Written by those in the know: exceptional nurse leaders in practice, education and politics, this is a practical how-to book written to help advanced students and nurse leaders develop health policy skills to advocate for patients from the bedside to the larger political arena. Co-published with the American Nurses Association (ANA), the book examines the pivotal role of nurses' involvement in health policy and describes the requisite steps for facilitating policy change from understanding the political system through activating a plan and beyond. It features the voices of a wide variety of nurse leaders who discuss policy work both locally and nationally through descriptive case histories. The book discusses those qualities and skill sets that are needed for advocacy at the bedside and other arenas where health policy is determined. It examines the political system and opportunities for nurse involvement and clarifies the process of identifying issues that need a policy solution. Because citing research is an integral component of health policy solutions, the book describes how research can be used to strengthen policy initiatives. The book guides the reader step by step through the process of creating a work plan and describes the resources needed to accomplish policy change. Activating an action plan and strategies for working with the media are covered along with the process of taking a leadership role, evaluating outcomes, using policy to eliminate health inequities and maintaining and expanding momentum. Woven throughout the book are the major themes of ethics, leadership, safety and the quest for quality of care. The text provides information and perspectives relevant to the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN) Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) Essentials and includes multimedia, electronic links to resources, podcasts, online articles, social network resources and key political websites that promote policy research and leadership development.
