Promotion Of Continence In Adult Nursing:

The Promotion of Continence in Adult Nursing David Colborn, 2013-11-11 The prime motivation for this book has come from my experience with those who suffer from incontinence and from my contact both in the clinical area and as a teacher with those who care for them Over the years I have developed a passionate interest in the subject and there is little doubt that in general terms the level of knowledge and awareness relating to the topic has increased Despite this it is still apparent that continence promotion remains a somewhat fringe subject both in practice and in theory One of the difficulties which has become clear from discussion with nurses of all grades is that they feel that the only people who are capable of mastering the practicalities of continence promotion are full time continence advisers It is unlikely that this view has stemmed from continence advisers themselves those that I know are usually very grateful for all the help that they can get or even from a reluctance on the part of nursing staff to develop their skills The root of the difficulty appears to be a lack of awareness on the part of nurses of the skills that are required for continence promotion and also how they can be put into practice The aim of this book is to provide a reference text to enable all practising nurses to take an active part in continence promotion and the appropriate management of incontinence Therapeutic Management of Incontinence and Pelvic Pain J. Laycock, J. Haslam, 2013-03-09 As medical knowledge advances we tend to compartmentalise our specialties into smaller units but hand in hand with this there is a growing understanding between the different disciplines within the caring professions Thus we are able to share our special skills to the benefit of patients This book is an excellent example of the advantage of interdisciplinary communication and demonstrates a refreshing holistic approach to the problems of incontinence and pelvic pain Written with physiotherapists in mind the editors have invited contributions from many distinguished experts in their own field These have been compiled into a comprehensive book which will appeal to many healthcare professionals I have had great pleasure in reading this book During the time that I have been involved with pelvic dysfunction there have been many exciting advances These are all included in a most readable sequence some presented with a refreshing new twist In particular I would like to bring to your attention the section on pelvic pain Because of our lack of understanding it has been a problem that is too often ignored and here at last are some practical ideas for therapeutic management There is still much progress to be made in the field of incontinence and pelvic pain and as yet no editors can be expected to produce a definitive work However I would like to recommend this book most strongly It has a new approach to this topic which is still a major problem for many people Nursing Older Adults Reed, Jan, Clarke, Charlotte, MacFarlane, Ann, 2011-06-01 This timely textbook aims to provide adult nurses with the principles and practice insights needed to deliver exceptional care in partnership with older adults Nursing for Wellness in Older Adults Carol A. Miller, 2009 Now in its Fifth Edition this text provides a comprehensive and wellness oriented approach to the theory and practice of gerontologic nursing Organized around the author's unique functional consequences theory of gerontologic nursing the book explores normal age related changes and risk factors that often interfere with optimal health and functioning to effectively identify and teach health promotion interventions The author provides research based background information and a variety of practical assessment and intervention strategies for use in every clinical setting Highlights of this edition include expanded coverage of evidence based practice more first person stories new chapters and clinical tools such as assessment tools recommended by the Hartford Institute of Geriatric Nursing
