Programs From Decision Tables:

Programs from Decision Tables Edward Humby, 1973 This book is devoted to a description of the translation of description tables into procedural languages The aim is to encourage their use by giving users a background from which they could better evaluate and therefore cause an improvement in decision table processors Applications of Decision

Tables Herman McDaniel, 1970 Decision Table Languages and Systems John R. Metzner, Bruce H. Barnes, 2014-06-20

ACM Monograph Series Decision Table Languages and Systems focuses on linguistic examination of decision tables and survey of the features of existing decision table languages and systems The book first offers information on semiotics programming language features and generalization Discussions focus on semantic broadening outer language enrichments generalization of syntax limitations implementation improvements syntactic and semantic features decision table syntax semantics of decision table languages and decision table programming languages The text then elaborates on design implications decision structure tables spectrum of decision table use and history of decision table programming Topics include feature evaluation method breadth of decision table applicability and suggested design procedure The book also takes a look at sequential test procedures and language references The publication is a vital reference for researchers interested in decision table languages and systems Decision Tables in Software Engineering Richard B. Hurley, 1983

When one thinks of programming one thinks of programming languages and lines of coding The principles of decision table programming however require very little in the way of coding and language details In the context of software engineering the concern is with a method of problem solving treating a program in small manageable pieces and tying them together with a precise vehicle of communication This book attempts to teach what decision tables are and how to formulate and manipulate them Designed for practicing programmers software designers analysts testers documenters subject matter specialists and computer users who have some programming experience There is very little mathematical content no formal mathematical background is needed Interagency Training Program Catalog United States Civil Service Commission.
