Creating Heritage Thomas Carter, David Harvey, Roy Jones, Iain Robertson, 2019-11-15 This book investigates the selection process of heritagisation to understand what specific pasts are being selected or rejected for representation who is selecting them how and to whom they are being represented and why they are being presented or dismissed in the ways that they are Some aspects of our pasts are venerated and memorialised for a variety of reasons while others are forgotten or even hidden This volume thus provides examples from across a spectrum Some phenomena are well suited to heritagisation such as animals memorialised for their bravery long past agricultural techniques and implements and impressive landscapes However this book also deals with products e g tobacco historical periods e g the Third Reich and scientific techniques e g genetic modification with negative connotations that extend beyond their heritage attributes This volume considers how the actors in the heritage industry admit valorise prioritise and rationalise historic resources as heritage products These findings provide practical examples of how heritage institutions privilege frame and or exclude a wide range of heritage items They also contrast the invocations of sectional local national or class based and more cosmopolitan heritages and consider the extent to which innovation and change are or can be acknowledged within the heritage discourse

Shackleton Jonathan Shackleton, John MacKenna, 2002 By endurance we conquer Shackleton family motto Eighty years after Ernest Shackleton's death his legend and the extraordinary story of the Endurance South Pole expedition still hold a grip on the public imagination Trapped in drifting polar pack ice for ten months Ernest Shackleton and his crew fought for survival against all the odds When the Endurance was finally crushed they were stranded on ice floes for more than a year before reaching Elephant Island From there Shackleton and five of his men embarked on the most remarkable rescue mission in maritime history sailing in a small open boat to South Georgia Island across eight hundred miles of the world's roughest seas to bring help to the others Though he failed to reach the South Pole Shackleton's story lives on because of his unique qualities of leadership and the extraordinary fact that all of his men survived This compelling narrative probes the profound influence of Shackleton's Irish and Quaker roots in the making of a great leader It offers a vivid portrait of a man at odds with the world and with himself whose ambition was tempered by his flawed humanity and egalitarianism Here too are the untold stories of Shackleton's upbringing in Kildare his time in the Merchant Navy his 1901 voyage on the Discovery with Robert Falcon Scott his 1907 Nimrod expedition his marriage and love affairs his life as a public figure and politician and the haunting story of his final fatal expedition on the Quest Drawing on family records diaries and letters and hitherto unpublished photographs and archive material this mesmerizing book takes us beyond the myth to Shackleton the man for whom optimism is true moral courage and whose greatest triumph was that of life over death
