enfin une histoire du cinéma en France et non du cinéma français. Tout autre chose donc qu'une chronologie commentée de films panthéonisés ou qu'un récit fleuri de la geste cinématographique nationale. Il s'agit d'une analyse globale de l'activité cinématographique en France et de son évolution de 1929 nos jours. Films nationaux et étrangers qui ont formé la mémoire cinématographique des Français, institutions diverses qui ont permis et orienté la transmission intervenant en tout genre du simple cinéphile l'exploitant en passant par les producteurs les réalisateurs et les nombreux instruments de mesure de la qualité cinématographique, rien ne échappe cette synthèse au sein de laquelle deux temps forts sont privilégiés : la transformation du cinéma en industrie culturelle au début des années 1930 et son expansion considérable à partir des années 1960 via la domestication du spectacle cinématographique et de sa reproductibilité technique : télévision VHS DVD. Un fil rouge court au long de cette histoire : la demande croissante de films de qualité. Et ce jusqu'au plus contemporain, contrairement à ce que laisse entendre le catastrophisme ambiant, crit dans un style alerte, fourmillant d'informations et toujours rafraîchi. Ce livre offre aux étudiants et aux passionnés un outil de savoir sans équivalent pour connaître et comprendre les faiblesses et les atouts du cinéma national. Fabrice Montebello est maître de conférences à l'université de Metz où il enseigne le cinéma. L'expansion du marché des films 1929-1965 La naissance d'une industrie culturelle 1929-1940 Le triomphe du cinéma 1940-1958 L'ancien et le nouveau Le redéploiement du marché des films 1966-1985 Les nouveaux standards de la qualité cinématographique Le marché des films en salle L'expansion de la culture cinématographique La prolifération des films 1986-2004 La domestication du spectacle cinématographique Conclusion Il était un fois le cinéma

Amélie Isabelle Vanderschelden, 2007-01-26 Le Fabuleux destin d'Amélie Poulain was the surprise boxoffice success of 2001 with nine million spectators in France and more than 30 million worldwide. The film turned Audrey Tautou into an international star in her iconic role as Amélie, a naive French Parisian who devotes herself to mending the lives of the people around her. Shot on location in Paris, the film combines poetic and magical realism with stylish cinematography, original use of colour, state-of-the-art special effects and an evocative soundtrack. Together these have produced a popular film of universal appeal. Isabelle Vanderschelden examines the film's production within the French film industry. She analyzes the issues of genre and narrative that it presents so well. She looks in depth at the film's key scenes as well as at Jeunet's distinctive visual style and cinematography and his use of digital technology. The national and international receptions of Amélie are explored to establish why the film has caught the public imagination and whether it marks a renewal in the cultural diversity and distinctive identity of the French film industry. This book will be essential reading for cinema lovers and students alike.

The Poverty of Relativism Raymond Boudon, 2004 The Poverty of Relativism is a timely and critical evaluation of a dominant trend in modern social science evident in a range of intellectual movements from structuralism to postmodernism and social constructionism. Raymond Boudon shows how the pervasive spread of relativism in social thought threatens intellectual life by corroding the concept of objectivity, leading to a social and political nihilism in which even the knowledge generated by science itself is seen as no more than a belief system.

With an incisive analysis that uses a wide range of illustrative examples from the social organisation of science to the question of what constitutes a work of art Raymond Boudon examines the consequences of relativism across a number of issues that are key to the future of sociology and the social sciences France at the Flicks Darren Waldron, Isabelle Vanderschelden, 2007 Covering production distribution and exhibition as well as critical and audience reception this book provides an overview of recent French cinema It offers case studies of films which enjoyed international appreciation and also those not distributed abroad Visual Research Methods Peter Hamilton, 2006 La rencontre au cinéma Pascal Ide, 2005 Etudie au travers de 15 films très connus du grand public le thème de la rencontre French Politics, Culture and Society, 2005 Sociologie du cinéma et de ses publics - 4e éd Emmanuel Ethis, 2018-01-03 Le cinéma s'est imposé comme la pratique culturelle la mieux partagée au point d'investir nos vies c'est aux films aux acteurs aux histoires humaines contées que nous faisons le plus communément référence pour exprimer une part de nous-même Qu'est-ce qui a permis au cinéma d'occuper cette place Comment la salle de cinéma est-elle installée au cœur de la cité avec ses rites et ses codes Pourquoi les films nous parlent autant et nous aident-ils à comprendre nos vies Selon quelles modalités les recevons-nous En synthétisant les réponses apportées par la sociologie cet ouvrage est devenu un outil de référence pour la sociologie de la culture mais également pour les étudiants en cinéma ainsi que l'ensemble des professionnels de ce secteur La présentation actualisée et augmentée approfondit l'analyse en montrant comment la pratique du cinéma a évolué aujourd'hui la fois vers une relation de plus en plus individualisée entre le cinéma et ses spectateurs tout en continuant parallèlement à consacrer la salle en tant que lieu incontournable pour la fabrication des publics de demain Le cinéma français depuis 2000 René Prédal, 2008 Le jeune cinéma d'auteurs des années 2000 a déjà une histoire A plusieurs reprises Bruno Dumont a été récompensé au festival de Cannes tandis que François Ozon a vu ses films distribués avec succès en France et l'étranger et qu'Abdelatif Kechiche a obtenu deux reprises la consécration des Césars De leur côté Arnaud Desplechin Robert Guédiguian Olivier Assayas ou Philippe Faucon font déjà figure de nouveaux classiques d'une production au renouvellement incessant Cet ouvrage d'analyses la fois critiques et esthétiques le premier du genre présente l'étude d'un cinéma générique aux styles et aux thématiques divers Les caractères communs mais aussi les spécificités de chaque réalisateur se révèlent dans l'analyse des combats d'une création soucieuse de ne laisser ni touffer sa voix ni occulter son regard par la distribution des produits de purs divertissements Quel film voir ? Claude Forest, 2009 L'étude convoque la sociologie la philosophie la psychanalyse l'anthropologie ou la neurologie pour clarifier les mécanismes de mimésis dans les pratiques des spectateurs consommateurs Il interroge la demande qui détermine selon lui l'offre et développe des notions connexes comme celles du besoin de l'envie ou du désir Les artisans de l'imaginaire Monique Dagnaud, 2006-02-03 Vingt millions de fidèles chaque soir en France Plus de deux millions de téléspectateurs pour le moindre téléfilm Plus de trois heures par personne et par jour la télévision façonne largement notre univers mental Elle colonise notre temps libre transforme nos vies et nourrit notre imaginaire véhiculant une culture de masse qui nous impr
