offers provocative analyses of this transformation Each essay explores the intersection of environmental urban and western history providing a deeper understanding of the complex processes by which the urban West has shaped and been shaped by its sustaining environment The book also considers how the West's urban development has altered the human experience and perception of nature from the administration and marketing of national parks to the consumer roots of popular environmentalism the politics of land and water use and the challenges of environmental inequities A number of essays address the cultural role of wilderness nature and such activities as camping Others examine the increasingly pervasive power of the West's urban areas and urbanites to redefine the very foundations and future of the American West The 1929 Bunion

Derby Charles B. Kastner, 2014-03-31 On March 31 1929 seventy seven men began an epic 3 554 mile footrace across America that pushed their bodies to the breaking point Nicknamed the Bunion Derby by the press this was the second and last of two trans America footraces held in the late 1920s The men averaged forty six gut busting miles a day during seventy eight days of nonstop racing that took them from New York City to Los Angeles Among this group two brilliant runners Johnny Salo of Passaic New Jersey and Pete Gavuzzi of England emerged to battle for the 25 000 first prize along the mostly unpaved roads of 1929 America with each man pushing the other to go faster as the lead switched back and forth between them To pay the prize money race director Charley Pyle cobbled together a traveling vaudeville company complete with dancing debutantes an all girl band wearing pilot outfits and blackface comedians all housed under the massive show tent that Pyle hoped would pack in audiences Kastner's engrossing account often told from the perspective of the participants evokes the remarkable physical challenge the runners experienced and clearly bolsters the argument that the last Bunion Derby was the greatest long distance footrace of all time Gholson Road Donna Gholson Cook, 2003-12-19 GHOLSON ROAD is the well documented story of one family's role in American history from early Virginia through early Texas during the period of the Old West Anthony² fought with the Virginia militia in the Revolutionary War and leased land from George Washington In 1801 at age 68 he moved his family west to Kentucky Samuel son of Anthony² fought in the War of 1812 participating in the Battle of the Thames and the Battle of New Orleans moved to Arkansas Territory then to Texas arriving in 1832 with his son Albert They were members of Robertson's Colony while Texas was still a part of Mexico and were among the early Texas Rangers Albert fought in most of the battles of the Texas Revolution and survived many Indian fights only to be killed by a neighbor His sons Sam and Frank were also Texas Rangers protecting the settlers and helping to retrieve several Indian captives The brothers were persuaded to become Confederate soldiers by a lynch mob that threatened to kill them and their young wives if they did not After the Civil War they were involved in the cattle industry and the trail drives of the late 1800s
