Proof--Los Angeles Art and the Photograph, 1960-1980 Charles Desmarais, 1992 The Photographic Object 1970 Mary Statzer, 2016-02-02 In 1970 photography curator Peter C Bunnell organized the exhibition Photography into Sculpture for the Museum of Modern Art in New York bringing together twenty three photographers and artists from across the United States as well as Vancouver British Columbia whose work challenged accepted practices and categories The Photographic Object 1970 serves as an exhibition catalogue after the fact an oral history and critical reading of exhibitions and experimental photography during the 1960s and 70s It proposes precedents for contemporary artists who continue to blur the boundaries between photography and other art mediums Provided by publisher Proof-- Los Angeles Art and the Photograph, 1960-1980 Laguna Art Museum (Laguna Beach, Calif.), 1992 The Pictures Generation, 1974-1984 Douglas Eklund, 2009 Image art after Conceptualism CalArts Hallwalls and Artists Space The jump appropriation and its discontents His gesture moved us to tears pictures art in a reinvigorated market The Image of Environmental Harm in American Social Documentary Photography Chris Balaschak, 2021-03-03 With an emphasis on photographic works that offer new perspectives on the history of American social documentary this book considers a history of politically engaged photography that may serve as models for the representation of impending environmental injustices Chris Balaschak examines histories of American photography the environmental movement as well as the industrial and postindustrial economic conditions of the United States in the 20th century With particular attention to a material history of photography focused on the display and dissemination of documentary images through print media and exhibitions the work considered places emphasis on the depiction of communities and places harmed by industrialized capitalism The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual studies photography ecocriticism environmental humanities media studies culture studies and visual rhetoric Documents of Doubt Heather Diack, 2020-06-12 A major reassessment of photography's pivotal role in 1960s conceptual art Why do we continue to look to photographs for evidence despite our awareness of photography's potential for duplicity Documents of Doubt critically reassesses the truth claims surrounding photographs by looking at how conceptual artists creatively undermined them Studying the unique relationship between photography and conceptual art practices in the United States during the social and political instability of the late 1960s Heather Diack offers vital new perspectives on our post truth world and the importance of suspending easy conclusions in contemporary art Considering the work of four leading conceptual artists of the 1960s and 70s Diack looks at photographs as documents of doubt pushing the form beyond commonly assumed limits Through in depth and thorough reevaluations of early work by noted artists Mel Bochner Bruce Nauman Douglas Huebler and John Baldessari Diack advances the powerful thesis that photography provided a means of moving away from the object and toward performative effects playing a crucial role in the development of conceptual art as a medium of doubt and contingency Discussing how unexpected and contradictory meanings can exist in the guise of ordinary pictures Documents of Doubt offers evocative and original ideas on truth's connection to photography in the United States during the late 1960s and how conceptual art from that period anticipated our current era of alternative facts in contemporary politics and culture

Camera Constructs Andrew Higgott, Timothy Wray, 2016-12-05 Photography and architecture have a uniquely powerful resonance architectural form provides the camera with the subject for some of its most compelling imagery while photography profoundly influences how architecture is represented imagined and produced Camera Constructs is the first book to reflect critically on the varied interactions of the different practices by which photographers artists architects theorists and historians engage with the relationship of the camera to architecture the city and the evolution of Modernism The title thus on the one hand opposes the medium of photography and the materiality of construction but on the other can be read as saying that the camera invariably constructs what it depicts the photograph is not a simple representation of an external reality but constructs its own meanings and reconstructs its subjects Twenty three essays by a wide range of historians and theorists are grouped under the themes of Modernism and the Published Photograph Architecture and the City Re imagined Interpretative Constructs and Photography in Design Practices They are preceded by an Introduction that comprehensively outlines the subject and elaborates on the diverse historical and theoretical contexts of the authors approaches Camera Constructs provides a rich and highly original analysis of the relationship of photography to built form from the early modern period to the present day
