Mr Rank A Study Of J Arthur Rank Briti:

J. Arthur Rank and the British Film Industry Geoffrey Macnab, 2013-01-11 Presiding over the golden era of the British Film Industry from the mid to late 1940s J Arthur Rank financed movies such as Oliver Twist The Red Shoes Brief Encounter Caesar and Cleopatra and Black Narcissus Never before and never since has the industry risen to such heights J Arthur Rank charts every aspect of the robust film culture that Rank helped to create Having started out with relatively little knowledge of the cinema Rank's sponsorship was to bring about astounding progress within the industry and by establishing an organization comparable in size to any of the major Hollywood studios Rank briefly managed to reconcile and consolidate the competing demands of art and business an achievement very much absent from today's diminished and fragmented film industry Macnab goes on to explain the eventual collapse of the Rank experiment amidst the economic and political maelstrom of post war Britain highlighting the problems still facing the industry today By meshing archival research with interviews with Rank's contemporaries and members of his family this definitive study firmly restores Rank to his rightful place at the hub of British film history Mr Rank Alan Wood, 1952

A History of the Methodist Church in Great Britain, Volume Four Rupert E. Davies, A. Raymond George, Gordon Rupp, 2017-06-14 With this volume the publication of A History of the Methodist Church in Great Britain comes to its appointed end The project of writing it was initiated by the Methodist Conference of 1953 and the lapse of time since then has made it possible to include at appropriate points the results of the continuing research into the origins and nature of Methodism but the chance and changes of this mortal life which are bound to impinge on the progress of so complex an enterprise together with the heavy involvement of all the contributors in ecclesiastical ecumenical and academic affairs have made this period much longer than the General Editors would have wished From the Preface The Man Who Got Carter Andrew Spicer, A.T. McKenna, A. T. McKenna, 2013-10-24 Michael Klinger was the most successful independent producer in the British film industry over a 20 year period from 1960 to 1980 responsible for 32 films including classics such as Repulsion 1965 and Get Carter 1971 Despite working with many famous figures including actors Michael Caine Peter Finch Lee Marvin Roger Moore Mickey Rooney and Susannah York directors Claude Chabrol Mike Hodges and Roman Polanski and author Wilbur Smith Klinger's contribution to British cinema has been almost largely ignored This definitive book on Micheal Klinger largely based on his previously unseen personal papers examines his origins in Sixties Soho sexploitation cinema and shockumentaries through to major international productions including Gold 1974 and Shout at the Devil 1976 It reveals how Klinger deftly combined commercial product the hugely popular Confessions series 1974-78 with artistic experimental cinema that nurtured young talent including Polanski and Hodges Peter Colinson Alastair Reid Linda Hayden and Moshe Mizrahi the Israeli director of Rachel's Man 1975 Klinger's career is contextualised through a reassessment of the British film industry during a period of unprecedented change and volatility as well as highlighting the importance of his Jewishness The Man Who Got Carter offers a detailed analysis of the Film has shaped modern society in part by changing its cultures of memory Film Music Memory reveals that this change has rested in no small measure on the mnemonic powers of music As films were consumed by growing American and European audiences their soundtracks became an integral part of individual and collective memory Berthold Hoeckner analyzes three critical processes through which music influenced this new culture of memory storage retrieval and affect Films store memory through an archive of cinematic scores In turn a few bars from a soundtrack instantly recall the image that accompanied them and along with it the affective experience of the movie Hoeckner examines films that reflect directly on memory whether by featuring an amnesic character a traumatic event or a surge of nostalgia As the history of cinema unfolded movies even began to recall their own history through quotations remakes and stories about how cinema contributed to the soundtrack of people s lives Ultimately Film Music Memory demonstrates that music has transformed not only what we remember about the cinematic experience but also how we relate to memory itself The Ashgate Research
