The Acts and Monuments of John Foxe John Foxe, 1841 From Servants of the Empire to Everyday Heroes Tobias Harper, 2020-02-13 In the twentieth century the British Crown appointed around a hundred thousand people military and civilian in Britain and the British Empire to honours and titles For outsiders and sometimes recipients too these jumbles of letters are tantalizingly confusing OM MBE GCVO CH KB or CBE Throughout the century this system expanded to include different kinds of people while also shrinking in its imperial scope with the declining empire Through these dual processes this profoundly hierarchical system underwent a seemingly counter intuitive change it democratized Why and how did the British government change this system And how did its various publics respond to it This study addresses these questions directly by looking at the history of the honours system in the wider context of the major historical changes in Britain and the British Empire in the twentieth century In particular it looks at the evolution of this hierarchical deferential system amidst democratization and decolonization It focuses on the system's largest and most important components the Order of the British Empire the Knight Bachelor and the lower ranks of other Orders By creatively analysing the politics and administration of the system alongside popular responses to it in diaries letters newspapers and memoirs Tobias Harper shows the many different meanings that honours took on for the establishment dissidents and recipients He also shows the ways in which the system succeeded and failed to order and bring together divided societies Servants of Culture Ambika Natarajan, 2023-05-12 In nineteenth century Cisleithanian Austria poor working class women underwent mass migrations

from the countryside to urban centers for menial or unskilled labor jobs Through legal provisions on women's work in the Habsburg Empire there was an increase in the policing and surveillance of what was previously a gender neutral career turning it into one dominated by thousands of female rural migrants Servants of Culture provides an account of Habsburg servant law since the eighteenth century and uncovers the paternalistic and maternalistic assumptions and anxieties which turned the interest of socio political players in improving poor living and working conditions into practices that created restrictive gender and class hierarchies Through pioneering analysis of the agendas of medical experts police socialists feminists legal reformers and even serial killers this volume puts forth a neglected history of the state of domestic service discourse at the turn of the 19th century and how it shaped and continues to shape the surveillance of women Sound

Sarawak: Reminiscences of a Crown Counsel in 1950s Borneo Peter Mooney, 2011-08-01 In this captivating memoir Peter Mooney peppers his reminiscences of life as Crown Counsel in 1950s Sarawak with intriguing legal cases which illustrate interesting points of law and capture historically important details of Sarawak's indigenous people and colonial life Peter faces numerous colorful characters in court from indigenous warriors sporting feathered headdresses and leopard's teeth earrings to the equally intimidating Lee Kuan Yew who would become the first Prime Minister of Singapore Isaiah 53 in the Light of Homecoming After Exile Fredrik Hägglund, 2008 In this study Fredrik Hägglund presents an interpretation based on a hypothesis that conflicts emerged between the people in the land of Israel and those who returned from exile He analyzes these conflicts with the help of contemporary refugee studies other texts of the Old Testament and also relevant passages in Isa 40 55 At the end of the exile there was hope that the deported people would return to Israel that it would be rebuilt and that Jerusalem would again flourish This hope is most clearly expressed in Isa 40 1 52 10 However as time went by there was a realization that the envisaged glorious return was in reality a rather limited return and the joy of receiving those who returned had turned into conflicts not least regarding the possession of land and the availability of places to live In this situation someone probably reflected on the message of Isa 40 1 52 10 and sought to understand what had gone wrong Isa 53 was then inserted as an explanation of how the people in the land of Israel i.e. the we should have received those who returned i.e. the servant If this embrace had taken place Mother Zion would have rejoiced as described in Isa 54 Instead of these pictures painted for us in Isa 53 and 54 we encounter the reality of the conflicts described in Isa 56 66 Servants of the King Robert Elliott Speer, 1909
