Academy James L. Conyers, Jr.,2015-09-01 Afrocentricity is a philosophical and theoretical perspective that emphasizes the study of Africans as subjects not as objects and is opposed to perspectives that attempt to marginalize African thought and experience Afrocentricity became popular in the 1980s as scores of African American and African scholars adopted an Afrocentric orientation to information The editor of this collection argues that as scholars embark upon the 21st century they can no longer be myopic in their perceptions and analyses of race The seventeen essays examine a wide range of variations on the Afrocentric paradigm in the areas of history literature political science philosophy economics women s studies cultural studies ethnic studies and social policy The essays written by professors librarians students and others in higher education who have embraced the Afrocentric perspective are divided into four sections Pedagogy and Implementation Theoretical Assessment Critical Analysis and Pan Africanist Thought Catalog of Copyright Entries. Blacks in

Colonial America Oscar Reiss,2015-09-03 By the time of the American Revolution blacks made up 20 percent of the colonial population Early in colonial history many blacks who came to America were indentured servants who served out their contracts and then settled in the colonies as free men Over time however more and more blacks arrived as slaves and the position of blacks in colonial society suffered precipitous decline This book discusses the lives of blacks both slave and free as they struggled to make homes for themselves among the white European settlers in the New World The author thoroughly examines colonial slavery and the laws supporting it as early as 1686 for example New Jersey had laws demanding the return of fugitive slaves as well as the emancipation movement active from the beginning of the slave trade Other topics include blacks and the practice of Christianity in the colonies and the service of blacks in the Revolution Activating Social
