certain kind of unsuccessful discourse theme or successful one exhibits itself in a large portion of the potential population it will likely show in this small sample if the discourse exhibits itself in a very small portion it very unlikely that it will show

While global urban development increasingly takes on the mantle of sustainability and green urbanism both the ecological and equity impacts of these developments are often overlooked One result is what has been called environmental gentrification a process in which environmental improvements lead to increased property values and the displacement of long term residents The specter of environmental gentrification is now at the forefront of urban debates about how to accomplish environmental improvements without massive displacement In this context the editors of this volume identified a strategy called just green enough based on field work in Greenpoint Brooklyn that uncouples environmental cleanup from high end residential and commercial development A just green enough strategy focuses explicitly on social justice and environmental goals as defined by local communities those people who have been most negatively affected by environmental disamenities with the goal of keeping them in place to enjoy any environmental improvements It is not about short changing communities but about challenging the veneer of green that accompanies many projects with questionable ecological and social justice impacts and looking for alternative sometimes surprising forms of greening such as creating green spaces and ecological regeneration within protected industrial zones Just Green Enough is a theoretically rigorous practical global and accessible volume exploring through varied case studies the complexities of environmental improvement in an era of gentrification as global urban policy It is ideal for use as a textbook at both undergraduate and graduate levels in urban planning urban studies urban geography and sustainability programs      Foundations of Drawing Al Gury, 2017-06-13 From a leading art instructor at the
