Hitchcock's People, Places, and Things John Bruns, 2019-05-15 Hitchcock's People Places and Things argues that Alfred Hitchcock was as much a filmmaker of things and places as he was of people Drawing on the thought of Bruno Latour John Bruns traces the complex relations of human and nonhuman agents in Hitchcock's films with the aim of mapping the Hitchcock landscape cognitively affectively and politically Yet this book does not promise that such a map can or will cohere for Hitchcock was just as adept at misdirection as he was at direction Bearing this in mind and true to the Hitchcock spirit Hitchcock's People Places and Things anticipates that people will stumble into the wrong places at the wrong time places will be made uncanny by things and things exchanged between people will act as not so secret agents that make up the perilous landscape of Hitchcock's work This book offers new readings of well known Hitchcock films including The Lodger Shadow of a Doubt Psycho The Birds and Marnie as well as insights into lesser discussed films such as I Confess and Family Plot Additional close readings of the original theatrical trailer for Psycho and a Hitchcock directed episode of Alfred Hitchcock Presents expand the Hitchcock landscape beyond conventional critical borders In tracing the network of relations in Hitchcock's work Bruns brings new Hitchcockian tropes to light For students scholars and serious fans the author promises a thrilling critical navigation of the Hitchcock landscape with frequent mental shake ups that Hitchcock promised his audience

People, Places, and Practices in the Arctic Cunera Buijs, Kim van Dam, Frédéric Laugrand, 2022-11-30 This collection follows anthropological perspectives on peoples Canadian Inuit Norwegian Sami Yupiit from Alaska and Inuit from Greenland places and practices in the Circumpolar North from colonial times to our post modern era This volume brings together fresh perspectives on theoretical concepts colonial imperial descriptions collaborative work of non Indigenous and Indigenous researchers as well as articles written by representatives of Indigenous cultures from an inside perspective The scope of the book ranges from contributions based on unpublished primary sources missionary journals and fairly unknown early Indigenous sources and publications to those based on more recent Indigenous testimonies and anthropological fieldwork museum exhibitions and self representations in the fields of fashion marketing and the arts The aim of this volume is to explore the making of representations for and or by Circumpolar North peoples The authors follow what representations have been created in the past and in some cases continue to be created in the present and the Indigenous employment of representations that has continuity with the past and also goes beyond traditional utilization By studying these representations we gain a better understanding of the dynamics of a society and its interaction with other cultures notably in the context of the dominant culture s efforts to assimilate Indigenous people and erase their story People s ideas about themselves and of the Other are never static not even if they share the same cultural background This is even more the case in the contact zone of the intercultural arena Images of the Other vary according to time and place and perceptions of others are continuously readjusted from both sides in intercultural encounters This volume has been prepared by the Research Group Circumpolar Cultures RGCC which is based in the Netherlands Its members conduct research on social and cultural change focusing on topics that are of interest to the Indigenous peoples of the Arctic The RGCC builds on a long tradition in Arctic studies in the Netherlands Nico Tinbergen Geert van den Steenhoven Gerti Nooter and Jarich Oosten and can rely on rich Arctic collections of artefacts and photographs in anthropological museums and extensive library collections The expertise of the RGCC in Arctic studies is internationally acknowledged by academics as well as circumpolar peoples
