation initiative as embodied in Tobin tax advocacy in the country the Transparency and Accountability Network's anti corruption effort and the Philippine Fair Trade Forum's enterprise on fair trade Localizing and Transnationalizing Contentious Politics is the first work of its kind to focus on five global civil society movements in the Philippines and their responses to the inequities of neoliberal globalization Northern scholars have acknowledged the persistent absence of the South in research on activism around global issues and this book can help fill this gap Using political process theory as a framework the book traces the emergence development and diffusion of these social movements in the Philippines Globalization is taken as the environment in which they operate to highlight the role of increased interdependence and internationalization and the predominance of a particular ideology in the dynamics of contention Windows of Opportunity Miriam J. Anderson, 2016 In 1915 women from over thirty countries met in The Hague to express opposition to the war and propose ways to end it The delegates called for three things for women to be present at all international peace conferences a women's only peace conference to be convened alongside any official negotiations and the establishment of universal suffrage While these demands went unmet at the time contemporary women's groups continue to seek to participate in peace negotiations and to have language promoting gender equality inserted into all peace agreements In fact between 1989 and 2005 almost half of all peace processes led to agreements with references to women Many of these clauses addressed compensation for wartime gender based violence and guarantees for women's participation in the post conflict transitional period Others included electoral quotas and changes to inheritance legislation Curiously the language used is fairly consistent across agreements and that is because it reflects international women's rights norms rather than more local norms But why is it that if a peace agreement's primary objective is to end conflict some include potentially controversial provisions about gender that might delay or complicate reaching an agreement Why do these provisions echo international norms when we might expect each agreement to reflect varying cultural norms And which factors make it more likely that women's rights will appear in peace agreements Windows of Opportunity answers these questions by looking at peace negotiations in Burundi Macedonia and Northern Ireland It looks at the key actors in negotiations what prompts their mobilization their objectives their strategies how they construct clauses for inclusion in peace agreements how women's roles in the state are impacted in the wake of peace agreements and how these variables increase the likelihood of success for women's movements

The Codes of the Global in the Twenty-first Century Anna Maria Guasch, 2017-12-22 At the start of the twenty first century the contemporary implies a clear desire to affirm a type of art that is expanding across the globe challenging old geographical borders and reclaiming narratives of place and displacement in other words new cultural practices that transfigure the relationship between the global and the local and articulate the discourse of difference Being in the place of here and now working with others in simultaneous and specific practice and contemplating the production of work in the experience of connection means raising the value of the performative aspect of practice and displacing the reflective role of cultural production In the new cartography of this multifarious global art the author who combines theoretical and curatorial discourse with creative practice defines how global concepts circulate from the critical analysis of transnational contemporary art to the global

The Rise of the Global Imaginary Manfred B. Steger, 2008-07-03 Neoliberalism Neoconservatism Postmarxism Postmodernism Is there really something genuinely new about today's isms Have we moved past our traditional ideological landscape Combining political history philosophical interpretation and good old fashioned story telling Manfred Steger traces ideology's remarkable journey from Count Destutt de Tracy's Enlightenment science of ideas to President George W Bush's imperial globalism Rejecting futile attempts to update modern political belief systems by adorning them with prefixes the author offers instead a highly original explanation for their novelty their increasing ability to articulate deep seated understandings of community in global rather than national terms This growing awareness of globality fuels the visions of social elites who reside in the privileged spaces of our global cities It erupts in the hopes and demands of migrants who traverse national boundaries in search of their piece of the global promise Stoked by cross cultural encounters technological change and scientific innovation the rising global imaginary has destabilized the grand political ideologies codified during the national age The national is slowly losing its grip on people's minds but the global has not yet ascended to the commanding heights once occupied by its predecessor Still the first rays of the rising global imaginary have provided enough light to capture the contours of a profoundly altered ideological landscape Pointing in this direction the book ends with a timely interpretation of the apparent convergence of ideology and religion in the dawning global age a broad phenomenon that extends beyond the obvious cases of Christian fundamentalism and Islamic jihadism
