The Complete Critical Prose and Letters Osip Mandel'shtam, 1979

The Writer in Petrograd and the House of Arts Martha Weitzel Hickey, 2009-06-16 Founded by Maksim Gorky and Kornei Chukovsky in 1919 and disbanded in 1922 the Petrograd House of Arts occupied a crucial moment in Russia's cultural history By chronicling the rise and fall of this literary landmark this book conveys in greater depth and detail than ever before a significant but little studied period in Soviet literature Poised between Russian culture's past and her Soviet future between pre and post Revolutionary generations this once lavish private home on the Nevsky Prospekt housed as many as fifty six poets novelists critics and artists at one time during a period of great social and political turbulence And as such Hickey contends the House of Arts served as a crucible for a literature in transition Hickey shows how the House of Arts though virtually ignored by Soviet era cultural historians played a critical role in shaping the lively literature of the next decade a literature often straddling the border between fiction and non fiction Considering prose writers such as Yevgeny Zamyatin Olga Forsh the Serapion Brothers group Viktor Shklovsky Boris Eikhenbaum as well as poets including Alexander Blok Nikolay Gumilev Anna Radlova Osip Mandelstam and Vladislav Khodasevich she traces the comings and goings at the House of Arts the meetings and readings and lectures and most of all the powerful influence of these interactions on those who briefly lived and worked there In her work the Petrograd House of Arts appears for the first time in all its complexity and importance as a focal point for the social and cultural ferment of the day and a turning point in the direction of Russian literature and criticism

Wingless Desire in Modernist Russia Yelena Zotova, 2020-12-10 In Wingless Desire in Modernist Russia Yelena Zotova argues that the concept of envy underwent a peculiar transformation in the Russian Modernist prose of the 1920s due to a series of radical shifts in societal values with each subsequent change thwarting Russia's volatile axiological hierarchy Industriousness and austerity inferior to playful genius in Pushkin's Mozart and Salieri became virtues while the intrinsic value of nonutilitarian art was officially nullified by the Bolshevik state Consequently a new literary type emerged and envy described as wingless desire by Russia's chief poet Alexander Pushkin obtained new ownership as the envied became the envier Superimposing twentieth century theories of envy onto Mikhail Bakhtin's Author and Hero in the Aesthetic Activity 1923 Zotova proposes that Salieri's envy could be the wingless embryo of the Bakhtinian authorship

Inside the Film Factory Ian Christie, Professor Richard Taylor, Richard Taylor, 2005-08-19 This is the first collection to be inspired and informed by the new films and archival material that glasnost and perestroika have revealed and the new methodological approaches that are developing in tandem Film critics and historians from Britain America France and the USSR attempt the vital task of scrutinising Soviet film and re-examining the Cold War assumptions of traditional historiography Whereas most books on Soviet giants have glorified the directorial giants of the golden age of the 1920s Inside the Film Factory also recognises the achievements of popular cinema from the pre Revolutionary period through to the 1930s and beyond It also evaluates the impact of Western cinema on the early experimenters of montage Russian science fiction's influence on film making and the long suppressed history of Soviet Yiddish productions Alongside the new perspectives and source material on the much mythologised figures of Kuleshov and Medvedkin the book provides the first extended accounts in English of the important but neglected careers of directors Yakov Protazanov and Boris Barnet

Adventure Narratives in the Early Soviet Union Riccardo Nicolosi, Brigitte Obermayr, 2024-11-12 In the early 1920s Soviet writers and literary theorists were convinced that adventure fiction held the key to developing a new kind of narrative The call for a Russian Stevenson Lev Lunts profoundly impacted the theory of prose and different notions of the literary hero. It also led theorists like Shklovsky to write dime novels and convinced writers of various backgrounds to explore Soviet topography in a new light harnessing the synergies between imperialism and adventure. Despite the inherently anarchist nature of adventure and its bourgeois offspring, the magic of adventure found its way into socialist realism under different guises, demanding recognition and resisting neglect, especially in the case of socialist realist film. This book offers a critical historical reconstruction of the early Soviet adventure craze and its lasting popularity in socialist realism. It also offers innovative theoretical propositions for a philological analysis of adventure fiction that arise from this unique historical context.

The Routledge Companion to Russian Literature Neil

Cornwell, 2002-06-01. The Routledge Companion to Russian Literature is an engaging and accessible guide to Russian writing of the past thousand years. The volume covers the entire span of Russian literature from the Middle Ages to the post-Soviet period and explores all the forms that have made it so famous: poetry, drama, and of course the Russian novel. A particular emphasis is given to the nineteenth and twentieth centuries when Russian literature achieved world-wide recognition through the works of writers such as Pushkin, Dostoevsky, Tolstoy, Chekhov, Nabokov, and Solzhenitsyn. Covering a range of subjects including women's writing, Russian literary theory, socialist realism, and migr writing, leading international scholars open up the wonderful diversity of Russian literature. With recommended lists of further reading and an excellent up-to-date general bibliography, The Routledge Companion to Russian Literature is the perfect guide for students and general readers alike.

Russian Writers and the Fin de Siècle Katherine Bowers, Ani Kokobobo, 2015-06-17. Russian literature has a reputation for gloomy texts, especially during the late nineteenth century. This volume argues that a fin de siècle mood informed Russian literature long before the chronological end of the nineteenth century in ways that had significant impact on the development of Russian realism. Some chapters consider ideas more readily associated with fin de siècle Europe, such as degeneration theory, bioterminism, Freudian psychoanalysis, or apocalypticism, alongside earlier Russian realist texts by writers such as Turgenev, Dostoevsky, or Tolstoy. Other chapters explore the changes that realism underwent as modernism emerged, examining later nineteenth-century or early twentieth-century texts in the context of the earlier realist tradition or their own cultural moment. Overall, a team of emerging and established scholars of Russian literature and culture present a wide range of creative and insightful readings that shed new light on later realism in all its manifestations.
