Robben Island Hell Hole Reminiscences Of A Political Prisoner In South Africa:

Hell-hole, Robben Island Moses Dlamini, 1984 Hell Hole Robben Island is one man's account of political imprisonment under conditions designed to degrade human beings and destroy the ideals of Black liberation. In the years about which Moses Dlamini writes Robben Island prison contained both criminal and political prisoners, the former being ruthlessly used by the government as an extension of its power to destroy dissent. The desperate relationships between the criminal gangs, in particular the ascist Big Fives and the political prisoners, which throw light on the author's background and the sequence of events leading to his imprisonment. Out of that experience has come this book with its vivid and compassionate descriptions of individual attempts to survive both physically and mentally in desperate circumstances. Writing in a uniquely South African style, Moses Dlamini has given us a stunning account of the Black people's life in that tortured country. Back cover

Hell-hole Moses Dlamini, 1984 Robben Island and Prisoner Resistance to Apartheid Fran Lisa Buntman, 2003-10-27
Table of contents The Man Who Killed Apartheid: The Life of Dimitri Tsafendas Harris Dousemetzis, 2024-03-04 On 6 September 1966 inside the House of Assembly in Cape Town Dimitri Tsafendas stabbed to death Hendrik Verwoerd, South Africa's Prime Minister and so-called architect of apartheid. Tsafendas was immediately arrested and, before he had even been questioned by the authorities, they declared him a madman without any political motive for the killing. In the Cape Supreme Court Tsafendas was found unfit to stand trial on the grounds that he suffered from schizophrenia and that he had no political motive for killing Verwoerd. Tsafendas spent the next 28 years in custody, making him the longest-serving detainee in South African history. For most of his incarceration he was subjected to cruel and inhumane treatment by the prison authorities. From 2009 to 2018 Harris Dousemetzis extensively researched the assassination of Verwoerd and the life of Tsafendas. For this research he travelled to South Africa, Mozambique, Greece, France, and Turkey and interviewed about 150 people who either knew Tsafendas or Verwoerd or were involved with the case of the assassination. He discovered about 12,000 pages of documents on the case, most of them previously unpublished in archival collections in South Africa, Portugal, and the UK. Dousemetzis collaborated with prominent South African jurists, psychiatrists, and psychologists and concluded his research by writing the Report to the Minister of Justice in the Matter of Dr Verwoerd's Assassination. The report conclusively proved that Tsafendas had assassinated Verwoerd for political reasons and that the apartheid authorities had orchestrated a massive operation to declare him insane and apolitical. This ground-breaking report and this book corrected the historical record regarding Verwoerd's assassination and Tsafendas. The Man Who Killed Apartheid based on Dousemetzis's groundbreaking research chronicles in detail Tsafendas's life and conclusively demonstrates that he was a perfectly sane and deeply political person with a long history of political activism. At the same time the book exposes the lie at the heart of apartheid's posture on the assassination of Hendrik Verwoerd and provides a rare picture of how the racist regime operated and what it was like to live and die under apartheid. Prisoners of Conscience Gerard A. Hauser, 2012-08-16 Prisoners of Conscience continues the work begun by Gerard A Hauser in Vernacular Voices The Rhetoric of Publics and Public Spheres winner of the National Communication Association's Hochmuth Nichols Award In his new book Hauser examines the discourse of political prisoners specifically the discourse of prisoners of conscience as a form of rhetoric in which the vernacular is the main source of available appeals and the foundation for political agency Hauser explores how modes of resistance employed by these prisoners constitute what he deems a thick moral vernacular rhetoric of human rights Hauser's work considers in part how these prisoners convert universal commitments to human dignity agency and voice into the moral vernacular of the society and culture to which their rhetoric is addressed Hauser grounds his study through a series of case studies each centered on a different rhetorical mechanism brought to bear in the act of resistance Through a transnational rhetorical analysis of resistance within political prisons Hauser brings to bear his skills as a rhetorical theorist and critic to illuminate the rhetorical power of resistance as tied to core questions in contemporary humanistic scholarship and public concern
