Liturgical Renewal as a Way to Christian Unity Horace T. Allen, 2005 Since Vatican II the Catholic church and other churches have undergone liturgical renewal Do these renewals have anything in common and do they bring the churches and ecclesial communions into contact with each other Liturgical Renewal and a Way to Christian Unity explores this question and brings to light the great strides the Christian churches have made toward unity BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved The Complete Book of Sisters Luisa Dillner, 2010-10-07 A sister is for life your best friend or your worst enemy She is the yardstick by which you measure how well you are doing and the keeper of your family secrets She may be the first person you rush to when something wonderful happens or the one whose shoulder you cry on She is the one you are compared to and the one to compete with In this entertaining collection there are sisters ranging from the loving Brontës to the scrapping Mitfords who could never remember who was in and who was out of favour to the Pankhursts who fought for women's suffrage only to fall out with each other to sisters of Lenin and Hitler and of Kings and Queens There are sisters whose job it is to compete with each other such as Venus and Serena Williams It wasn't fun eliminating my little sister but I have to be tough said Venus A Lewis Carroll poem says never stew your sister If cooking her isn't allowed what is the worst thing you can do to your sister If you want to make sure she'll never forgive you pinch her man or borrow her clothes Ecumenical Theology in Worship, Doctrine, and Life David S. women in the traditional liturgical narrative draws into question the credibility of that narrative especially at a time when research into women's history has unearthed much material relevant to women's liturgical lives Berger focuses on thirteen key interpretative principles that guide the reconstruction of women at worship from a re configuration of the canon of sources and a re Visioning of liturgical periodization to re interpretation of anthropological basics and of liturgical texts On the basis of these principles she analyzes liturgical dynamics in two time periods crucial to the history of women at worship the early centuries of the Christian Church and the twentieth century liturgical renewal Within the twentieth century liturgical renewal Berger focuses on two specific foci of renewal the classical liturgical movement of the first half of the century and as a case of history in the making the women's liturgical movement of the present day Women's Ways of Worship narrates both past and present liturgical developments from the perspectives of women's lives heeding such dynamics as the genderization of liturgical space women specific liturgical taboos gender specific devotional practices and the emergence of feminist liturgies An epilogue confronts the question of a future liturgy beyond gender Convinced that reconstructing the history of women at worship will offer a new Vision of the place of the women's liturgical movement within liturgical history as a whole Berger puts this movement on a continuum of women at worship which is a continuum of struggle against the historic marginalization of women in most liturgical contexts As this struggle has come to the forefront today Women's Ways of Worship provides a context for change with women themselves being agents of both the questioning and the transformation Chapters are Reconstructing Women's Ways of Worship In Search of Methodological Principles Liturgical History Re Constructed I Early Christian Women at Worship Liturgical History Re Constructed II Women in the Twentieth Century Liturgical Movement and Liturgical History in the Making The Women's Liturgical Movement Teresa Berger is associate professor of Ecumenical Theology at the Divinity School of Duke University Durham North Carolina She is the author of numerous books and contributor to a variety of journals including Worship published by The Liturgical Press
