Smith, 1996-11 Contains 60 indicators that shed light on the condition of education in the U S These indicators represent a consensus of professional thinking on the most significant national measures of the condition and progress of education to date Topics include access participation and progress achievement attainment and curriculum economic and other outcomes of education size growth and output of educational institutions climate classrooms and diversity in educational institutions human and financial resources of educational institutions Glossary Charts and tables

Changing the Subject J. Myron Atkin, Paul Black, 2005-11-01 Change in education is too often a process which enthusiasts ranging from top policy makers to groups of teachers plan and drive forward but in which they all find unexpected pitfalls Every innovation depends on the commitment of schools and teachers to make it work But often that commitment is lacking or is less than total or it turns to frustration as events develop This book is based on a set of stories from teachers and education professionals in thirteen OECD countries Twenty three case studies of educational innovation in science mathematics and technology have involved school teachers inspectors academics both subject specialists and educational researchers policy makers and advisors The case studies come from Australia Canada France Germany Ireland Japan the Netherlands Norway Scotland Spain Switzerland and the USA Drawing on this rich variety of material the authors concentrate on the origins and purposes of innovation within and across the science mathematics and technology curricula They consider the conceptions of the three subjects along with issues of teaching learning and assessment and explore the involvement of both teachers and students They reflect on the various strategies adopted to cope with or bring about change and offer valuable insights to advisors developers policy makers and practitioners both in schools and outside The writing team includes Paul Black King's College London Mike Atkin Stanford University Raymond Duval University of Lille Edwyn James Consultant OECD John Olson Queen's University of Kingston Ontario Dieter Pevsner Consultant London Senta Raizen National Centre for Improving Science Education Washington Maria Saez University of Valladolid Spain and Helen Simons Southampton University Published in association with the OECD      International Education Indicators Stéphane Baldi, 2000      Gender-Class Equality in Political Economies Lynn Prince Cooke, 2011-03-17 This book offers an in depth analysis of gender class equality across six countries to reveal why gender class equality in paid and unpaid work remains elusive and what more policy might do to achieve better social and economic outcomes      The Educational Progress of Women Thomas Max Smith, 1995      Secondary Education in Europe Denis B. P. Kallen, Council of Europe. Council for Cultural Co-operation, 1997-01-01      Transitions of Youth Citizenship in Europe Andy Furlong, Irena Guidikova, Council of Europe. Directorate of Youth and Sport, 2001-01-01 The book explores issues relating to contemporary youth cultures and citizenship within modern European societies The papers presented discuss the structural inequalities and social disadvantage which often undermine youth citizenship and consider how subculture activities influence the development of youth action initiative and social responsibility The case studies include animal rights activists in Sweden hip hop music culture in France rural youth in the UK the influence of the media and mobile communications upon young people's experiences the role of the family and peer groups and gender issues and developments in the educational achievements of young women     Decision-making in 14 OECD Education Systems Centre for Educational Research and Innovation, 1995 This publication compares levels modes and domains of decision making processes in 14 OECD education systems during 1990-91 Back cover     Higher Education and the World of Work Ulrich Teichler, 2019-02-11 What does higher education offer to make students competent actors in the world of work and other life spheres This issue is most controversially debated in economically advanced countries since about four decades when higher education in economically advanced countries began to serve larger ranges of the occupational pyramid than merely the intellectually and professionally chosen few The author of this volume analyzes a broad range of issues over four decades of his academic career Employers and graduate surveys secondary analyses of education and employment statistics as well as analyses of policy and academic debates form the basis of the key argument Neither trust in expectations formulated by employers or in income and status as measures of successful study nor isolated claims for the pursuit of academic knowledge for its own sake and for the critical functions of higher education are a suitable reference frame for understanding the dynamic links between higher education and the world of work A match between the number of graduates and the corresponding positions or between the competences acquired during study and job requirements cannot be expected Students are more ambitious and strive for a broader range of goals than they can expect to be rewarded Graduates have to be both highly qualified experts and sceptics as far as conventional wisdom is concerned and they have to be prepared for indeterminate tasks Key themes of this collection of essays are the causes and consequences of an imperfect match between higher education and employment the tensions between employment and work orientation in higher education opportunities of a highly educated society the dynamics of the variety of students the patterns of the higher education system and the horizontal and vertical diversity of careers different notions of higher education and the world of work among economically advanced countries major controversial notions of professional relevance of study in policy and research debates     Findings from the Condition of Education , 1994     Vocational Training, European Journal , 1994     Transitions from Education to Work in Europe Walter Müller, Markus Gangl, 2003-11-27 This text provides a comparative analysis of school to work transitions in EU member states It shows how differences in both European education and training systems as well as labour market institutions generated significant variation in the experiences of young people in the 1990s     The Future of

Female-dominated Occupations OECD,1998-10-06 In all of the OECD countries women s employment is heavily concentrated in the same occupations secretaries primary school teachers nurses and home helpers This book evaluates the future of these occupations

Stratification in Higher Education Yossi Shavit,2007-06-13 The mass expansion of higher education is one of the most important social transformations of the second half of the twentieth century In this book scholars from 15 countries representing Western and Eastern Europe East Asia Israel Australia and the United States assess the links between this expansion and inequality in the national context Contrary to most expectations the authors show that as access to higher education expands all social classes benefit Neither greater diversification nor privatization in higher education results in greater inequality In some cases especially where the most advantaged already have significant access to higher education opportunities increase most for persons from disadvantaged origins Also during the late twentieth century opportunities for women increased faster than those for men Offering a new spin on conventional wisdom this book shows how all social classes benefit from the expansion of higher education

Convergence and Divergence in European Education and Training Systems Andy Green,Tom Leney,Alison Wolf,1999 This book offers a unique picture of education and training in the EU between the early 1980s and the late 1990s It synthesizes a wealth of research policy documents and original data from the fifteen Member States and from the European Commission The advent of the Single Market and of the euro have focused attention on economic integration in Europe while discussions of globalization also emphasize common trends and economic convergence Convergence and Divergence in European Education and Training Systems demonstrates that while European education and training systems are responding to powerful general trends they remain highly distinctive with no obvious movement towards a single common pattern
