Tales from the Saragossa Manuscript Jan Potocki (hrabia), 1990 Screening Modernism András Bálint Kovács, 2008-09-15 Casting fresh light on the renowned productions of auteurs like Antonioni Fellini and Bresson and drawing out from the shadows a range of important but lesser known works Screening Modernism is the first comprehensive study of European art cinema s postwar heyday Spanning from the 1950s to the 1970s András Bálint Kovács s encyclopedic work argues that cinematic modernism was not a unified movement with a handful of styles and themes but rather a stunning range of variations on the core principles of modern art Illustrating how the concepts of modernism and the avant garde variously manifest themselves in film Kovács begins by tracing the emergence of art cinema as a historical category He then explains the main formal characteristics of modern styles and forms as well as their intellectual foundation Finally drawing on modernist theory and philosophy along the way he provides an innovative history of the evolution of modern European art cinema Exploring not only modernism s origins but also its stylistic thematic and cultural avatars Screening Modernism ultimately lays out creative new ways to think about the historical periods that comprise this golden age of film

Eastern Dreams Paul McMichael Nurse, 2010-08-24 The 1001 Arabian Nights is perhaps the most famous story collection in the world It has transcended cultures languages and historical eras to become familiar and beloved not only in the Eastern world but also in the West where it is the only acknowledged classic of Western literature to have originated from outside the West itself Despite its prominent place in both Eastern and Western culture the history of the Nights remains tantalizingly elusive and difficult to define In Eastern Dreams author Paul Nurse discusses not only the history of this book but also the many fascinating people who become characters themselves responsible for bringing the Nights to the West and the wider world and how the Nights has influenced and continues to influence global culture The Arabian Nights Robert Irwin, 2003-10-24 This literary companion guides the reader into the labyrinth of storytelling within The Arabian Nights The Arabian Nights has become a synonym for the fabulous and the exotic Every child is familiar with the stories of Aladdin Sinbad the Sailor and Ali Baba Yet very few people even specialists in oriental literature have a clear idea of when the book was written or what exactly it is Far from being a batch of stories for children The Arabian Nights contains hundreds of narratives of all kinds fables epics erotica debates fairy tales political allegories mystical anecdotes and comedies It is a labyrinth of stories within stories Widely held in contempt in the Middle East for its frivolity and occasional obscenity the work has nevertheless had a major influence on European and American culture to the extent that the story collection must be considered as a key work in Western literature A full understanding of the writings of Voltaire Dickens Melville Proust and Borges or indeed of the origins of science fiction is impossible without some familiarity with the stories of the Nights This guide traces the development of the stories from prehistoric India and Pharaonic Egypt to modern times and explores the history of translation and imitation Above all the book uses the stories as a guide to the social history and counter culture of the medieval Near East and the world of the storyteller the snake charmer the burglar the sorcerer the drug addict the treasure hunter and the adulterer Between Dream and Reality Iwona Grodz, 2018 The book features a detailed analysis and interpretation of The Saragossa Manuscript 1964 by Wojciech Jerzy Has The interpretative key is the director's reference to the aesthetics of various art trends starting with baroque through romanticism symbolism surrealism and the culture of Orient The artistic references named here which to a high degree can be brought down to quotations and hints the composition of stop frames referring to the style of a given painter or an art trend are to a large extent the consequence of having been adapted by a particular novel Jan Potocki Notwithstanding also this time Has stigmatised the project with his own style by referring to the aesthetics of surrealism which was alien to the literary prototype New Trends in English Teacher Education Arsenio Jesús Moya Guijarro, Ignacio Ramos Gay, José Ignacio Albentosa Hernández, 2009-02-02 Here is a collection of papers exploring from an interdisciplinary standpoint recent developments in teaching English as a second language Insights into teaching methodologies language acquisition and applied linguistics encompass the use of literature and cultural studies in educational research in order to provide teachers and scholars with a state of the art account of the current progresses in foreign language education Comparative Criticism: Volume 24, Fantastic Currencies in Comparative Literature: Gothic to Postmodern E. magic and meditation that enables us to reach beyond the limits of everyday life and forge virtual relationships and imagined communities Although Maurice Blanchot wrote of the impossibility of writing the passion and paradox of literature lies in its attempt to achieve the impossible a leap of faith that calls to mind the mystic's dark night of the soul unrequited love nostalgic or utopian longing and the ethnographer's attempt to know the world from the standpoint of others to put himself or herself in their place Every writer whether of ethnography poetry or fiction imagines that his or her own experiences echo the experiences of others and that despite the need for isolation and silence his or her work consummates a relationship with them

The Politics of Storytelling Michael Jackson, 2002 Hannah Arendt argued that the political is best understood as a power relation between private and public realms and that storytelling is a vital bridge between these realms a site where individualised passions and shared views are contested and recombined In his new book Michael Jackson explores and expands Arendt's ideas through a cross cultural analysis of storytelling that includes Kuranko stories from Sierra Leone Aboriginal stories of the stolen generation stories recounted before the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission and stories of refugees renegades and war veterans Focusing on the violent and volatile conditions under which stories are and are not told and exploring the various ways in which narrative reworkings of reality enable people to symbolically alter subject object relations Jackson shows how storytelling may restore to the intersubjective fields of self and other self and state self and cosmos the conditions of viable sociality The book concludes in a reflexive vein exploring the interface between public discourse and private experience New Perspectives on Arabian Nights Wen-chin

Ouyang, Geert Jan van Gelder, 2014-02-04 Adopting a multi disciplinary approach this comparative study of a selection of The Arabian Nights stories in a cross cultural context brings together a number of disciplines and subject areas to examine the workings of narrative It predominantly focuses on the ways in which the Arabian Nights have transformed as its stories have travelled across historical eras cultures genres and media Departing from the familiar approaches of influence and textual studies this book locates its central inquiry in the theoretical questions surrounding the workings of ideology genre and genre ideology in shaping and transforming stories The ten essays included in this volume respond to a general question what can the transformation of Nights stories in their travels tell us about narrative and storytelling and their function in a particular culture Following a Nights story in its travels from past to present from Middle East to Europe and from literature to film the book engages in close comparative analyses of ideological variations found in a variety of texts These analyses allow new modes of reading texts and make it possible to breach new horizons for thinking about narrative This Book was previously published as a special issue of Middle Eastern Literatures entitled Ideological Variations and Narrative Horizons New Perspectives on Arabian Nights
