Witness to My Life Jean-Paul Sartre,1992

Existentialism is a Humanism Jean-Paul Sartre,2007-07-24 This book presents a new English translation of two seminal works by Jean Paul Sartre the most dominant European intellectual of the post World War II decades The volume includes Sartre s 1945 lecture Existentialism Is a Humanism and his analysis of Camus s The Stranger along with a discussion of these works by acclaimed Sartre biographer Annie Cohen Solal This edition is a translation of the 1996 French edition which includes Arlette Elka m Sartre s introduction and a Q A with Sartre about his lecture In her foreword intended for an American audience acclaimed Sartre biographer Annie Cohen Solal offers an assessment of both works It was to correct common misconceptions about his thought that Sartre accepted an invitation to speak on October 29 1945 at the Club Maintenant in Paris The unstated objective of his lecture Existentialism Is a Humanism was to expound his philosophy as a form of existentialism a term much bandied about at the time Sartre asserted that existentialism was essentially a doctrine for philosophers though ironically he was about to make it accessible to a general audience The published text of his lecture quickly became one of the bibles of existentialism and made Sartre an international celebrity The idea of freedom occupies the center of Sartre's doctrine Man born into an empty godless universe is nothing to begin with He creates his essence his self his being through the choices he freely makes existence precedes essence Were it not for the contingency of his death he would never end Choosing to be this or that is to affirm the value of what we choose In choosing therefore we commit not only ourselves but all of mankind

Versions of Deconversion John D. Barbour, 1994 In Versions of Deconversion John Barbour examines the work of a broad selection of authors in order to discover the reasons for their loss of faith and to analyze the ways in which they have interpreted that loss For some the experience of deconversion led to another religious faith some turned to atheism or agnosticism and others used deconversion as a metaphor or analogy to interpret an experience of personal transformation The loss of faith is closely related to such vital ethical and theological concerns as the role of conscience the assessment of religious communities the dialectical relationship between faith and doubt and the struggle to reconcile faith with intellectual and moral integrity This book shows the persistence and the vitality of the theme of deconversion in autobiography and it demonstrates how the literary form and structure of autobiography are shaped by ethical critique and religious reflection Versions of Deconversion should appeal at once to scholars in the fields of religious studies and theology who are concerned with narrative texts to literary critics and specialists on autobiography and to a wider audience interested in the ethical and religious significance of autobiography
