I Was There: The Personal Story of the Chief of Staff to Presidents Roosevelt and Truman Based on His Notes and Diaries Made at the Time Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, 2024-06-04 This sturdy volume does not present a series of reflections after the event It is assembled from notes made at the time If any author ever left the seal of his own personality on his written words Admiral Leahy has done so in I Was There These pages are as salty as the sea as direct as a gun barrel terse with the economy of orders given or opinions uttered The views expressed one often uncompromising sometimes mistaken as the author freely admits and one is sure always honest It is fascinating to read Admiral Leahy's assessments of the men of Vichy with whom he had to deal as the American Ambassador The book's great merit lies in the clear intermittent light it flashes on the men and things the Admiral knew firsthand And it is a beautiful self portrait This good and faithful public servant shows himself without and above affectation or self interest He served his country and his Commander in Chief day and night irrespective of fatigue illness or private grief The Atlantic T his volume throws valuable new light on American military planning organization of the armed forces and relations with the Soviet Union His comments on Vichy and De Gaulle are perhaps most useful for their clear expression of the Admiral's own attitude Foreign Affairs In the abundance of war records this has its own place in its comprehensive view of a large panorama Kirkus Leahy kept a meticulous diary and also wrote an invaluable memoir The Christian Science Monitor I Was There adds useful detail to our picture of the military planning of the war It also throws important light on the development of our relations with the Soviet Union it is a valuable addition to the mosaic of reminiscence out of which future historians will construct a picture of Franklin D Roosevelt and of the Second World War Saturday Review I Was There must be accorded a place among the records of major significance for World War II Political Science Quarterly

Teaching Writing through the Immigrant Story Heather Ostman, Howard Tinberg, Danizete Martínez, 2021-12-01 Teaching Writing through the Immigrant Story explores the intersection between immigration and pedagogy via the narrative form Embedded in the contexts of both student writing and student reading of literature chapters by scholars from four year and two year colleges and universities across the country this book engages the topic of immigration within writing and literature courses as the site for extending critiquing and challenging assumptions about justice and equity while deepening students sense of ethics and humanity Each of the chapters recognizes the prevalence of immigrant students in writing classrooms across the United States including foreign born first and second generation Americans and more and the myriad opportunities and challenges those students present to their instructors These contributors have seen the validity in the stories and experiences these students bring to the classroom evidence of their lifetimes of complex learning in both academic and nonacademic settings Like thousands of college level instructors in the United States they have immigrant stories of their own The immigrant narrative offers a unique framework for knowledge production in which students and teachers may learn from each other in which the ordinary power dynamic of teacher and students begins to shift to enable empathy to emerge and to provide space for an authentic kind of pedagogy By engaging writing and literature teachers within and outside the classroom Teaching Writing through the Immigrant Story speaks to the immigrant narrative as a viable frame for teaching writing an opportunity for building and articulating knowledge through academic discourse The book creates a platform for immigration as a writing and literary theme a framework for critical thinking and a foundation for significant social change and advocacy Contributors Tuli Chatterji Katie Daily Bruckner Libby Garland Silvia Giagnoni Sibylle Gruber John Havard Timothy Henderson Brennan Herring Lilian Mina Rachel Pate Emily Schnee Elizabeth Stone Am I Burned out at Work? Salar A. Steps Toward a Planning Framework for Elder Care in the Arab World William B. Ward, Mustafa Z. Younis, 2012-11-15 This book reviews the elder care literature pertaining to the Arab world and proposes steps that can be taken to improve the health and quality of life of older people in this region. Organized in three main sections: Program Assessment, Program Planning, Conclusions and Recommendations, the book addresses such topics as developing a conceptual framework, Arab world elder demographics, quality of life issues, demand for services, training issues, training capacity and capabilities, and conclusions and recommendations for improving the health of older persons in the Arab world. While the countries of the Arab world have the advantage of a unified language and culture that can be used to expedite development of area wide approaches to a system of elder care, the lack of economic and political unification, such as common market and open trade along with institutionalized age discrimination, some Arab countries restrict hiring for government and private jobs to persons younger than 45, present barriers to improving the health of older people. In addition, modernization and ease of transportation have resulted in a heavy focus on Western style fast food with an accompanying increase in chronic diseases such as hypertension, cardiovascular disease, diabetes, and cancer.

The Filipino Migration Experience Mina Roces, 2021-10-15 Winner of the New South Wales Premier's History Awards General History Prize 2022. The Filipino Migration Experience introduces a new dimension to the usual depiction of migrants as disenfranchised workers or marginal ethnic groups. Mina Roces suggests alternative ways of conceptualizing Filipino migrants as critics of the family and cultural constructions of sexuality, as consumers and investors, as philanthropists, as activists, and as historians. They have been able to transform fundamental social institutions and well entrenched traditional norms as well as alter the business, economic and cultural landscapes of both the homeland and the host countries to which they have migrated. Mina Roces tells the story of the Filipino migration experience from the perspective of the migrants themselves, drawing on underused primary sources from the migrant archives and more than seventy interviews. Bringing together migration studies and Filipina/o x American studies, The Filipino Migration Experience explores how these migrants have profoundly reshaped the status quo.

Fulbright Labyrinths Virginia Hall-Milhouse, 2011-11 In this provocative work Virginia Milhouse demonstrates how autoethnography combines creative and analytical practices to help bring to consciousness some complex social and political agendas hidden in narratorial writings. It demonstrates how an arts based qualitative research method, narrative inquiry, can be fused with a scientific based quantitative method, DMIS IDI, and compliment support and/or correct each other. It also demonstrates how writing as a method of inquiry can be a viable way for researchers to learn about themselves and their research as well as features standards for evaluating creatively and analytically constructed text. Further, the author's examination of the aesthetics of inner readiness and in-betweenness will be very helpful to people doing this kind of self-reflexive fieldwork. The reader will also appreciate this author's recognition of the importance of combining qualitative and quantitative methodologies, something not many writers can do with great success. Also, this book will be a real contribution to sojourners and others traveling or living abroad. The work is very smart.

and is beautifully and clearly written The labyrinth quote at the beginning of her work is very fitting and certainly promises to illustrate those words Times of My Life – Part Two Carole Payne, 2022-11-30 A sequel to Times of My Life A Forest Gate Girl this book carries the reader from a wedding in 1971 to the present day in Wiltshire spanning 50 years of events that have punctuated the writer's life up to now It's been a whole adventure and education for a girl from a fairly sheltered and strict family background embarking on married life as a young wife which would soon take her away from the London she had known and loved to following her husband's career all over the country She would eventually achieve all the things she had dreamed of as a child She would travel the world meet fascinating people in far flung places and make lifelong friends She would have a successful career of her own She would teach Her love of music theatre and performance would lead to one of her most thrilling and satisfying endeavours running her own musical theatre group with amazing young people and watching them grow in skills and confidence This memoir revisits those hectic days which tend to get lost in the fullness of time Treasured old photos bring it all back Most of all she would have a long and happy married life and be blessed with wonderful children and grandchildren There were many adventures and so many reasons to celebrate along the way But there were also trials and challenges tragedies and sadness as there are and have been for everyone particularly during the Covid years The best of times always outweighed the bad however and the happiest memories will be cherished forever
