Frederiksen,L.J. Solomon,K.A. Brehony,2013-11-11 This is a book that grew out of frustration The frustration was rooted in our failed attempts to help people modify health related behavior From a behavioral medicine perspective it was readily apparent to us that there were many things people could do to improve their health Some of these were preventive behaviors whereas others were much more therapeutic or rehabilitative in nature Put another way there were specific well known behavioral strategies that people could use to maintain or regain their good health Yet despite our good intentions enthusiasm and considerable efforts something was wrong People dropped out of therapy or failed to follow behavioral prescriptions Workshops and clinics were half empty If people would attend workshops or follow therapeutic programs their health would benefit Yet in our experience and in the experience of most of our colleagues compliance to treatment programs was a major problem Faced with such a situation it is easy to blame the victim in this case the client It is common to hear therapists talk of poorly motivated clients complain that people are just not interested in improving their health or even speculate about people s self destructive tendencies Although this may be comforting to the thera pist it does very little to solve the problem What was needed was an approach to improve adherence to therapeutic programs rather than comforting excuses for their failure It is in this context that we became exposed to the area of social marketing Business 4.0 as a Subject of the Digital Economy Elena G. Popkova,2022-06-14 This book substantiates the transformation processes in the system of modern entrepreneurship in the conditions of formation of Industry 4 0 The authors develop a scientific concept of business 4 0 determine the specific features of business 4 0 and current problems and perspectives of its development in developed and developing markets study the infrastructural provision of business 4 0 in view of its sectorial specifics outline the perspectives and recommendations in the sphere of development of business 4 0 and offer the scientific and practical recommendations for state and corporate management Marketing the Public Sector Seymour H. Fine,2017-07-12 The administrative officers of public and nonprofit organizations have become increasingly interested in marketing techniques during the 1990s They reason that if commercial marketing methods can successfully move merchandise across the retail counter those same techniques should be capable of creating a demand for such social products as energy conservation women s rights military enlistment or day care centers The goal of this volume is to provide social sector executives with practical and effective guidelines on how to harness the power of marketing in order to improve service to their constituencies Marketing the Public Sector builds upon two decades of research in social marketing and represents the current state of the art The authors demonstrate how the principles developed in earlier studies can be applied in actual situations Included here are case studies of marketing plans prepared for hospitals political campaigns Third World social change and community foundations that proved to be as effective as those in the private sector The case study approach is effectively supplemented by theoretical chapters that define first principles in essential matters such as product management value determination advertising and analysis of market performance This amalgamation of theory and application is suitable to middle range social marketing sizes as well as full scale projects that large agencies might undertake The problems differ only in magnitude no organization is too small or too large to adopt a consumer orientation Marketing the Public Sector is not only a guide to marketing it is also about communication social change propaganda and education It will be of great interest to sociologists public sector administrators and specialists in communications public relations fund raising and community affairs Effective and attractive communication signals in social, cultural, and business contexts Oliver Niebuhr,Francesca D'Errico,Ellen Anke Schmid,Alexander Michael Brem,Anna Esposito,2023-06-30 Social Sector Communication Jaishri Jethwaney,2024-07-22 Communication advocacy and outreach are germane to the success of any organisation working in the social sector This book provides a robust conceptual framework that is required to understand the demands of the sector and suggests strategies and tools for those engaged in social sector communication This book not only highlights the theoretical underpinnings practice and skill of social sector communications in India but also provides an understanding of various skills and approaches required in communication including social marketing media advocacy social mobilisation grassroots communication and corporate social responsibility CSR With the aid of case studies it offers suggestions on how to plan campaigns write a concept note field report and press release and effectively use social media to achieve developmental programme goals This revised edition discusses the different perspectives of NGOs and programme implementers and helps in understanding the corporate NGO interface vis vis CSR projects This book will be useful to students of social work business and management preparing for roles in social enterprises It will also be of use to working professionals in the social sector
