CD to complete the offering      An Antigen Depository of the Immune System: Follicular Dendritic Cells Marie H. Kosco-Vilbois, 2012-12-06 Follicular dendritic cells FOe are unique among cells of the immune system While their morphological characteristics resulted in their inclusion as a dendritic cell type they differ quite significantly from the other members of the dendritic cell family In contrast to T cell associated dendritic cells or the Langerhans cells found in the skin FOe reside in highly organized B cell follicles within secondary lymphoid tissues This site of residence provided a nomenclature committee in 1982 with the second descriptive factor for the derivation of their name The cardinal feature of FOe is to trap and retain antigen on the surface of their dendritic processes for extended amounts of time and it is this feature that provides the conceptual component for the title of this book In response to an antigenic challenge primary B cell follicles undergo dynamic events giving rise to germinal centers which are associated with activation expansion and differentiation processes of B cells The interactions of B cells with FOe and T cells in the germinal centers are essential for generating the complete repertoire of antibody isotypes obtained during an antibody response In addition stimuli either initiated or maintained during the germinal center response leads to production of high affinity antibodies through the processes of somatic mutation and clonal selection In this context FOe act as a pivotal source of antigen They accumulate foreign proteins e.g.      Pathology Volume - I Mr. Rohit Manglik, 2024-05-24 Covers general pathology principles including cell injury inflammation and neoplasia Sets the foundation for understanding disease mechanisms      List of Journals Indexed in Index Medicus National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1996 Issues for 1977 1979 include also Special List journals being indexed in cooperation with other institutions Citations from these journals appear in other MEDLARS bibliographies and in MEDLINE but not in Index Medicus      Immunology of Infection J.G. Cohen, 2012-12-06 The immune system has evolved in large part to enable organisms to resist microbial infection Microorganisms have long been used as experimental tools by immunologists and the study of the immune response to viruses and bacteria has contributed much to our understanding of basic immunological mechanisms There are also important practical and clinical reasons for attempting to understand the immunology of infections these include the rational design of vaccines the pathogenesis of infectious diseases the advent of AIDS the rise in drug resistant mycobacterial infections and the recognition of the infectious aetiology of peptic ulcer disease The contributors to this book are all chosen for their active involvement and expertise in the fields It bridges the divide between basic immunological research and clinical practice      Sensory Neuropathies Arthur K. Asbury, Herbert Budka, Elfriede Sluga, 2012-12-06 While motor neuropathies and neuronopathies and mixed sensory motor neuropathies have been met with adequate interest by clinical and basic researchers and physicians pure sensory neuropathies and neuronopathies have received comparably less attention despite of the considerable morbidity they may cause in the individual patient This prompted us to organize an International Symposium on Sensory Neuropathies which was held in Vienna September 22 24 1990 as satellite to the International Neuromuscular Congress held one week earlier in Munich Germany We were fortunate to have a faculty of experienced authorities in the field as participants This volume is the proceedings of the symposium Due to factors which were beyond our control publication of this volume was significantly delayed Despite the enormous progress of biomedicine in recent years most prominently in molecular biology we feel that the contributions of this volume still represent a valuable reference for clinical physiological biochemical and pathomorphological studies on the sensory nervous system for which similarly comprehensive data are difficult to locate November 1994 Arthur K Asbury Herbert Budka Eljriede Sluga Contents Contributors 0 IX 1      Journal of the National Cancer Institute, 1991
