Scoring the Rorschach Robert F. Bornstein, Joseph M.

Masling, 2005-03-23 Exner's Comprehensive System has attracted so much attention in recent years that many clinicians and personality researchers are unaware that alternative Rorschach scoring systems exist. This is unfortunate because some of these systems have tremendous clinical value. Scoring the Rorschach: Seven Validated Systems provides detailed reviews of the best validated alternative approaches and points to promising new paths towards the continued growth and refinement of Rorschach interpretation. The editors set the stage with an extended introduction to historical controversies and cutting edge empirical methods for Rorschach validation. Each chapter presents a different Rorschach scoring system. A brief history is followed by detailed information on scoring and interpretation, a comprehensive summary of evidence bearing on construct validity and discussion of clinical applications, empirical limitations and future directions. A user friendly scoring manual for each system offers readers practical guidance. The systems tap a broad array of content areas including ego defenses, thought disorder, mental representations of self and others, implicit motives, personality traits and potential for psychotherapy. All psychologists seriously engaged in the work of personality assessment will find in this book welcome additions to their professional toolkits.

Schaffer, 2005-07-08 This book presents chapters by Dr. Blatt and many colleagues and students that explore questions of relatedness, self definition and mental representation and shows us that psychoanalysis and empirical research can be combined.

Revisiting Feminist Approaches to Art Therapy Susan Hogan, 2012-06-15 Art therapy has been slow to embrace the critical and theoretical viewpoints including feminism that have made a huge impact on other areas of the humanities and social sciences. Art therapists are ideally situated, however, to respond to the growing awareness of how language, media and images influence gender inequality and the pressures that can lead to poor mental health and diminished well being among women. The contributors explore the ways in which gender issues can be addressed through art therapy. By being sensitive to the socio cultural dimensions of women's lives, therapists can become more receptive to the needs of their female clients. The case studies included here illustrate how issues of class, ethnicity and gender introduce a social element into what is sometimes described as a purely personal cathartic process. By discussing empowerment, sexuality, pregnancy and childbirth, this volume provides a comprehensive survey of women's issues within art therapy and will prompt a reevaluation of current training and practice in the field.

Way Beyond Freud Joseph Reppen, Jane Tucker, Martin A. Schulman, 2004 The contributors featured in this work engage the reader in a stimulating exchange and dialogue about the post modern turn in psychoanalysis. They advocate critique or simply observe this contemporary phenomenon.

experts also discuss issues of separation loss and alternate sources of love when the mother is absent or emotionally unavailable while highlighting the relevance of such ideas to the treatment of children and adults

Mothers and Daughters II Rosemary H. Balsam, Ruth S. Fischer, 2014-06-03 This is the second issue of Psychoanalytic Inquiry devoted to mothers and daughters This project began as the mother daughter bond was calling out for attention in light of the many advances in our understanding of female psychology The goal of female development is no longer considered to be a severing of the mother daughter bond to attain autonomy and sexual maturity What then are its vicissitudes as it is revisited reworked and transformed as the girl and her mother grow and develop and ultimately attain a state of interdependence The relational context of development is now considered gender related differences in behavior and in parental interaction and the girl's special relationship with her mother and her mother's body and the importance to her of her own body with its special attributes contours and sensations
