River Road To China The Mekong River Expedition 18661873:

River Road to China Milton Osborne, 2007-12-01 A compelling finely researched account of an adventure that was hailed as one of the grandest explorations of the nineteenth century The Washington Post A New York Times Notable Book In 1866 six Frenchmen set out on a dangerous mission to seek a trade route up the Mekong During the two years that followed they would journey through more than four thousand miles of unmapped territory from the tropical heat of the swamps of Vietnam and Cambodia to the bitter cold of the mountain ranges of southwestern China Their historic expedition is the dramatic subject of River Road to China a story of courage endurance and determination in the face of unpredictable dangers and near insurmountable odds This edition has been updated to include a new postscript by the author and more than thirty full color illustrations by the expedition's artist The highest of high adventure Osborne's documentation is flawless The New Yorker As exciting as it is historically illuminating A tale of heroism that has seldom been duplicated spurred by the continuing fatal attraction of the Great River The New Republic

The Mekong: A Socio-legal Approach to River Basin Development Ben Boer, Philip Hirsch, Fleur Johns, Ben Saul, Natalia Scurrah, 2015-12-22 An international river basin is an ecological system an economic thoroughfare a geographical area a font of life and livelihoods a geopolitical network and often a cultural icon It is also a socio legal phenomenon This book is the first detailed study of an international river basin from a socio legal perspective The Mekong River Basin which sustains approximately 70 million people across Cambodia China Laos Myanmar Thailand and Vietnam provides a prime example of the socio legal complexities of governing a transboundary river and its tributaries The book applies its socio legal analysis to bring a fresh approach to understanding conflicts surrounding water governance in the Mekong River Basin The authors describe the wide range of uses being made of legal doctrine and legal argument in ongoing disputes surrounding hydropower development in the Basin putting to rest lingering caricatures of a single ASEAN way of navigating conflict They call into question some of the common assumptions concerning the relationship between law and development The book also sheds light on important questions concerning the global hybridization or crossover of public and private power and its ramifications for water governance With current debates and looming conflicts over water governance globally and over shared rivers in particular these issues could not be more pressing

The Range of the River Iftexhar Iqbal, 2025-12-02 Spanning nearly 4 million square kilometers the Tibetan river system including the Brahmaputra Irrawaddy Salween Mekong Red and Yangzi forms the largest contiguous network of rivers on the planet stretching across eastern South Asia mainland Southeast Asia and southern China The Range of the River uncovers the entwined histories of these vast waterways and the empires human actors and other than human forces that have shaped Asia since the 1850s Both ethnodiverse and biodiverse these rivers were more than contested imperial spaces they were also channels of communal and material exchange linking near and distant contact zones They fostered connections across Asia driving commerce mobility and cultural encounters that transformed them into shared living commons bridging societies political powers and economic interests Tracing six major rivers across eight countries Iftekhar Iqbal argues that these river systems formed the core of a discursive space where empires regional political forces ethnic groups boaters peddlers explorers merchants and mules encountered each other in layered meanings and movements This groundbreaking book reimagines the river not as merely a tool of empire but as a dynamic force in itself shaping a truly transregional Asia By weaving together diverse riverine life worlds The Range of the River invites us to rethink Asia's spatial history Negotiated Power in Late Imperial China Jennifer Rudolph, 2010-02-28

Negotiated Power in Late Imperial China The Zongli Yamen and the Politics of Reform explores the nature and functioning of reform during the nineteenth century of China's Qing dynasty 1644 1911 By analyzing the bureaucratic modes of management that developed around the creation and evolution of the Zongli Yamen or Foreign Office 1861 1901 the book demonstrates the vitality of not only the Chinese State but also the institutional traditions of its Manchu rulers Drawing on precedent and the flexibility of the administrative system in their efforts to manage the conduct of foreign affairs high Qing ministers transformed opportunities for institutional dynamism into the reality of a functioning central Zongli Yamen with a foreign affairs field administration supporting it in the provinces In the process they altered the governmental hierarchy and changed the definition of institutional power in the multi faceted area of foreign affairs and more generally for the Qing bureaucracy As the most significant example of institutional development in China's critical period of the nineteenth century the Zongli Yamen's experience serves as valuable background for understanding reform efforts in late imperial China and beyond Al-Hind, Volume 3 Indo-Islamic Society, 14th-15th Centuries André Wink, 2003-11-15 This third volume of André Wink's acclaimed and pioneering Al Hind The Making of the Indo Islamic World takes the reader from the late Mongol invasions to the end of the medieval period and the beginnings of early modern times in the late fifteenth and early sixteenth century It breaks new ground by focusing attention on the role of geography and more specifically on the interplay of nomadic settled and maritime societies In doing so it presents a picture of the world of India and the Indian Ocean on the eve of the Portuguese discovery of the searoute a world without stable parameters of pervasive geophysical change inchoate and instable urbanism highly volatile and itinerant elites of nomadic origin far flung merchant diasporas and a famine and disease prone peasantry whose life was a gamble on the monsoon Asian Borderlands Charles Patterson Giersch, 2006 With comparative frontier history and pioneering use of indigenous sources Giersch provides a groundbreaking challenge to the China centered narrative of the Qing conquest He focuses on the Tai domains of the Yunnan frontier on the politically fluid borderlands where local indigenous leaders were crucial actors in an arena of imperial rivalry Anderson's Travel Companion Compiled by Sarah Anderson, 2016-12-05 A selection of the best in travel writing with both fiction and non fiction presented together this companion is for all those who like travelling like to think about travelling and who take an interest in their destination It covers guidebooks as well as books about food history art and architecture religion outdoor activities illustrated books autobiographies biographies and fiction and lists books both in and out of print Anderson s Travel Companion is arranged first by continent then alphabetically by country and then by subject cross referenced where necessary There is a separate section for guidebooks and comprehensive indexes Sarah Anderson founded the Travel Bookshop in 1979 and is also a journalist and writer on travel subjects She is known by well known travel writers such as Michael Palin and Colin Thubron Michael Palin chose her bookshop as his favourite shop and Colin Thubron and Geoffrey Moorhouse among others made suggestions for titles to include in the Travel Companion

Indo-Islamic society André Wink,1990 This third volume of Andre Wink s acclaimed and pioneering Al Hind The Making of the Indo Islamic World takes the reader from the late Mongol invasions to the end of the medieval period and the beginnings of early modern times in the late fifteenth and early sixteenth century It breaks new ground by focusing attention on the role of geography and more specifically on the interplay of nomadic settled and maritime societies In doing so it presents a picture of the world of India and the Indian Ocean on the eve of the Portuguese discovery of the searoute a world without stable parameters of pervasive geophysical change inchoate and instable urbanism highly volatile and itinerant elites of nomadic origin far flung merchant diasporas and a famine and disease prone peasantry whose life was a gamble on the monsoon

Regionalism in China-Vietnam Relations Oliver Hensengerth,2009-09-10 This book analyses collaboration in the Greater Mekong Subregion It explores inter state cooperation and the role of subnational units provincial and local governments and transnational actors NGOs firms in building and maintaining the subregion It also considers the relationships between actors on the three levels their influences within the structures of decision making in the GMS their policy pronouncements and roles in the GMS After exploring the historical background of cooperation in the GMS the author discusses how far cooperation in the GMS has developed from the mere promotion of the national interest of individual states towards an institution as an independent actor able to influence relationships between its member states instead of only being influenced by them Hensengerth scrutinises the nature of GMS cooperation and the character and capabilities of the institution of the GMS exemplified by the bilateral relations between China and Vietnam Here the study will combine the analysis of subregionalism and institution building in the GMS with an analysis of China Vietnam relations by combining theoretical approaches to regional integration in the form of the regime approach with foreign policy analysis This book will appeal to academics within international relations Southeast Asian regional and China or Vietnam country specialists

Critical Landscape Planning during the Belt and Road Initiative Ashley Scott Kelly,Xiaoxuan Lu,2021-09-29 This open access book traces the development of landscapes along the 414 kilometer China Laos Railway one of the first infrastructure projects implemented under China s Belt and Road

Initiative BRI and which is due for completion at the end of 2021 Written from the perspective of landscape architecture and intended for planners and related professionals engaged in the development and conservation of these landscapes this book provides history planning pedagogy and interdisciplinary framing for working alongside the often opaque planning design and implementation processes of large scale infrastructure It complicates simplistic notions of development and urbanization frequently reproduced in the Laos China frontier region Many of the projects and sites investigated in this book are recent firsts in Laos Laos s first wildlife sanctuary for trafficked endangered species its first botanical garden and its first planting plan for a community forest Most often the agents and accomplices of neoliberal development the planning and design professions including landscape architecture have little dialogue with either the mainstream natural sciences or critical social sciences that form the discourse of projects in Laos and comparable contexts Covering diverse conceptions and issues of development including cultural and scientific knowledge exchanges between Laos and China nature tourism connectivity and new town planning this book also features nine planning proposals for Laos generated through this research initiative since the railway s groundbreaking in 2016 Each proposal promotes a wider landscape approach to development and deploys landscape architecture s spatial and ecological acumen to synthesize critical development studies with the planner s capacity if not naive predilection to intervene on the ground Ultimately this book advocates the cautious engagement of the professionally oriented built environment disciplines such as regional planning civil engineering and landscape architecture with the landscapes of development institutions and environmental NGOs

Large Rivers Avijit Gupta, 2008-02-28 Large Rivers Geomorphology and Management explores an important topic in geomorphology and sedimentology the form and function of major rivers Our knowledge of the big rivers of the world is limited It is currently difficult to recognise large rivers of the past from relict sedimentary deposits or to structure management policies for long international rivers This exciting book brings together a set of papers on large rivers of the world as a unique introduction to a demanding subject The book includes thirty chapters and is organised into three sections The first part is on the environmental requirements for creating and maintaining a major river system The second is a collection of case studies on 14 large rivers from different continents covering a range of physical environments The third section includes chapters on the measurement and management of large rivers First book to offer in a single volume state of the art knowledge on management and geomorphology of large rivers of the world A pioneering study pushing the boundaries of our knowledge related to big rivers Includes comprehensive case studies covering the major large rivers of the world including Amazon Mississippi Nile Congo Indus and Mekong Written by a leading team of distinguished international contributors Large Rivers Geomorphology and Management is essential reading for postgraduate students and researchers in fluvial geomorphology hydrology sedimentary geology and river management It is also of relevance to engineers and environmental consultants in the private and public sectors working on major rivers of the world

brings together an interdisciplinary team of established and emerging scholars from the disciplines of history political science and communication studies to provide a historical reappraisal of Cambodia's relationships with the West Contributors to the volume examine moments of historical import in Cambodia's history from the sixteenth to the twenty first century These include Cambodia's first contacts with European mercantilism the establishment of formal French colonialism and commercialism British peace enforcement and diplomacy after the Second World War independence modernisation and the onset of the Cold War and the United Nations peace process and the Khmer Rouge genocide tribunal of more recent times The result is a unique and significant new analysis of some of Cambodia's most controversial interactions with the West demonstrating how far the West has shaped the development of Cambodia in the contemporary epoch The Archaeology of Mainland Southeast Asia Charles Higham, 1991 This important new synthesis focuses on the social world of early mainland Southeast Asia Smallholders and Stockbreeders P. Boomgaard, David E.F. Henley, 2021-11-15 Historians of Southeast Asia have traditionally preferred to write about politics and culture rather than economics and ecology and where they have looked at the history of agriculture they have most often concentrated on cash crops like sugar coffee and rubber which figure prominently in colonial records Smallholders and stockbreeders by contrast provides a rare survey of the history of foodcrop farming and a unique look at the history of animal husbandry in the Southeast Asian region Thirteen contributions by an international selection of expert authors cover topics ranging from the agricultural economy of precolonial Java to the growth of rice production in the Mekong Delta since 1950 and from the breeding of horses on the northern borderlands of mainland Southeast Asia to the production and consumption of beef in the Philippines New light is shed on old questions regarding the directions in which Southeast Asian agriculture has evolved over the centuries and new questions raised regarding the cultural demographic economic and political determinants of farming practices While the geographical and chronological scales of analysis vary most chapters deal with relatively large areas and with developments over periods of 100 years or more Besides production for subsistence commercial aspects of livestock and foodcrop farming are also given due attention and prove to have been important in many parts of the region from very early periods Smallholders and stockbreeders is essential reading for anyone interested in the agricultural history of Southeast Asia whether for its own sake or in connection with other aspects of regional history or for purposes of comparison with other parts of the world Asia in the Making of Europe, Volume III: A Century of Advance. Book 4 Donald F. Lach, Donald Frederick Lach, Edwin J. Van Kley, 1965 First systematic inclusive study of the impact of the high civilizations of Asia on the development of modern Western civilization The Legend of the Golden Boat Andrew Walker, 1999-09-01 The Legend of the Golden Boat provides a new approach to the study of Southeast Asia's northern borderlands Based on extensive travel in the upper Mekong hinterland it is a fascinating account of the lives of the transport operators traders entrepreneurs and government officials This ethnographic study is set against an intriguing background of war revolution and reform providing one of the most detailed histories of the upper Mekong borderlands ever written Contemporary developments in the upper Mekong region are often interpreted in terms of the emergence of a trans border Economic Quadrangle characterized by liberalization integration and cooperation This book seeks to go beyond this promotional rhetoric and explore the ambiguities and contradictions in the Quadrangle s development
