Road To Madiun The Indonesian Communist:

The Road to Madiun Ann Swift, 2010 This thesis on Madiun was written during a year spent at Cornell studying Southeast Asia on a State Department training program I had just come from a three year assignment in Indonesia 1968 1971 and was being trained for more service in the area Searching for a thesis topic I was drawn to the Madiun period it was one of the most turbulent periods of the Indonesian revolution and one which had stirred a reasonable amount of controversy I decided to take an in depth look at the period trying to come at it from an Indonesian perspective while keeping an eye cocked to world events My methodology was simple I read everything I could find on the subject and talked to as many people as possible The further I got into my research the more I realized that the key to understanding what had actually happened in 1948 was the newspapers of the period These happily were available in abundance in Cornell s outstanding library and gave me not only an accurate chronology of events but a first hand look at how people of the period viewed those events at the time without the disadvantage of hindsight I made what were to me some fascinating discoveries historians views of fascinating can be a bit obscure and produced a thesis which is probably a bit more than most people would really like to know about the period Hating to leave out anything I added footnotes almost as long as the thesis itself I had no preconceived notions when I started the thesis and tried to maintain my objectivity throughout I was not looking for a particular solution to what happened and perhaps because of this the thesis lacks a resounding conclusion I hope however it will add a bit to the knowledge of the period Ann Swift June 1988

Secularism, Decolonisation, and the Cold War in South and Southeast Asia Clemens Six, 2017-07-20 The intensifying conflicts between religious communities in contemporary South and Southeast Asia signify the importance of gaining a clearer understanding of how societies have historically organised and mastered their religious diversity Based on extensive archival research in Asia Europe and the United States this book suggests a new approach to interpreting and explaining secularism not as a Western concept but as a distinct form of practice in 20th century global history In six case studies on the contemporary history of India Indonesia Malaysia and Singapore it analyses secularism as a project to create a high degree of distance between the state and religion during the era of decolonisation and the emerging Cold War between 1945 and 1970 To demonstrate the interplay between local and transnational dynamics the case studies look at patterns of urban planning the struggle against religious nationalism conflicts around religious education and anti communism as a dispute over secularism and social reform The book emphasises in particular the role of non state actors as key supporters of secular statehood a role that has thus far not received sufficient attention A novel approach to studying secularism in Asia the book discusses the different ways that global transformations such as decolonisation and the Cold War interacted with local relations to reshape and relocate religion in society It will be of interest to scholars of Religious Studies International Relations and Politics Studies of Empire Cold War Studies Subaltern Studies Modern Asian History and South and Southeast Asian Studies

Propaganda and the Genocide in Indonesia Saskia Wieringa, Nursyahbani Katjasungkana, 2018-10-26 In Indonesia the events of 1st October 1965 were followed by a campaign to annihilate the Communist Party and its alleged sympathisers It resulted in the murder of an estimate of one million people a genocide that counts as one of the largest mass murders after WWII and the incarceration of another million many of them for a decade or more without any legal process This drive was justified and enabled by a propaganda campaign in which communists were painted as atheist hypersexual amoral and intent to destroy the nation To date the effects of this campaign are still felt and the victims are denied the right of association and freedom of speech This book presents the history of the genocide and propaganda campaign and the process towards the International People's Tribunal on 1965 crimes against humanity in Indonesia IPT 1965 which was held in November 2015 in The Hague The Netherlands The authors an Indonesian Human Rights lawyer and a Dutch academic examine this unique event which for the first time brings these crimes before an international court and its verdict They single out the campaign of hate propaganda as it provided the incitement to kill so many Indonesians and why this propaganda campaign is effective to this day The first book on this topic it fills a significant gap in Asian Studies and Genocide Studies
