Lee,2014-05-14 Television's Community follows the shenanigans of a diverse group of traditional and nontraditional community college students Jeff Winger a former lawyer Britta Perry a feminist Abed Nadir a pop culture enthusiast Shirley Bennett a mother Troy Barnes a former jock Annie Edison a naive overachiever and Pierce Hawthorne an old fashioned elderly man There are also Benjamin Chang the maniacal Spanish teacher and Craig Pelton the eccentric dean of Greendale

Community College along with well known guest stars who play troublemaking students nutty professors and frightening administrators This collection of fresh essays familiarizes readers not only with particular characters and popular episodes but behind the scenes aspects such as screenwriting and production techniques The essayists explore narrative theme hyperreality masculinity feminism color blindness civic discourse pastiche intertextuality media consciousness how

Community is influenced by other shows and films and how fans have contributed to the show Making Sense of Health,

Disease, and the Environment in Cross-Cultural History: The Arabic-Islamic World, China, Europe, and North

America Florence Bretelle-Establet, Marie Gaille, Mehrnaz Katouzian-Safadi, 2020-01-01 This book has been defined around three important issues the first sheds light on how people in various philosophical religious and political contexts understand the natural environment and how the relationship between the environment and the body is perceived the second focuses on the perceptions that a particular natural environment is good or bad for human health and examines the reasons behind such characterizations the third examines the promotion in history of specific practices to take advantage of the health benefits or avoid the harm caused by certain environments and also efforts made to change environments supposed to be harmful to human health The feeling and or the observation that the natural environment can have effects on human health have been and are still commonly shared throughout the world This led us to raise the issue of the links observed and believed to exist between human beings and the natural environment in a broad chronological and geographical framework In this investigation we bring the reader from ancient and late imperial China to the medieval Arab world up to medieval modern and contemporary Europe This book does not examine these relationships through the prism of the knowledge of our modern contemporary European experience which still too often leads to the feeling of totally different worlds Rather it questions protagonists who in different times and in different places have reflected on their own terms on the links between environment and health and tries to obtain a better understanding of why these links took the form they did in these precise contexts This book targets an academic readership as well as an informed audience for whom present issues of environment and health can be nourished by the reflections of the past
