idealist phenomenon or the urban middle class answer to the current housing crisis And has the development of theoretical insight and research kept up with the actual expansion of co housing as a practice These questions were raised during the first European conference on co housing research which took place in Tours France in March 2012 Both the conference and this book aim to move beyond case studies and to look more particularly at the implications and wider perspective of the current co housing trend Using the specific vocabulary of different disciplines and geographic regions the contributions to this book analyse the underlying thinking behind and the expectations projected on diverse models of collaborative housing The authors are aware of the qualities of contemporary co housing but they go beyond advocacy to investigate the conditions under which co housing can be successful as a strategy for housing provision can offer solutions for sustainable urban development or indeed can contribute to involuntary or intentional gentrification This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Urban Research and Practice

New Approaches for Sustainable & Resilient Processes and Products of Social Housing Development in the Arabian Gulf Countries Khaled Galal Ahmed, Mohamed H. Elnabawi Mahgoub, Lindita Bande, Martin Scoppa, 2023-10-16

Social housing has been a forefront research topic especially from its economic and socio cultural factors The nature of social housing in the Arabian Gulf Countries has been distinctive in its approach with usually generous areas and urban sprawl designs Recently most of these Arabian Gulf Countries have gone through profound transformation in their social and housing paradigms influenced by their sustainability adopted agendas Still scholarly documentation and analysis of the processes and products of these transformed paradigms are largely missing or at least fragmented So there is a desperate need to boost research work in this field as related to each city country in this region with largely expected mutual effects that these experiences might have on each other and on the global debate about sustainable and resilient social housing as a whole

Finding Community Diana Leafe Christian, 2007-05-01 Finding community is as critical as obtaining food and shelter since the need to belong is what makes us human The isolation and loneliness of modern life have led many people to search for deeper connection which has resulted in a renewed interest in intentional communities These intentional communities or ecovillages are an appealing choice for like minded people who seek to create a family oriented and ecologically sustainable lifestyle a lifestyle they are unlikely to find anywhere else However the notion of an intentional community can still be a tremendous leap for some deterred perhaps by a misguided vision of eking out a hardscrabble existence with little reward In fact successful ecovillages thrive because of the combined skills and resources of their members Finding Community presents a thorough overview of ecovillages and intentional communities and offers solid advice on how to research thoroughly visit thoughtfully evaluate intelligently and join gracefully Useful considerations include Important questions to ask of members and of yourself Signs of a healthy and not so healthy community Cost of joining and staying Common blunders to avoid Finding Community provides intriguing possibilities to readers who are seeking a more cooperative sustainable and meaningful life Diana Leafe Christian is the author of Creating a Life Together and editor of Communities magazine She lives at Earthhaven Ecovillage in North Carolina Elderburbia Philip B. Stafford, 2009-10-13 An informed and often moving account of the crucial role of place in the lives of elders and what researchers and city planners are doing and need to do to make communities more age friendly Elderburbia Aging with a Sense of Place in America argues that aging is not about time and the body but about place and relationships Drawing on the fascinating multidisciplinary field of ethnography it gives readers a deeper understanding of how the aging experience is shaped by where people call home as well as a look at what makes a place well suited for post retirement living Elderburbia combines cutting edge scholarship with practical advice The book provides an introduction to pivotal research on the broad subject of aging and place including studies of migration and relocation It also takes readers inside innovative elder friendly community planning around the United States particularly AdvantAge an initiative to help counties cities and towns prepare for the growing number of older adults who are aging in place as opposed to moving to retiree only communities Everyone from individuals and families to social workers activists and city officials will find this a helpful enlightening resource

Collaborative Housing, Ageing and Social Care Melissa Fernandez Arrigoitia, Aimee Felstead, Jim Hudson, Misa Izuhara, Kath Scanlon, Karen West, 2025-09-09 As ageing populations continue to grow worldwide the increased need for adequate housing and social care comes into stark focus This multi disciplinary book explores how emerging citizen led innovations in Collaborative Housing and care are challenging mainstream ways of living and ageing Combining academic theory with practice the book demonstrates the far reaching impacts Collaborative Housing with care can have on independence agency and wellbeing in later life With contributions from France Spain Sweden the Netherlands and the UK it offers insights into the key challenges and opportunities associated with developing and sustaining models of Collaborative Housing with diverse forms of care and support over the life course Essential reading for academics practitioners and policy makers in housing planning social care design and social gerontology this book proposes a renewed focus on non paternalistic forms of social and housing care that speak directly to older people s needs and that work against the marketisation of care and towards a community led and co managed approach in later life housing for all Creating

Cohousing Charles Durrett, Kathryn McCamant, 2011-02-01 The cohousing bible by the US originators of the concept A man's home is his castle But demographic and economic changes have turned our castles into islands How can we regain the elements of the traditional village family cooperation community and a sense of belonging within the context of 21st century life Creating Cohousing Building Sustainable Communities is an in depth exploration of a uniquely rewarding type of housing which is perfect for anyone who values their independence but longs for more connection with those around them Written by the award winning team that wrote the original cohousing bible and first brought cohousing to North America this fully illustrated manual combines nuts and bolts practical considerations and design ideas with extensive case studies of dozens of diverse communities in Europe and North America Cohousing communities create unique opportunities for designing more sustainable lifestyles Whether urban suburban or rural senior or intergenerational retrofit or new the authors show how the physical structures of cohousing communities lend themselves to a more efficient use of resources and make everything from gardening to childcare to socializing easier Creating Cohousing puts the neighbor back into neighborhood and is an essential resource for anyone interested in more environmentally and socially sustainable living Issues in Aging Mark
