Proust, the Body and Literary Form Michael R. Finn, 1999-03-25 This 1999 study examines the connections between Proust's fin de siècle nervousness and his apprehensions regarding literary form Michael Finn shows that Proust's anxieties both about bodily weakness and about novel writing were fed by a set of intriguing psychological and medical texts and were mirrored in the nerve based afflictions of earlier writers including Flaubert Baudelaire Nerval and the Goncourt brothers Finn argues that once Proust cast off his concerns about being a nervous weakling he was freed to poke fun both at the supposed purity of the novel form Hysteria as a figure and as a theme becomes a key to the Proustian narrative and a certain kind of wordless bodily copying of gesture and event is revealed to be at the heart of a writing technique which undermines many of the conventions of fiction

Literature and the Senses

Annette Kern-Stähler, Elizabeth Robertson, 2023-07-06 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Academic and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations Literature and the Senses critically probes the role of literature in capturing and scrutinizing sensory perception Organized around the five traditional senses followed by a section on multisensoriality the collection facilitates a dialogue between scholars working on literature written from the Middle Ages to the present day The contributors engage with a variety of theorists from Maurice Merleau-Ponty to Michel Serres to Jean-Luc Nancy to foreground the distinctive means by which literary texts engage with open up or make uncertain dominant views of the nature of perception Considering the ways in which literary texts intersect with and diverge from scientific epistemological and philosophical perspectives these essays explore a wide variety of literary moments of sensation including the interspecies exchange of a look between a swan and a young Indigenous Australian girl the sound of bees as captured in an early modern poem the noxious smell of the Great Stink that recurs in the Victorian novel the taste of an eggplant registered in a poetic performance tactile gestures in medieval romance and the representation of a world in which the interdependence of human beings with the purple hibiscus plant is experienced through all five senses The collection builds upon and breaks new ground in the field of sensory studies focusing on what makes literature especially suitable to engaging with contributing to and challenging our perennial understandings of the senses

Literature and Sensation Anthony Uhlmann, 2008-12-18 I never travel without my diary One should always have something sensational to read in the train Oscar Wilde Literature has always treated the sensational crime passion violence trauma catastrophe It has frequently caused or been at the centre of scandal censorship and moral outrage But literature is also intricately connected with sensation in ways that are less well understood It mediates between the sensory world perception and cognition through rich modes of thought allied with perceptions and emotions and makes sense of profound questions that transcend the merely rational And at its boundaries literature engages with the uncanny realm in which knowledge presentiment or feeling is prior to articulation in words This book reviews the sensational dimension of literature according to themes that have too often been left to one side Literary theory has often privileged perception over sensation cognition over raw experience in focusing on semantics rather than sense The essays in this volume cover literature and sensation in all its facets drawing upon a range of approaches from evolutionary theory theories of mind perception philosophy and aesthetics The works considered are drawn from various literary periods and genres from the nineteenth century to contemporary prose and poetry including experiments in new media Literature and Sensation offers detailed and subtle readings of literature according to the sensations they represent incite or evoke in us and will be of interest to readers of literary theory ethics and aesthetics and theorists of new media art

Vernaculars in the Classroom Shondel Nero, Dohra Ahmad, 2014-06-20 This book draws on applied linguistics and literary studies to offer concrete means of engaging with vernacular language and literature in secondary and college classrooms The authors embrace a language as resource orientation countering the popular narrative of vernaculars as problems in schools The book is divided into two parts with the first half of the book providing linguistic and pedagogical background and the second half offering literary case studies for teaching Part I examines the historical and continued devaluing of vernaculars in schools incorporating clear usable explanations of relevant theories This section also outlines the central myths and paradoxes surrounding vernacular languages and literatures includes productive ways for teachers to address those myths and paradoxes and explores challenges and possibilities for vernacular language pedagogy In Part II the authors provide pedagogical case studies using literary texts written in vernacular Englishes from around the world Each chapter examines a vernacular related topic and concludes with discussion questions and writing assignments an appendix contains the poems and short stories discussed and other teaching resources The book provides a model of interdisciplinary inquiry that can be beneficial to scholars and practitioners in composition literature and applied linguistics as well as students of all linguistic backgrounds

T. S. Eliot, Anti-Semitism, and Literary Form Anthony Julius, 1995 Julius's critically acclaimed study looking both at the detail of Eliot's deployment of anti-Semitic discourse and at the role it played in his greater literary undertaking has provoked a reassessment of Eliot's work among poets scholars critics and readers which will invigorate debate for some time to come

Northrop Frye on Myth Ford Russell, 2021-10-28 Northrop Frye differed from other theorists of myth in tracing all of the major literary genres romance comedy satire not just tragedy to myth and ritual This volume is the most thorough presentation of his thinking on the subject

T. S. Eliot Harriet Davidson, 2022-09-09 One of the most influential poets of the twentieth century T S Eliot is generally regarded as a leading exponent of the literary movement which came to be known as Modernism In this volume Harriet Davidson collects key recent essays by such internationally renowned critics as Terry Eagleton Sandra Gilbert Jacqueline Rose Jeffrey Perl Christine Froula Maud Ellmann and Michael North placing Eliot's work centrally in the context of postmodern critical theory Eliot's writing is often perceived as incompatible with or resistant to new theoretical approaches but this volume demonstrates the continuity between Eliot's own theoretical writings and contemporary theory and illuminates his poetry with imaginative readings from deconstructive Marxist psychoanalytic and feminist perspectives Headnotes to the essays and a bibliography which lists other informative readings make this book an invaluable guide to all students of twentieth century poetry and to scholars interested in the relationship between critical and creative writing The Literary World, 1852 The Language of Literature and its Meaning Ashima Shrawan, 2019-04-23

There is a marked awareness about the language of literature and its meaning both in Indian and Western aesthetic thinking The aestheticians of both schools hold that the language of literature embodies a significant aspect of human experience and represents a creative pattern of verbal structure to impart meaning effectively Modern Western aesthetic thinking which includes theories like formalism new criticism stylistics structuralism post structuralism deconstruction discourse analysis semiotics and dialogic criticism in one way or another emphasizes the study of the language of literature in order to understand its meaning Similarly there is a distinct focus on the language of literature and its meaning in Indian literary theories which include the theory of rasa aesthetic experience ala k ra the poetic figure r ti diction dhvani suggestion vakrokti oblique expression and aucitya propriety This book explores how the language of literature and its meaning have been dealt with in both Indian and Western aesthetic thinking In doing so the study concentrates on Kuntaka s theory of vakrokti and nandavardhana s theory of dhvani in Indian aesthetic thinking and Russian formalism and deconstruction in Western thinking The book categorically focuses on the intersection between the theory of vakrokti and Russian formalism and the meeting point between the theory of dhvani and deconstruction Form Miming Meaning Max Nänny, Olga Fischer, 1999-03-15

The recent past has seen an increasing interest in iconicity especially among linguists This collection puts the interdisciplinary study of iconic dimensions comprising what has been termed imagic iconicity as well as diagrammatic iconicity i e iconicity of a more abstract and less semiotic type on the map paying special attention to the use of iconicity in literary texts The studies presented here explore iconicity from two different angles A first group of authors brings into focus how far the primary code the code of grammar is influenced by iconic motivation with contributions on rules involved in discourse rules in word formation and phonological rules and how originally iconic models have become conventionalized Others go one step further in exploring how for instance the presence of iconicity can tell us more about the structure of human cognition or how the iconicist desire for symmetry can be related to the symmetry of the human body A second group of contributors is more interested in the presence of iconicity as part of the secondary code i e in how speakers and writers remotivate or play with the primary code how they concretise what has become conventional or how they use form to add to meaning in literary texts commercial language and in the new electronic use of texts Literary Modernism and Musical Aesthetics Brad Bucknell, 2001 Bucknell s study investigates how music as a discrete artistic mode of expression and a recurring theme in the work of these four writers reveals the intricate and varied nature of the modernist project Jacket combines fieldstar yield monitor farmchat - Nov 11 2022

oct 14 2003 are you nuts keeping your harvest bushels per hour within 100 means all fieldstar has to do is accurately measure groundspeed to calculate yield per acre we usually run 1600 1800 bushels per hour in corn average however the range runs from 1000 to 2300 per your theory i should adjust my field speed from 4 10 mph thats crazy
