Homeless at Home Gloria Frym, 2001 Poetry HOMELESS AT HOME is a series of letters addressed to a deceased father whose life was shattered and fragmented by war loss and economic instability and further splintered by generational strife and estrangement With an emotionally complex voice that intercuts global events and personal history these letters strive to speak with the father to bring him up to date with current events and with the poetic life of the speaker Gloria Frym's HOMELESS AT HOME is an elevated triumph A deeply moving astutely passionate work of the highest integrity and poetic presence These poems not only grieve the past that was and can never be but focus with alacrity on present states of debris and possibility Their measured rage and acceptance unfold a stately and alarming poetry understated

Taking Measure Bernard E. Morris, 2003 Taking Measure surveys the entire writing career of X J Kennedy from his first collection of poetry Nude Descending a Staircase to his latest collection The Minimus Poems Beginning with a study of the way Kennedy designs his poetry to reflect the poem's subject and tone the book then traces Kennedy's poetic development through each of his poetry publications Concluding the book is a chronology of Kennedy's life and writing history a discussion of the influences on Kennedy's work a list of his publications and of the titles of his poetry and a selected bibliography

This Mortal Coil Grant Allen, 1889 Ready-made Bouquet Dean Young, 2005 Dean Young's exhilarating complex and wide ranging poems give one the impression of conversations with an angel in which the poet has to be super alert at every second for every second counts and the angel knows everything To listen to these conversations is to experience a colloquial witty emotional and urgent discourse not to be found anywhere else Kenneth Koch Anyone with a heartbeat knows that Dean Young has become a crucial nucleotide in the DNA of American poetry Who else can bridge the gap between the camps of the experimental and the humanist jolting both awake in just the right way Young's poems improvise remember and discover with an abandon which is furious mind boggling funny and heartbreaking Tony Hoagland

So Much Velvet Franklin Pierce Adams, 1924 Fictions of Sappho, 1546-1937 Joan DeJean, 1989-10-18 Considering Sappho as a creature of translation and interpretation a figment whose features have changed with social mores and aesthetics Joan DeJean constructs a fascinating history of the sexual politics of literary reception The association of Sappho with female homosexuality has made her a particularly compelling and yet problematic subject of literary speculation and in the responses of different cultures to the challenge the poet presents DeJean finds evidence of the standards imposed on female sexuality through the ages She focuses largely though not exclusively on the French tradition where the Sapphic presence is especially pervasive Tracing re creations of Sappho through translation and fiction from the mid sixteenth century to the period just prior to World War II DeJean shows how these renderings reflect the fantasies and anxieties of each writer as well as the mentalit of his or her day
