American Landscapes Ann J. Abadie, J. Richard Gruber, 2023-10-20 American Landscapes Meditations on Art and Literature in a Changing World is a major contemporary survey of landscapes in art and literature of the United States especially the American South Inspired by William Dunlap s extraordinary landscape Meditations on the Origins of Agriculture in America and a collection of forty paintings and photographs by Southern artists this volume brings together artists authors and scholars to present new perspectives on art and literature both past and present The volume includes art and text from artists John Alexander Jason Bouldin William Dunlap Carlyle Wolfe Lee Ke Francis Linda Burgess Randy Hayes photographers Sally Mann Ed Croom and Huger Foote museum directors Betsy Bradley Jane Livingston and Julian Rankin and authors W Ralph Eubanks John Grisham J Richard Gruber Jessica B Harris Lisa Howorth Julia Reed Natasha Trethewey Curtis Wilkie Joseph M Pierce and Drew Gilpin Faust This diverse group explores major eras of American history portrayed in Dunlap s painting a landscape that evokes the displacement and genocide of Native Americans the enslavement of Africans the Civil War and William Faulkner s fiction They examine the history of landscape art in America connecting art with the works of major writers like William Faulkner Eudora Welty Natasha Trethewey and Jesmyn Ward In eighteen new essays written during the pandemic and since the events of January 6 2021 the essayists emphasize how the key issues Dunlap addressed in his 1987 artwork have become part of the national discourse and make his work even more vital today The American Roadside in Émigré Literature, Film, and Photography Elsa Court, 2020-01-06 The American Roadside in migr Literature Film and Photography 1955 1985 traces the origin of a postmodern iconography of mobile consumption equating roadside America with an authentic experience of the United States through the postwar road narrative a narrative which Elsa Court argues has been shaped by and through white male migr narratives of the American road in both literature and visual culture While stressing that these narratives are limited in their understanding of the processes of exclusion and unequal flux in experiences of modern automobility the book works through four case studies in the American works of European born authors Vladimir Nabokov Robert Frank Alfred Hitchcock and Wim Wenders to unveil an early phenomenology of the postwar American highway one that anticipates the works of late twentieth century spatial theorists Jean Baudrillard Michel Foucault and Marc Aug and sketches a postmodern aesthetic of western mobility and consumption that has become synonymous with contemporary America Lost Highways, Embodied Travels: The Road Movie in American Experimental Film and Video Kornelia Boczkowska, 2023-02-06 Often identified as one of the most genuine and enduring American film genres the road movie has never been explored in the context of experimental filmmaking To fill this gap Lost Highways Embodied Travels provides the first book length study of over eighty unique and often obscure films and videos and situates them within the corporeal turn in American avant garde cinema so far mostly associated with body genres and sexually explicit films Drawing on unpublished archival materials the book offers a fresh take on both past and current practices of the experimental film community for scholars students makers and film buffs See You in the U.S.A. ,

Rhetorical Landscapes in America Gregory Clark, 2021-11-24 A panoramic explanation of civic tourism and the shaping of a national identity At the same time a reading of Kenneth Burke and of tourist landscapes in America Gregory Clark's new study explores the rhetorical power connected with American tourism Looking specifically at a time when citizens of the United States first took to rail and then highway to become sightseers in their own country Clark traces the rhetorical function of a wide ranging set of tourist experiences He explores how the symbolic experiences Americans share as tourists have helped residents of a vast and diverse nation adopt a national identity In doing so he suggests that the rhetorical power of a national culture is wielded not only by public discourse but also by public experiences Clark examines places in the American landscape that have facilitated such experiences including New York City Shaker villages Yellowstone National Park the Lincoln Highway San Francisco's 1915 Panama Pacific International Exposition and the Grand Canyon He examines the rhetorical power of these sites to transform private individuals into public citizens and he evaluates a national culture that teaches Americans to experience certain places as potent symbols of national community Invoking Burke's concept of identification to explain such rhetorical encounters Clark considers Burke's lifelong study of symbols linguistic and otherwise and their place in the construction and transformation of individual identity Clark turns to Burke's work to expand our awareness of the rhetorical resources that lead individuals within a community to adopt a collective identity and he considers the implications of nineteenth and twentieth century tourism for both visual rhetoric and the rhetoric of display

Constructing Image, Identity, and Place Alison K. Hoagland, Kenneth A. Breisch, 2003 Although vernacular architecture scholarship has expanded beyond its core fascination with common buildings and places its attention remains fixed on the social function of building Consistent with this expansion of interests Constructing Image Identity and Place includes essays on a wide variety of American building types and landscapes drawn from a broad geographic and chronological spectrum Subjects range from examinations of the houses hotels and churches of America's colonial and Republican elite to analyses of the humble cottages of Southern sharecroppers and mill workers Mississippi juke joints and the ephemeral rustic arbors and bowers erected by Civil War soldiers Other contributors examine or reexamine the form of early synagogues in Georgia colonial construction technologies in the Chesapeake the appropriation and use of storefront windows by San Francisco suffragists and the evolution of the modern factory tour Other decidedly twentieth century topics include the impact of the automobile on American building forms and landscapes including parkways drive in movie theaters and shopping malls Drawn from the Vernacular Architecture Forum conferences of 1998 and 1999 these seventeen essays represent the broad range of topics and methodologies current in the field today The volume will introduce newcomers to the breadth and depth of vernacular architecture while also bringing established scholars up to date on the field s continued growth and maturation The Editors Alison K Hoagland is associate professor of history and historic preservation at Michigan Technological University Kenneth A Breisch is director of Programs in Historic Preservation at the University of Southern California He is author of Henry Hobson Richardson and the Small Public Library in America The Contributors Shannon Bell Robert W Blythe Timothy Davis Stephanie Dyer Willie Graham Kathleen LaFrank William Littmann Carl Lounsbury Al Luckenbach Sherri M Marsh Maurie McInnis Steven H Moffson Jason D Moser Jennifer Nardone Martin C Perdue Mark Reinberger Andrew K Sandoval Strausz Jessica Sewell Donna Ware and Camille Wells

The Making of the American Landscape Michael P. Conzen, 2014-06-03 The only compact yet comprehensive survey of environmental and cultural forces that have shaped the visual character and geographical diversity of the settled American landscape The book examines the large scale historical influences that have molded the varied human adaptation of the continent s physical topography to its needs over more than 500 years It presents a synoptic view of myriad historical processes working together or in conflict and illustrates them through their survival in or disappearance from the everyday landscapes of today

Native American Landscapes Cheryl Claassen, 2024-01-12 This collection of essays focuses on what Cheryl Claassen terms the multi vocal landscape the idea that different groups and genders look upon the same natural features but perceive different meanings and potential in what they are seeing Through ten chapters various contributors showcase the ways in which native peoples see and interact with the natural world At the heart of this book is the idea that Europeans associated nature with the feminine and saw the natural world as a passive frontier to be dominated Native Americans however looked at landscape differently They saw nature as a place in which to engage in complex negotiations between spirits and humans This approach to nature cemented a relationship to the land based more on a partnership rather than subjugation These essays deepen our understanding of the interaction between native people and the land While other books focus on the gendered gaze of European men upon the landscape this collection emphasizes that native men and native women looked upon natural formations and constructed landscapes differently from one another a difference in perception that is important for archaeologists and anthropologists to understand While there have been advances toward admitting this more complex view in the rest of the world Native American Landscapes is the first to focus on how native men and women viewed the world around them Native American Landscapes is organized by region taking readers across the country from the rock shelters of the Cumberland Plateau in the east to the Mojave Desert and the Mexican Gulf Coast then north to what is now British Columbia and farther west to Hawaii Readers of this collection through a study of creation myths vision quests fertility shrines and other ritualized uses of landscape will learn more about the land and about humans perception of our natural surroundings which forms the bedrock of our present relationship with the natural world CHERYL CLAASSEN is professor of anthropology at Appalachian State University She is the author or editor of six books on Native American prehistory including Feasting with Shellfish in the Southern Ohio Valley Shells Rituals and Beliefs in Archaic North America and Women in Prehistory North America and Mesoamerica Ansel Adams and the American Landscape Jonathan Spaulding,1995 Spaulding provides a full biography and a critical analysis of the work of the man who introduced the general public to photography as art The Road Movie Book Steven Cohan,Ina Rae Hark,2002-01-04 The Road Movie Book is the first comprehensive study of an enduring but ever changing Hollywood genre its place in American culture and its legacy to world cinema The road and the cinema both flourished in the twentieth century as technological advances brought motion pictures to a mass audience and the mass produced automobile opened up the road to the ordinary American When Jean Baudrillard equated modern American culture with space speed cinema technology he could just as easily have added that the road movie is its supreme emblem The contributors explore how the road movie has confronted and represented issues of nationhood sexuality gender class and race They map the generic terrain of the road movie trace its evolution on American television as well as on the big screen from the 1930s through the 1980s and finally consider road movies that go off the road departing from the US landscape or travelling on the margins of contemporary American culture Movies discussed include Road classics such as It Happened One Night The Grapes of Wrath The Wizard of Oz and the Bob Hope Bing Crosby Road to films 1960 s reworkings of the road movie in Easy Rider and Bonnie and Clyde Russ Meyer s road movies from Motorpsycho to Faster Pussycat Kill Kill Contemporary hits such as Paris Texas Rain Man Natural Born Killers and Thelma and Louise The road movie Australian style from Mad Max to the Adventures of Priscilla Queen of the Desert Reading Graphic Design in Cultural Context Grace Lees-Maffei,Nicolas P. Maffei,2019-02-07 Reading Graphic Design in Cultural Context explains key ways of understanding and interpreting the graphic designs we see all around us in advertising branding packaging and fashion It situates these designs in their cultural and social contexts Drawing examples from a range of design genres leading design historians Grace Lees Maffei and Nicolas P Maffei explain theories of semiotics postmodernism and globalisation and consider issues and debates within visual communication theory such as legibility the relationship of word and image gender and identity and the impact of digital forms on design Their discussion takes in well known brands like Alessi Nike Unilever and Tate and everyday designed things including slogan t shirts car advertising ebooks corporate logos posters and music packaging The Embracing Highway: Exploring the Fascinating World of Roadside Advertising Pasquale De Marco,2025-03-10 In a world saturated with visual stimuli billboards stand as towering giants commanding attention and shaping our perception of the world around us This book delves into the captivating realm of roadside advertising in America unveiling the stories behind the iconic images that have captivated travelers and transformed the landscape Journey through the golden age of roadside advertising when larger than life billboards painted the nation's highways with vivid colors and bold messages Discover the pioneers who revolutionized the industry creating advertising campaigns that left an indelible mark on American culture Witness the battles fought over billboards as environmentalists and advocates for scenic beauty clashed with businesses and advertisers vying for dominance in a cluttered visual landscape Explore the billboard as a canvas for artistic expression where street artists and commercial designers have transformed these roadside behemoths into canvases for their creativity Delve into the psychology of billboard advertising uncovering the hidden messages and persuasive techniques that influence our consumer behavior Learn how billboards have shaped our sense of place identity and community becoming symbols of American values and aspirations Navigate the ever changing landscape of digital technology where billboards have evolved into interactive and dynamic displays blending seamlessly with the digital world Consider the future of billboards in an increasingly connected society where emerging technologies promise new possibilities for engagement and communication This book is a comprehensive exploration of the billboard's impact on American culture and society It is a journey through history art psychology and technology revealing the profound influence of roadside advertising on our visual landscape our consumer habits and our collective imagination Whether you're a marketing professional a design enthusiast a historian or simply someone curious about the world around you this book offers a fascinating and informative exploration of the billboard's enduring legacy in America If you like this book write a review

Remembering Roadside America John A. Jakle, Keith A. Sculle, 2011-09-30 The use of cars and trucks over the past century has remade American geography pushing big cities ever outward toward suburbanization spurring the growth of some small towns while hastening the decline of others and spawning a new kind of commercial landscape marked by gas stations drive in restaurants motels tourist attractions and countless other retail entities that express our national love affair with the open road By its very nature this landscape is ever changing indeed ephemeral What is new quickly becomes old and is soon forgotten In this absorbing book John Jakle and Keith Sculle ponder how Roadside America might be remembered especially since so little physical evidence of its earliest years survives In straightforward and lively prose supplemented by copious illustrations historic and modern photographs advertising postcards cartoons roadmaps they survey the ways in which automobility has transformed life in the United States Asking how we might best commemorate and preserve this part of our past which has been so vital economically and politically so significant to the cultural aspirations of ordinary Americans yet so often ignored by scholars who dismiss it as kitsch they propose the development of an actual outdoor museum that would treat seriously the themes of our roadside history Certainly museums have been created for frontier pioneering the rise of commercial agriculture and the coming of water and steam powered industrialization and transportation especially the railroad Is now not the time the authors ask for a museum forcefully exploring the automobile's emergence and the changes it has brought to place and landscape Such a museum need not deny the nostalgic appeal of roadsides past but if done properly it could also tell us much about what the authors describe as the most important kind of place yet devised in the American experience John A Jakle is Emeritus Professor of Geography at the University of Illinois Urbana Champaign Keith A Sculle is the former head of research and education at the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency They have coauthored such books as America's Main Street Hotels Transiency and Community in the Early Automobile Age Motoring The Highway Experience in America Fast Food Roadside Restaurants in the Automobile Age and The Gas Station in America
