Reverence Paul Woodruff, Betty S. Flowers, 2014 Reverence is an ancient virtue that survives among us in half forgotten patterns of civility and moments of inarticulate awe Reverence gives meaning to much that we do yet the word has almost passed out of our vocabulary Reverence says philosopher and classicist Paul Woodruff begins in an understanding of human limitations From this grows the capacity to be in awe of whatever we believe lies outside our control God truth justice nature even death It is a quality of character that is especially important in leadership and in teaching although it figures in virtually every human relationship It transcends religious boundaries and can be found outside religion altogether Woodruff draws on thinking about this lost virtue in ancient Greek and Chinese traditions and applies lessons from these highly reverent cultures to today's world The book covers reverence in a variety of contexts the arts leadership teaching warfare and the home and shows how essential a quality it is to a well functioning society First published by Oxford University Press in 2001 this new edition of Reverence is revised and expanded It contains a foreword by

Betty Sue Flowers Distinguished Teaching Professor Emeritus at the University of Texas at Austin a new preface two new chapters one on the sacred and one on compassion and an epilogue focused on renewing reverence in our own lives

Vegas Strong Roberta Stermann Sabbath, 2023-03-21 Mass shootings have been on the rise in the United States since the early 2000s but until the heartbreak of the 1 October 2017 Route 91 Harvest Music Festival the citizens of Las Vegas had never experienced the violence and tragedy of this now all too frequent occurrence That day fifty eight people were shot to death on site while another two victims later died of their injuries The 1 October incident physically wounded nearly 900 concert goers but psychologically impacted countless untold victims As individual and institutional response to urgent requests for help came in both during and after the 1 October catastrophe those who call Las Vegas home struggled to cope with pain and grief Now editor Roberta Sabbath draws together a collection of personal essays oral histories interviews scholarly writings and commentaries to remember those whose lives were lost and to honor survivors and their loved ones Written five years after the tragedy each contribution offers a unique story of healing demonstrating the wide ranging experiences and repercussions of the event The essays in this collection represent a broad diversity of voices from political leaders health professionals first responders community members and incident survivors This work is dedicated to those who lost their lives on 1 October 2017 to survivors and their loved ones and to the caregivers both individual and institutional all of whom continue to keep Vegas Strong

French Crime Fiction, 1945-2005 Margaret-Anne Hutton, 2016-04-22 In the first major study of representations of World War II in French crime fiction Margaret Anne Hutton draws on a corpus of over a hundred and fifty texts spanning more than sixty years Included are well known writers male and female such as Aubert Simenon Boileau Narcejak Vargas Daeninckx and Jonquet as well as a broad range of lesser known authors Hutton's introduction situates her study within the larger framework of literary representations of World War II setting the stage for her discussions of genre the problem of defining crimes and criminals in the context of the war the epistemological issues that arise in the relationship between World War II historiography and the crime novel and the temporal textures linking past crimes to the present Filling a gap in the fields of crime fiction and fictional representations of the War Hutton's book calls into question the way both crime fiction and the French theatre of World War II have been conceptualized and codified

The Garden of Leaders Paul Woodruff, 2019 In The Garden of Leaders philosopher Paul Woodruff advances a new view of liberal arts education that places leadership at the root of everything it does presenting three core sets of recommendations for how the contemporary university can and should foster such leadership skills

Compassion and the Characterization of the Markan Jesus Jonathan Bryant, 2024-07-15 Why does the Gospel of Mark make specific and repeated reference to the compassion of Jesus in the miracle stories This volume discusses the function that compassion has in the Markan characterization of Jesus particularly in how the terminology employed depicts Jesus as entering the suffering of others In doing so it underscores how this portrayal is exceptional among the stories of miracle workers in ancient Greco

Roman and Jewish literature In Mark this compassion toward the suffering other is a central feature of the kingdom of God an attribute the Markan audience is challenged to emulate Philosophy as Drama Hallvard Fossheim, Vigdis

Songe-Møller, Knut Ågotnes, 2019-08-22 Plato's philosophical dialogues can be seen as his creation of a new genre Plato borrows from as well as rejects earlier and contemporary authors and he is constantly in conversation with established genres such as tragedy comedy lyric poetry and rhetoric in a variety of ways This intertextuality reinforces the relevance of material from other types of literary works as well as a general knowledge of classical culture in Plato's time and the political and moral environment that Plato addressed when reading his dramatic dialogues The authors of Philosophy as Drama show that any interpretation of these works must include the literary and narrative dimensions of each text as much as serious the attention given to the progression of the argument in each piece Each dialogue is read on its own merit and critical comparisons of several dialogues explore the differences and likenesses between them on a dramatic as well as on a logical level This collection of essays moves debates in Plato scholarship forward when it comes to understanding both particular aspects of Plato's dialogues and the approach itself Containing 11 chapters of close readings of individual dialogues with 2 chapters discussing specific themes running through them such as music and sensuousness pleasure perception and images this book displays the range and diversity within Plato's corpus
