Sense Pass King:

Sense Pass King, 2002 An extraordinary child determines a kingdom's future Majunga Tok Wuteh Vakunta, 2008-06-15 Pidgin English is the chief medium of communication for the great majority of Cameroonians. It sustains a world view, culture and way of life. Pidgin embodies concepts that would at best be partially expressed in formal English. A critical understanding of Pidgin English requires not only a thorough grasp of the socio-cultural matrix from which the words and expressions originate but also an immersion in an Afro-centric worldview. Majunga Tok Poems in Pidgin English is the poet's attempt at capturing these speech patterns of ordinary Cameroonians in written form. Pidgin English, also called broken English, is a lingua franca spoken not only in Cameroon but also in many West African countries including Nigeria, Ghana, Sierra Leone and Liberia among others. This poetry anthology is inspired by the poet's desire to salvage a language that has been subjected to multiple forms of denigration because it is oral. In Cameroon, for instance, Pidgin English has been the target of myriad attacks from self-styled linguistic purists who claim that Pidgin is a bastardized variant of Standard English and therefore should not be allowed to thrive. The controversy and denigration directed at Amos Tutuola and his Pidgin English creative genius are vivid examples. This condescending attitude of speakers of Standard English stems from the fact that Pidgin is often associated with illiteracy.

The Egg Polisher and Other Tales Funwi F. Ayuninjam, 2010 The cricket roaster, Abanda the village menace I or how the bush fowl came to have red marks, The songbird and the hunter or how a bird and a dog enriched a family, The tadpole fisher or the woman who preferred tadpoles to her daughter, Abanda the village menace II, The egg polisher or how a water buffalo lost her eggs and a chief his life, A wife's man, The farmer and the apes, Dibong the jealous friend, Revenge of the coaster or how a witch took advantage of a helpless woman, The farmer and the cannibal, The search for Mr Handsome, The tortoise and the chief or how the tortoise gained respect as the most intelligent of animals, The uncooperative sons, The farmer and the goat herder, The cocoyam farmer who accepted payment in flesh.

Some Day Been Dey Pbdirect Loreto Todd, 2015-02-11 Once upon a time is the English translation of the title of this collection of twenty-eight Pidgin tales from Cameroon in West Africa, first published in 1979. These are richly illustrative of the various folklore genres of the region and are presented in a modified standard orthography with an English translation facing the original Pidgin text. Notes are provided on each tale with the intention of illuminating some of their unique stylistic and linguistic patterns. The tales are often witty, never protracted, and are pleasurable in their own right. They also provide linguistic and folkloristic material not available elsewhere. In a lengthy introduction, Dr Todd discusses the history of Cameroon and the development and use of Pidgin English. There, a simple grammar of Pidgin English is included to aid scholars not already familiar with the language to make full use of the Pidgin texts.

Sibi's Adventures in Alahtene Mary Fosi Mbantenkhu, 2022-08-15 Meet Sibi, a vivacious, smart and audacious girl who leaves the comforts of her coastal town and parents to live with Ndiher granny in the village of Alahtene. Sibi's integration into village life is swift and adventurous.

aided by the ever soothing supervision of her equally gallant grandmother and teenage uncle Ajuenekoh Recounted from the first person we follow Sibi's adventures in school church neighbourhoods the rivers hills and forests of Alahtene its buzzy market and most significantly around Ndihi's fireside Set in the early 1960s Sibi's Adventures in Alahtene bubbles with dozens of breathtaking stories about the intrigues of adult life and childhood in a rural community rapidly integrating into a newly formed African country      Sibi's Adventures in Alahtene Mary S. Fosi, 2022-11-11 Meet Sibi a vivacious smart and audacious girl who leaves the comforts of her coastal town and parents to live with Ndihi her granny in the village of Alahtene Sibi's integration into village life is swift and adventurous aided by the ever soothing supervision of her equally gallant grandmother and teenage uncle Ajuenekoh Recounted from the first person we follow Sibi's adventures in school church neighbourhoods the rivers hills and forests of Alahtene its buzzy market and most significantly around Ndihi's fireside Set in the early 1960s Sibi's Adventures in Alahtene bubbles with dozens of breathtaking stories about the intrigues of adult life and childhood in a rural community rapidly integrating into a newly formed African country      Representing Africa in

Children's Literature Vivian Yenika-Agbaw, 2007-12-13 Representing Africa in Children's Literature explores how African and Western authors portray youth in contemporary African societies critically examining the dominant images of Africa and Africans in books published between 1960 and 2005 The book focuses on contemporary children's and young adult literature set in Africa examining issues regarding colonialism the politics of representation and the challenges posed to both insiders and outsiders writing about Africa for children      The Sacred Door and Other Stories Juliana Makuchi

Abbenyi-Nfah, 2007-12-01 The Sacred Door and Other Stories Cameroon Folktales of the Beba offers readers a selection of folktales infused with riddles proverbs songs myths and legends using various narrative techniques that capture the vibrancy of Beba oral traditions Makuchi retells the stories that she heard at home when she was growing up in her native Cameroon The collection of thirty four folktales of the Beba showcases a wide variety of stories that capture the richness and complexities of an agrarian society's oral literature and traditions Revenge greed and deception are among the themes that frame the story lines in both new and familiar ways In the title story a poor man finds himself elevated to king The condition for his continued success is that he not open the sacred door This tale of temptation similar to the story of Pandora's box concludes with the question What would you have done Makuchi relates the stories her mother told her so that readers can make connections between African and North American oral narrative traditions These tales reinforce the commonalities of our human experiences without discounting our differences      African Traditional And Oral Literature As Pedagogical

Tools In Content Area Classrooms Lewis Asimeng-Boahene, Michael Baffoe, 2013-12-01 For a long time many American educators and educational stakeholders have drawn their ideas for educational reforms from ideas generated in Europe and Asia for the changing demographics of America's diverse classrooms This book is therefore motivated by a bold attempt at advocating for the revision of existing pedagogic fora and the creation and addition of new fora that would provide for the inclusion of thoughts perspectives and practices of African traditional oral literature in the pedagogical tools of content area classrooms especially in North America The articles that are presented in this book provide theoretical frameworks for using African traditional oral literature and its various tenets as teaching tools They bring together new voices of how African literature could be used as helpful tool in classrooms Rationale for agitating for its use as ideal for pedagogic tool is the recurrent theme throughout the various articles presented The book explores how educators literacy educators learners activists policy makers and curriculum developers can utilize the powerful yet untapped gem of African oral literature as pedagogical tools in content area classrooms to help expand educators repertoire of understanding beyond the conventional wisdom of their pedagogic creed It is a comprehensive work of experienced and diverse scholars academicians and educators who have expertise in multicultural education traditional oral literature urban education children s literature and culturally responsive pedagogy that have become the focus of U S discourses in public education and teacher preparation This anthology serves as part of the quest for multiple views about our global village emphasizing the importance of linking the idea of diverse knowledge with realities of global trends and development Consequently the goal and the basic thrust of this anthology is to negotiate for space for non mainstream epistemology to share the pedagogical floor with the mainstream template to foster alternative vision of reality for other knowledge production in the academic domain The uniqueness of this collection is the idea of bringing the content and the pedagogy of most of the genres of African oral arts under one umbrella and thereby offering a practical acquaintance and appreciation with different African cultures It therefore introduces the world of African mind and thoughts to the readers In summary this anthology presents an academic area which is now gaining its long overdue recognition in the academia

Shadows Emmanuel Fru Doh,2011 Shadows as the title insinuates splits open and lays bare the frightening vision of humanity the heart of man depressed a veritable inferno in which there is little to be enjoyed and everything to be endured as all is vanity a gnawing emptiness Nothing is but what it seems Simple but without being simplistic there is in the damp climate of Doh s poetry broken promises displaced emotional centres a pervading sense of doom of impending disaster and a total helplessness reminiscent of Plato s proverbial mythical cave in which all reality is but shadow devoid of substance with the observer chained to the walls of his feelings beliefs and unfulfilled ambitions The second section Celebration is however a source of warmth of light the sun s rays in an otherwise damp and and dark collection

In the Shadow of my Country Tennu Mbuh,2009-09-15 Growing up almost simultaneously with the independent Cameroon nation it takes Tipoung he a long time together with challenging experiences to realise that he has all along been living in the shadow of his country His epic story is representative of the many whose untold stories are caught in the schematic confusion of independence in which self knowledge must rally back finally from the lethargic ideals of the Nation and the Patriot in a redeeming instance of identity The story mirrors the growth of the hero as he gets used to his ever shifting environment The complexity of experience the burden of knowledge and how to express these confront Tipoung he with prescriptive arrogance and the more he gets entangled in the authoritative and patriotic mesh the more he becomes aware of the need to withdraw from their osmotic consciousness The moment of withdrawal which coincides with self knowledge is a personal and symbolic rebirth

Royal Burial and Enthronement in Ambazonia Peter Fossungu, 2023-04-30 The contribution works toward achieving its mentality changing goals by essentially providing Afrikentation lessons radiating principally around the theme Making African education relevant to African liberation and progress The linchpin of the book is that we Africans truly need to cease dangling uselessly and reclaim our authentic roots if we have to independently move forward This is an objective we clearly cannot correctly achieve when our intellectuals and universities among others who are supposed to be furnishing our liberation movements with sane policy and thought leadership do continue in the same old colonial way of sheepish theorising that excessively indulges in obliterating genuine African perspectives Indigenous African education is the way to go An inevitable rethinking in education culture and religion in Africa is recommended basing on innovation and critical thinking which are sure highlights of communalism which is a defining feature of the African way of life The book thus harps on the need to recentralise African values and philosophy in the freedom and governance of the continent as well as stressing the dire need for unity and visionary dedicated and patriotic leadership
