Promoting A Society For All Ages In Asia:

The Well-Being of the Elderly in Asia Albert Isaac Hermalin, 2010-09-22 In the broadest sense The Well Being of the Elderly in Asia is a study of social change and of anticipating future social change It examines the effects on the current and future elderly of the rapid demographic transition that has occurred over much of Asia accompanied in many countries by equally dramatic social and economic transformations Policymakers in Asia have been aware of these trends and their potentially deleterious consequences for a decade or more and have sought to fashion appropriate policies and programs that anticipate and mitigate their effects Accordingly any study of the sociodemographic trends and their impact must be examined in the light of policies put in place and under development Ageing in the Asia-Pacific Region David R. Phillips, 2002-11-01 First Published in 2004 The Asia Pacific region is now clearly witnessing the rapid ageing of many of its nations and Asia is already the region with relatively the largest number of older persons This book focuses on the challenges that this demographic trend poses to economies and societies in the region and the policies that have evolved to date to meet new demands It looks forward over the coming decades to consider how societies and economies will deal with ageing and the necessary structural and behavioural changes that this will entail The book is organized into two main sections The first introduces the key features demography research and long term care issues of the region and provides region wide context and analysis The second section offers in depth case studies of thirteen countries including China Japan Korea and Indonesia As well as providing a wealth of original research material the book also offers valuable comparative analysis while the larger economies have had to develop policies to maintain their social and economic successes in the face of demographic ageing developing countries must find ways to build their economies around an ageing population With contributors drawn from a range of academic and professional disciplines including many practising social gerontologists this book will be of interest to scholars in economics sociology social policy health policy politics and development studies With its particular emphasis on the future it will also be an essential reference for anybody with a professional interest in policy making in the region

Handbook of Asian Aging Hyunsook Yoon, Jon Hendricks, 2018-10-26 In western countries the rising tide of population aging took 100 years to alter the face of societies but Asia is experiencing comparable changes in not much more than a quarter of a century Contributors to The Handbook of Aging describe the magnitude of these changes and their effects on the aged and on societies attempting to adapt to the dramatic improvements in life expectancy brought on by rapid economic and social transformations Asia encompasses a vast reach from Pakistan and India to Japan the Philippines and Indonesia and in this book including Australia The Handbook of Aging provides a framework for making sense of the meeting between reverential views of the elderly and contemporary priorities as Asia arrives at the crossroads The need for innovative approaches to social policy and personal practices is nowhere more evident than in Asian countries where modern marketing economies have forced hard political choices The economic tigers of the Asian Pacific region experienced the aging of their populations ahead of other Asian countries but solutions reached during times of financial boom are being re examined as economies come back to earth with soft or hard landings The Handbook of Asian Aging provides an atlas of the far reaching changes that are afoot and that will become even more pronounced in the near future Education for the Elderly in the Asia Pacific Pennee Narot,Narong Kiettikunwong,2021-09-25

In many countries across the Asia Pacific region people are adapting to the new demographic shift but there is nonetheless much concern This book documents the various educational approaches rendered by both public and private sectors to enable elderly individuals in their own countries to re engage in society more inclusively to stay longer in the labour market and to become less dependent on the state or their families In order to produce active healthy and productive aging citizens the experiments showcased by this book highlight how adaptive action is needed across many policy areas with emphasis on shaping structural differences in the composition and organisation of higher education systems that can better foster lifelong learning among elderly citizens The book is a great venue to underline the interplay of the theory and practices of vastly complex challenges Ageing and Long-term Care

David R. Phillips,2014-05-14 The case studies in this book focus on the emergence extent and nature of national policies on ageing and associated strategies to address long term care needs Key opportunities for and constraints on policy are identified in this first round of regional studies Marketing For Competitiveness: Asia To The World - In The Age Of Digital Consumers

Philip Kotler,Hermanwan Kartajaya,Den Huan Hooi,2016-11-24 Asia is the most populated geographical region with 50% of the world s inhabitants living there Coupled that with the impressive economic growth rates in many Asian countries the region provides a very attractive and lucrative market for many businesses big and small and from all industries In addition Asia is also a dynamic market that significantly grows with developments in technology and digitalization For example a research by Google and Temasek shows that Southeast Asia is the world s fastest growing internet region The internet economy in Southeast Asia is expected to grow by 6.5 times from US 31 billion in 2015 to US 197 billion in 2025 All these make it critical for marketers whether domestic regional or global to stay in touch if not ahead in their understanding of what is happening in Asia from a marketing perspective and what Asia has to offer to the world One phenomenon happening in the Asian market and which marketers should pay utmost attention to is the rapidly unfolding digital revolution that has fundamentally transformed not just the extent but also the nature of competition What makes it even more challenging and complicating is also how such a revolution impacts on consumer and business buying behavior Disruptive technologies supported by this digital revolution have brought in new competitors and enabled existing competitors to surpass the conventional boundaries which we may be quite familiar with Asian consumers have become more educated and connected and have embraced newer ways of selecting buying and using products and services In this book the Father of Modern Marketing Professor Philip Kotler has collaborated with two marketing experts from Asia Hermawan Kartajaya from Indonesia and Hooi Den Huan from Singapore to publish a book on Marketing for Competitiveness Asia to the World In the Age of Digital Consumers This book argues that marketing is no longer just vertical but has encompassed a new more horizontal paradigm In addition to many new concepts and frameworks this book includes a plethora of real world examples from various countries in Asia which will help to shed light on how companies both Asian and global compete in Asia Useful lessons can be drawn by all businesses in the world on how to win the mind heart and spirit of the Asian consumer digital and non digital Ageing Asia and the Pacific in Changing Times Subas Dhakal,Alan Nankervis,John Burgess,2022-01-31 This book demonstrates that there are wide ranging potential challenges in addressing issues associated with ageing populations in both developed and developing countries of the region This book brings together local national and regional perspectives on the ageing population and sustainable development nexus in selected countries in the Asia Pacific region The countries selected in this book include a mix of developed and developing economies that all reflect strong trade investment and migration linkages While the Asia Pacific region is forecast to enjoy high growth in the coming decade a recurring common policy challenge is addressing the demographic time bomb posed by ageing populations and workforces Montague et al 2017 Consequently this book focuses on strategic policies and practices of multiple stakeholders primarily governments industry and education systems together with the range of aged care services providers in more effectively addressing these key socio economic challenges associated with the ageing population for sustainable development

Active Ageing in Asia Alan Walker,Christian Aspalter,2014-12-17 East Asian societies are changing rapidly and one of the most important facets of this transformation is population the ageing of society Active ageing is one of the few concepts available today to effectively address the problems arising from a highly aged and particularly in East Asia fast ageing society offering a new social policy paradigm to redirect and innovate new social policies particularly social services social transfers social regulations and laws towards more investment in and support of the fast rising number of olderelderly citizens This book focuses on the experiences of East Asian societies where active ageing has been implemented It presents a thorough analysis of the concept of active ageing and its potential and problems of implementations in different stages of development in East Asia whilst providing theoretical clarity to and broadening the concept of active ageing Further the country focused case studies explore how to design pursue measure and evaluate social policies highlight the problems related to the implementation of the concept of active ageing in social policy and outline the practical implications of active ageing theory forin policy making Active Ageing in Asia will appeal to students and scholars of social and public policy social work gerontology and health and social administration as well as to policy makers working in the field Routledge Handbook of Human Rights in Asia Fernand de Varennes,Christie M. Gardiner,2018-12-12 The Routledge Handbook of Human Rights in Asia provides a rich study of human rights challenges facing some of the most vulnerable people in Asia While formal accession to core international human rights instruments is commonplace across the region the realisation of human rights for many remains elusive as development pressure violent conflict limited political will and discrimination maintain human rights volatility This Handbook explores the underlying causes of human rights abuse in a range of contexts considers lessons learnt from global regional and domestic initiatives and provides recommendations and justifications for reform Comprising 23 chapters it examines the strengths and weaknesses of human rights institutions in Asia and covers issues such as Participation marginalisation detention and exclusion Private sector responsibility and security Conflict and post conflict rehabilitation Trafficking displacement and citizenship Ageing populations identity and sexuality Drawing together a remarkable collection of leading and emerging scholars advisers and practitioners this Handbook is essential reading for students scholars policy makers and advocates of human rights in Asia and the world

The Protection and Promotion of Human Security in East Asia B. Howe, 2013-10-01

Although many of the states of East Asia have achieved startling success not all have benefited from the region's development Many of the most vulnerable sections of East Asian populations still face tremendous challenges in their daily lives have yet to enjoy the rewards of the Asian Century and may even be further imperiled as a result of the forces of development Brendan Howe examines the measurements of success in East Asian development and governance from a human centered perspective He assesses obstacles to the protection and promotion of human security and development through detailed case studies of the most challenged states in the region including Burma Timor Leste Japan and North and South Korea He looks at the roles that East Asian actors can play and have been playing in protecting and promoting human security at the theoretical and practical level

Ethical and Social Marketing in Asia Bang Nguyen, Chris Rowley, 2015-02-16 There is a growing interest in firms' adoption of ethical and social marketing approaches among academics and practitioners alike Ethical Marketing is the application of ethics into the marketing process and Social Marketing is a concept that seeks to influence a target audience for the greater social good Ethical and Social Marketing in Asia examines this so far unexplored area investigating why differing cultures and consumption behaviours require different emphasis in different markets The diversity of the Asian countries provides a perplexing environment to the development and management of ethical and social marketing The belief that bottom-line profits is enough for a company is often not favourably viewed by Asian countries emphasising collective social and long-term benefits for the people and country Due to these interesting characteristics and complexities the study of ethical and social marketing in Asia is a timely topic The first chapters introduce Ethical Marketing in Asia followed by case studies of how the approach is used across 14 diverse economies geographically based on clusters North East China Taiwan Japan South Korea South East Singapore Malaysia Thailand Vietnam Cambodia the Philippines Indonesia and South Asia India Pakistan Bangladesh The second part discusses Social Marketing using the same sequence of regions and economies and the third part explores the unique link to Fairness Management in Asia followed by a conclusion Explores the nature of ethical and social marketing from an Asian perspective Discusses current ethical and social marketing researches and practices in different areas industries commercial and non commercial sectors Serves as an invaluable resource for marketing academics and practitioners requiring more than anecdotal evidence of different ethical and social marketing applications Compares and contrasts unethical situations covering important aspects related to ethics society and fairness Includes an interesting mix of theory research findings and practices

What Matters for Health and Happiness Among the Older Adults in Asia Nai Peng Tey, Halimah Awang, Shekhar Chauhan, 2024-03-11 People want to live a healthy and happy later life A large body of literature shows the close association between health status and happiness and between health and active engagement in work exercise and social and religious activities However the causation between the two can run both ways and it is difficult to determine the causal effect with cross sectional data Various authors have shown the significant influence of socioeconomic factors and human needs on older people's health status and happiness A better understanding of the factors affecting healthy and happy aging is essential for policymaking to improve the well being of older people The availability of data from HRS family studies in several Asian countries CHARLS in China LASI in India JSTAR in Japan KLoSA in Korea IFLS in Indonesia HART in Thailand MARS in Malaysia and Longitudinal Study of Ageing and Health in Viet Nam see Gateway to Global Aging Data provides an excellent opportunity for researchers to examine factors affecting health and happiness among older adults within and across Asian countries This research topic aims to gather papers that investigate the socioeconomic attitudinal and behavioural factors affecting the health status and happiness life satisfaction of older adults in Asia The dependent variables may include physical health mental health disability ADL IADL cognitive functioning self rated health health expenditure feeling of happiness and life satisfaction The independent variables may be age gender marital status place of residence educational level active engagement work exercise social and religious activities family and social relationship and support outlook in life smoking drinking and access to and utilization of healthcare services etc Manuscripts can be based on individual countries or cross country analysis preferably using the panel data to establish the causal effects of the independent variables on the dependent variables

The Asia-Pacific in the Age of Transnational Mobility Catherine Gomes, 2016-12-01 The growing mobility of people within and into the Asia Pacific region has created environments of increasing diversity as nations become hosts to both permanent and temporary multicultural societies How do we begin to gauge the impact of mobility and multiculturalism on individuals and groups in this diverse region today The authors of The Asia Pacific in the Age of Transnational Mobility turn to social media as a tool of inquiry to map how mobile subjects and minorities articulate their sense of community and identity The authors see social media as a platform that allows users to document and express their individual and collective identities sometimes in restrictive communication environments while providing a sense of belonging and agency They present original empirical work that attempts to help readers understand how mobile subjects who circulate in the Asia Pacific create a sense of community for themselves and articulate their ethnic ideological and national identities OECD Skills Studies OECD Skills Strategy Southeast Asia Skills for a Post-COVID Recovery and Growth OECD,2023-03-22 Skills are the key to shaping a better future enabling countries and people to thrive in an increasingly interconnected and rapidly changing world Megatrends such as globalisation technological progress demographic change migration and climate change and most recently COVID 19 are reshaping work and society generating a growing demand for higher levels and new sets of skills
