Playing Sick Meredith Conti, 2018-07-27 Few life occurrences shaped individual and collective identities within Victorian era society as critically as witnessing or suffering from illness The prevalence of illness narratives within late nineteenth century popular culture was made manifest on the period's British and American stages where theatrical embodiments of illness were indisputable staples of actors' repertoires Playing Sick: Performances of Illness in the Age of Victorian Medicine reconstructs how actors embodied three of the era's most provocative illnesses tuberculosis drug addiction and mental illness In placing performances of illness within wider medicocultural contexts Meredith Conti analyzes how such depictions confirmed or resisted salient constructions of diseases and the diseased Conti's case studies which range from Eleonora Duse's portrayal of the consumptive courtesan Marguerite Gautier to Henry Irving's performance of senile dementia in King Lear help to illuminate the interdependence of medical science and theatre in constructing nineteenth century illness narratives Through reconstructing these performances Conti isolates from the period's acting practices a lexicon of embodied illness a flexible set of physical and vocal techniques that performers employed to theatricalize the sick body In an age when medical science encouraged a gradual decentering of the patient from their own diagnosis and treatment late nineteenth century performances of illness symbolically restored the sick to positions of visibility and consequence

Gilded Age Entrepreneur Simon Cordery, 2025-09-15 Simon Cordery's Gilded Age Entrepreneur illuminates the fascinating and chaotic business world of Albert Pullman The influential but little known older brother of George Pullman and the craftsman of the family Albert designed the first luxurious Pullman railroad cars and hosted promotional trips to show them off In those heady early days he met national business and political leaders and hired the first Pullman porters Albert and George made a formidable team but as the Pullman Company grew Albert's role shrank He turned to his own investment portfolio often with disastrous results Beginning with the industrial laundry that cleaned sleeping car linens Albert appeared before the Supreme Court after a catastrophic insurance investment ran afoul of federal banking regulations and failed in an attempt to corner wheat futures With evermore unsuccessful speculations Albert was tempted by extralegal land sales and entered the silver mining game Finally his own family in crisis and his relationship with George shattered Albert Pullman launched into one last round of adventurous investments with mixed results Gilded Age Entrepreneur demonstrates that Albert Pullman embodied the small time investors who were legion after the Civil War From banking and insurance to manufacturing and mining a host of hopeful dreamers like Albert Pullman fueled the circulation of capital by forging political connections creating and losing businesses issuing shares and longing for profit Women in the Arts in the Belle Epoque Paul Fryer,2012-11-01 This collection of new essays explores the role played by women practitioners in the arts during the period often referred to as the Belle Epoque a turn of the century period in which the modern media audio and film recording broadcasting etc began to become a reality Exploring the careers and creative lives of both the famous Sarah Bernhardt and the less so Pauline Townsend across a remarkable range of artistic activity from composition through oratory to fine art and film directing these essays attempt to reveal in some cases for the first time women s true impact on the arts at the turn of the 19th century Sarah Bernhardt Catherine Reef,2020 Reef follows the transformation of a girl of humble origins born to a courtesan into a fabulously talented wealthy and beloved icon Sarah Bernhardt is still considered to be one of the greatest performers of all time Boldly unconventional extravagantly eccentric and unapologetically promiscuous Bernhardt the divine Sarah was the global superstar of the 1800s and perhaps one of the greatest performers of all time adapted from jacket Sarah Robert Gottlieb,2010-09-21 Everything about Sarah Bernhardt is fascinating from her obscure birth to her glorious career redefining the very nature of her art to her amazing and highly public romantic life to her indomitable spirit Well into her seventies after the amputation of her leg she was performing under bombardment for soldiers during World War I and toured America for the ninth time Though the Bernhardt literature is vast this is the first English language biography to appear in decades tracking the trajectory through which an illegitimate and scandalous daughter of a Jewish courtesan transformed herself into the most famous actress who ever lived and into a national icon a symbol of France From publisher description Strange Duets Kim Marra,2009-05 Autocratic male impresarios increasingly dominated the American stage between 1865 and 1914 Many rose from poor immigrant roots and built their own careers by making huge stars out of undiscovered Anglo identified actresses Reflecting the antics of self made industrial empire builders and independent challenging New Women these theatrical potentates and their protégés gained a level of wealth and celebrity comparable to that of Hollywood stars today In her engaging and provocative Strange Duets Kim Marra spotlights three passionate impresario actress relationships of exceptional duration that encapsulated the social tensions of the day and strongly influenced the theatre of the twentieth century Augustin Daly and Ada Rehan Charles Frohman and Maude Adams and David Belasco and Mrs Leslie Carter reigned over legitimate Broadway theatre the venue of greatest social cachet for the monied classes Unlike impresarios and actresses in vaudeville and burlesque they produced full length spoken drama that involved special rigors of training and rehearsal to sustain a character's emotional truth as well as a high level of physical athleticism and endurance Their efforts compelled fascination at a time when most people believed women's emotions were seated primarily in the reproductive organs and thus were fundamentally embodied and sexual in nature While the impresario ostensibly exercised full control over his leading lady showing fashionable audiences that the exciting but unruly New Woman could be both tamed and enjoyed she acquired a power of her own that could bring him to his knees Kim Marra combines methods of cultural gender and sexuality studies with theatre history to explore the vexed mutual dependency between these status seeking Svengalis and their alternately willing and resistant leading ladies She illuminates how their on and off stage performances highly charged in this Darwinian era with racial as well as gender sexual and class dynamics tapped into the contradictory fantasies and aspirations of their audiences Played out against a backdrop of enormous cultural and institutional transformation the volatile romance of Daly and Rehan closeted homosexuality of Frohman and Adams and carnal expiations of Belasco and Carter produced strange duets indeed International Westerns Cynthia J. cultural journey through fin de siècle Paris Chicago and New York Madame Leon Grandin's travels and extended stay in Chicago in 1893 were the result of her husband's collaboration on the fountain sculpture for the World's Columbian Exposition Initially impressed with the city's fast pace and architectural grandeur Grandin's attentions were soon drawn to its social and cultural customs reflected as observations in her writing During a ten month interval as a resident she was intrigued by the interactions between men and women mothers and their children teachers and students and other human relationships especially noting the comparative social freedoms of American women After this interval of acclimatization the young Parisian socialite had begun to view her own culture and its less liberated mores with considerable doubt I had tasted the fruit of independence of intelligent activity and was revolted at the idea of assuming once again the passive and inferior role that awaited me she wrote Grandin's curiosity and interior access to Chicago's social and domestic spaces produced an unusual travel narrative that goes beyond the usual tourist reactions and provides a valuable resource for readers interested in late nineteenth century America Chicago and social commentary Significantly her feminine views on American life are in marked contrast to parallel reflections on the culture by male visitors from abroad It is precisely the dual narrative of this text the simultaneous recounting of a foreigner's impressions and the consequent questioning of her own cultural certainties that make her book unique This translation includes an introductory essay by Arnold Lewis that situates Grandin's account in the larger context of European visitors to Chicago in the 1890s
