Promise Of Productive Aging:

The Promise of Productive Aging Robert N. Butler, Mia R. Oberlink, 1990      Productive Aging Nancy Morrow-Howell, James Hinterlong, Michael Sherraden, 2003-05-01

Will 69 million baby boomers suddenly drop out of the workforce when they turn 65? It is difficult to imagine this generation with its talent, education, and experience idling away the last thirty years of life. From the Foreword by Robert N. Butler, M.D., The Mount Sinai Medical Center: Old age has been historically thought of as a period of frailty and dependence, yet studies show that with the help of advances in health and medicine, current populations will live longer and remain healthier than previous generations. As average life expectancies rise, traditional concepts of retirement need to be reconsidered on all levels, from government policy to business practice to individual life planning. In this volume, leaders in the field of gerontology explore these changing conditions through the concept of productive aging, which has been developed by leaders in the field to promote older adults' contributions to society in social and economic capacities. Productive Aging: Concepts and Challenges treats the implications of productive aging for the discipline of gerontology and for society in general. The first section defines the principles, historical perspectives, and conceptual frameworks for productive aging. The second section takes a disciplinary approach, treating the biomedical, psychological, sociological, and economic implications of a more capable older generation. The third section considers advances in theories of gerontology, and the fourth section suggests future directions in practice, theory, and research.

Gerontology in the Era of the Third Age Dawn C. Carr, Kathrin S. Komp, 2011-02-22

The third age is described as the period in the life course that occurs after retirement but prior to the onset of disability, revealing a period in which individuals have the capacity to remain actively engaged. This book serves as a comprehensive discussion about how the emergence of the third age has changed the way we think about and examine traditional frameworks regarding aging issues and the life course. It introduces the discussion of the unique challenges and opportunities that older adults face while moving through this early phase of later life, proposing new frameworks, concepts, and methods to re-examine later life in the context of the era of the third age. This book proposes new ways of thinking about how we conceptualize the life course, think about the role of the welfare state in the lives of older people, negotiate social roles in later life, make meaning of our lives as we age, and cultivate relationships with others during later life It brings together theoretical concepts and frameworks methodological advances and emerging themes and controversies that are redefining gerontology in the era of the Third Age Highlighting important issues that warrant further exploration and discussion this book advances our understanding of the Third Age and focuses attention on critical issues that should be addressed in future Third Age research and scholarly development Key Features Includes up to date description and analysis of the third age as a concept life phase and social status Addresses multiple perspectives to illustrate the impact of the third age on the way we examine later life Uses disciplinary perspectives such as social policy demography gerontology sociology social work anthropology and social psychology Examines mechanisms that stratify the older population in the context of the third age The Symbolism of Globalization, Development, and Aging Steven L. Arxer, John W. Murphy, 2012-09-14 This book looks at the symbolic side of globalization development and aging Many of the dimensions that are discussed represent updates of past debates but some are entirely new In particular globalization is accompanied by subtle social imagery that profoundly shapes the way institutions and identities are imagined The process of aging and persons sense of identity is no exception The underlying assumptions that pervade globalization inform how critical dimensions of aging are discussed and institutionalized The application of marketplace imagery for example may impact attempts for holism in how aging is studied and the prospects for human agency during the aging process This book offers a special look into how temporality technology normativity and empiricism structure the symbolic side of globalization and influence dominant images of the aging process Current debates about globalization and aging are expanded by helping readers see the social imagery that is both subtly behind globalization and at the forefront of shaping the aging experience

Gatchel, Izabela Z. Schultz, Christopher T. Ray, 2019-02-27 This book discusses the state of the research and cutting edge practice with regard to chronic illnesses and rehabilitation in older adults It emphasizes biopsychosocial and culturally appropriate rehabilitation approaches to reduce the degree of disability and maximize independence in the activities of daily living among the burgeoning aging population Organized in four sections Introduction and Overview Major Illnesses and Problems in Aging Populations Evaluation of Functional Rehabilitation Approaches for Aging Populations and Future Clinical Research Needs the book includes chapters on the graying of the West with implications for increased chronic illnesses and disabilities a review of biopsychosocial rehabilitation approaches important aging issues such as slips and falls musculoskeletal pain chronic disabling conditions such as cancer and cardiovascular disease and work related factors to maintain work engagement in older workers The US Census Bureau projects that by the year 2030 about 20% of the U S population will be 65 or older contributing to the increased concern about healthcare and rehabilitation issues among older adults div This work will be of interest to healthcare rehabilitation vocational human resource and disability management professionals policy makers as well as researchers in areas of aging gerontology chronic illness disability rehabilitation social work medicine and psychology

The Longevity Revolution
Robert N. Butler, 2009-09-08 Pulitzer prize winning author Dr Robert Butler coined the term ageism and made Alzheimer's a familiar word Now he brings his formidable knowledge and experience in aging issues to a recent and unprecedented achievement the extension of human life expectancy by thirty years As Butler shows our society had not yet adapted to this change The U S has not made a research investment in aging Only eleven medical schools out of 145 have geriatrics departments compared to England where geriatrics is the number two specialty We have not solidified private pension plans or strengthened Social Security to ensure that people do not outlive their resources In this urgent and ultimately optimistic book Dr Butler shows why and how we must re-examine our personal and societal approach to aging right now so that the boomers and the generations that follow may have a financially secure vigorous and healthy final chapter life

Aging
Harry R. Moody, Jennifer R. Sasser, 2020-07-16 Winner of the 2022 Textbook Academic Authors Association's The McGuffey Longevity Award Aging Concepts and Controversies is structured to encourage a style of teaching and learning that goes beyond conveying facts and methods This innovative text focuses on controversies and questions rather than on assimilating facts or creating a single correct view about aging or older people Drawing on their extensive expertise authors Harry R. Moody and Jennifer R. Sasser first provide an overview of aging in three domains aging over the life course health care and socioeconomic trends Each section then includes data and conceptual frameworks helping students to make sense of the controversies and understand their origin engage in critical thinking and develop their own views The Tenth Edition of this hallmark textbook includes amplified discussions focused on differences diversity structural inequalities and inclusion as well as contemporary issues including climate change and immigration Included with this title The password protected Instructor Resource Site formally known as SAGE Edge offers access to all text specific resources including a test bank and editable chapter specific PowerPoint slides

Aging Studies and Ecocriticism Nassim W. Balestrini, Julia Hoydis, Anna-Christina Kainradl, Ulla Kriebner, 2023-08-15 Aging Studies and Ecocriticism: Interdisciplinary Encounters argues that both aging studies and ecocriticism address the complex dynamics of individual and collective agency, oppression and dependency, care and conviviality, vulnerability and resistance, as well as intergenerationality and responsibility. Yet even though both fields employ overlapping methodologies and theoretical frameworks and scrutinize boundary texts in different literary genres which have been analyzed from ecocritical perspectives as well as from the vantage point of critical aging studies, there has been little scholarly interaction between ecocritical literary studies and aging studies to date. The contributors in this volume demonstrate the potential of specific genres to narrate relationality and age and the aesthetic and ethical challenges of imagining changes, endings and survival in the Anthropocene. As the first step towards putting both fields in conversation, this collection offers new pathways into understanding human and nonhuman ecological relations. The 1999 Seoul International Conference of NGOs, 2000

Learning to Be Old Margaret Cruikshank, 2013-02-14 Margaret Cruikshank's Learning to Be Old examines what it means to grow old in America today. The book questions social myths and fears about aging, sickness and the other social roles of the elderly, the over medicalization of many older people and ageism. In this book Cruikshank proposes alternatives to the ways aging is usually understood in both popular culture and mainstream gerontology. Learning to Be Old does not propose the ideas of successful aging or productive aging but more the idea of learning how to age. Featuring new research and analysis, the third edition of Learning to be Old demonstrates more thoroughly than the previous editions that aging is socially constructed. Among texts on aging, the book is unique in its clear focus on the differences in aging for women and men as well as for people in different socioeconomic groups. Cruikshank is able to put aging in a broad context that not only focuses on how aging affects women but men as well. Key updates in the third edition include changes in the health care system, changes in how long older Americans are working, especially given the impact of the recession, and new material on the brain and mind-body interconnections. Cruikshank impressively challenges conventional ideas about aging in this third edition of Learning to be Old. This will be a must-read for everyone interested in new ideas surrounding aging in America today. Successful Aging Through the Life Span May L. Wykle, Peter J. Whitehouse, Diana L. Morris, 2004-10-25 This book explores concepts and practices for productive aging. What factors contribute to successful aging? What is the role of exercise and nutrition? What is the role of children and adults in interaction with elders? The chapters identify the best practices for successful aging, examine trends in intergenerational caregiving and define roles and responsibilities across the life span. Topics addressed include how to maximize productive engagement of older adults how multigenerational issues impact successful aging the ways in which a learning environment can promote intergenerational relationships

Gerontology: The Basics Jennifer Sasser, Harry Moody, 2018-03-29 Human aging is a complex multi faceted experience that unfolds over an entire lifetime While human aging is universal it is also wildly variable shaped by individual social cultural political geographic and historical contexts Gerontology The basics explores the field of research education and practice which takes on the complex and multi faceted questions issues and problems of adult aging and old age Intended for anyone interested in understanding the origins of gerontology and its unique purview we invite the reader to join us in a critical examination of what we think we know about becoming and being old and perhaps be inspired to engage more deeply in their own travels through the life course
