Sartre Iris Murdoch,1989      Sartre Iris Murdoch,1961      Understanding Iris Murdoch Cheryl Browning Bove,1993
Describes Murdoch as preoccupied with love art the possibility difficulty of doing good avoiding evil      A Commentary on Jean-Paul Sartre's Critique of Dialectical Reason Joseph S. Catalano,2013-01-17 Sartre s Critique of Dialectical Reason ranks with Being and Nothingness as a work of major philosophical significance but it has been largely neglected The first volume published in 1960 was dismissed as a Marxist work at a time when structuralism was coming into vogue the incomplete second volume has only recently been published in France In this commentary on the first volume Joseph S Catalano restores the Critique to its deserved place among Sartre s works and within philosophical discourse as a whole Sartre attempts one of the most needed tasks of our times Catalano asserts the delivery of history into the hands of the average person Sartre s concern in the Critique is with the historical significance of everyday life Can we he asks as individuals or even collectively direct the course of our history A historical context for our lives is given to us at birth but we sustain that context with even our most mundane actions buying a newspaper waiting in line eating a meal In looking at history Sartre argues reason can never separate the historical situation of the investigator from the investigation Thus reason falls into a dialectic always depending upon the past for guidance but always being reshaped by the present Clearly showing the influence of Marx on Sartre s thought the Critique adds the historical dimension lacking in Being and Nothingness In placing the Critique within the corpus of Sartre s philosophical writings Catalano argues that it represents a development rather than a break from Sartre s existentialist phase Catalano has organized his commentary to follow the Critique and has supplied clear examples and concrete expositions of the most difficult ideas He explicates the dialogue between Marx and Sartre that is internal to the text and he also discusses Sartre s Search for Method which is published separately from the Critique in English editions

On Modern British Fiction Zachary Leader,2002 In this volume fourteen of today s very best novelists and critics join forces to create a landmark study of the last 50 years of British fiction Essays by Martin Amis Ian McEwan Hilary Mantel James Wood Christopher Hitchens Michael Wood Elaine Showalter and others range from modern historical fiction and nationality to lad lit and the comic tradition from criticism and reviewing to the reception of British fiction in America Among the many writers explored here are Angus Wilson Angela Carter Iris Murdoch Penelope Fitzgerald V S Pritchett Naipaul and Rushdie Provocative and insightful this is a must read for anyone interested in modern fiction      American Journal of Psychotherapy ,1947      The Good Apprentice Iris Murdoch,2001-12-01 Edward Baltram is overwhelmed with guilt His nasty little prank has gone horribly wrong He has fed his closest friend a sandwich laced with a hallucinogenic drug and the young man has fallen out of a window to his death Edward searches for redemption through a reunion with his famous father the reclusive painter Jesse Baltram Funny and compelling The Good Apprentice is at once a supremely sophisticated entertainment and an inquiry into the spiritual crises that afflict the modern world For more than seventy years Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English speaking world With more than 1 700 titles Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up to date translations by award winning translators Iris Murdoch, Philosopher Justin Broackes, 2012 Iris Murdoch was a notable philosopher before she was a notable novelist and her work was brave brilliant and independent This volume presents essays by critics and admirers of her work together with a long Introduction on her career reception and achievement an unpublished piece by Murdoch herself and a memoir by her husband John Bayley The Bell Iris Murdoch, 2001-12-01 A motley assortment of characters seek peace and salvation in this early masterpiece by the Booker Prize winning author of The Sea The Sea A lay community of thoroughly mixed up people is encamped outside Imber Abbey home of an order of sequestered nuns A new bell is being installed when suddenly the old bell a legendary symbol of religion and magic is rediscovered And then things begin to change Meanwhile the wise old Abbess watches and prays and exercises discreet authority And everyone or almost everyone hopes to be saved whatever that may mean Originally published in 1958 this funny sad and moving novel is about religion sex and the fight between good and evil For more than seventy years Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English speaking world With more than 1 700 titles Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up to date translations by award winning translators The Reading List Linda Kay, 2005-11 The Reading List a timely memoir that traces the path of a young female journalist thrust into a story involving a famous author and a convicted criminal considers the symbiosis between journalists and their sources This book is an astute reflection upon the often unsatisfying quest for truth Education Beyond Education John Baldacchino, 2009 Developing a theme in dialogue with Maxine Greene's philosophy this book introduces the reader to what animates Greene's passionate work the self and the imaginary It illuminates how Greene empowers us all as learners of the possible by identifying learning with the power of the imagination Greene's work promises hope beyond the impasse that often occurs when learning is reified by educational systems Education Beyond Education illustrates how Greene redefines the notion of the imaginary and with it that of the imagination as that which expands the possibilities of learning beyond the boundaries by which education is often narrowly defined and practiced Tracing Greene's key arguments Education Beyond Education offers a strikingly original and empowering way to see and re position education beyond its customary limits The Fictions of John Fowles Pamela Cooper, 1991 This incisive and skillfully articulated study explores the complex power relationships in John Fowles's fictions particularly his handling of the pivotal subjects of art and sex Chapters on The Collector The Magus The French Lieutenant's Woman and The Ebony Tower are included and a final chapter discusses Daniel Martin Mantissa and A Maggot

Privileged Moments Jeffrey Meyers, 2001 One of the most critically acclaimed biographers working today Jeffrey Meyers offers in Privileged Moments a window into the work of both creative writers and their biographers Describing these portraits of Allen Ginsberg James Dickey Ed Dorn Arthur Miller Iris Murdoch V S Naipaul Francis King and J F Powers Meyers writes I wanted to learn everything about their lives what they looked like how they lived what they said I was most curious about the creative process the relation between authors lives and their art the public image and the real self Meyers himself becomes the ninth writer encountered in Privileged Moments displaying the master biographer's sharp eye for telling details In lively and compelling style he offers us insights into the writers lives their reactions to criticism how they advanced their careers and achieved fame how feuds and quarrels started and ended their struggles with money illness marriages and love affairs Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved

Susan Sontag Carl Rollyson, Lisa Paddock, 2016-08-25 This first biography of Susan Sontag 1933 2004 is now fully revised and updated providing an even more intimate portrayal of the influential writer's life and career The authors base this revision on Sontag's newly released private correspondence including emails and the letters and memoirs of those who knew her best The authors reveal as never before her early years in Tucson and Los Angeles her conflicted relationship with her mother her longing for her absent father and her precocious achievements at the University of California Berkeley and the University of Chicago Papers diaries and lecture notes many accessible for the first time spark a passionate fire in this biography The authors follow Sontag as she abruptly ends an early first marriage establishes herself in Paris and embraces the open lifestyle she began as a teenager in Berkeley As a single mother she struggled with teaching at Columbia University and other colleges while aiming for a career as a novelist and essayist Eventually she made her own way in New York City after acquiring her one and only publisher Farrar Straus Giroux In her later years Sontag became a world figure a tastemaker dramatist and political activist who risked her life in besieged Sarajevo Love affairs with men and women troubled her Diagnosed with cancer she responded with determination and her experience with illness inspired some of her best writing This biography shows Sontag always craving more life at whatever cost and depicts her harrowing final decline even as she resisted terminal cancer Susan Sontag The Making of an Icon Revised and Updated presents in candid and stark relief a new assessment of a heroic and controversial figure

Iris Murdoch B. Nicol, 2004-08-24 Iris Murdoch The Retrospective Fiction traces the preoccupation in Murdoch's fiction with the way the past makes its mark upon us haunting us and eluding our attempts to grasp it This argument was given an extra resonance by the death of Murdoch after Alzheimer's disease in 1999 when the book was first published a curious blurring of life and work typical of the posthumous reassessment of Murdoch This new edition includes detailed readings of novels not discussed in the original The Bell The Sacred and Profane Love Machine and The Philosopher's Pupil and includes a new preface an updated bibliography and three new chapters covering Murdoch's most important and popular novels considering in more depth her relationship with the dominant literary and intellectual currents of her time

Bourdieu and Culture Derek Robbins, 2000-02-11 An accessible and readable introduction to Bourdieu's work this book places him in intellectual and historical context and shows how Bourdieu is best understood as a cultural analyst It traces his development from his early work on education to his relationship to cultural sociology and cultural studies The book also gives detailed examples drawn from Bourdieu's own work to show how he makes sense of contemporary culture Robbins guides the reader authoritatively through Bourdieu's wide ranging body of theoretical and analytical work and offers a framework within which the most recent aspects of that work can be understood

Figural Realism Hayden White, 2020-03-03 Originally published in 1998 In his earlier books such as Tropics of Discourse and The Content of the Form Hayden White focused on the conventions of historical writing and on the ordering of historical consciousness In Figural Realism White collects eight interrelated essays primarily concerned with the treatment of history in recent literary critical discourse History is not only an object we can study writes White it is also and even primarily a certain kind of relationship to the past mediated by a distinctive kind of written discourse It is because historical discourse is actualized in its culturally significant form as a specific kind of writing that we may consider the relevance of literary theory to both the theory and the practice of historiography

Separate Humans Albert Piette, 2016-06-07T00:00:00+02:00 This book is a theoretical essay that lays foundations on which to build an anthropology directly focusing on human units In the first chapter the author attempts to show that the evolutionary specificity of humans constitutes an argument in favour of this perspective The consciousness of existing in time and nuanced modalities of presence call for a detailed observation of humans The second chapter is a critique of the abundant use of the notion of relations in social anthropology This critique is necessary because of the extent to which the various theoretical and methodological uses of relations absorb and lose existences and their details The third chapter concerns nonhumans another major theme of contemporary anthropology Albert Piette sees a certain debasement of the notion of existence and proposes a realist ontology considering what does and does not exist from the examples of divinities animals and collective institutions It is not a matter of being satisfied with an analysis of ontologies or local metaphysics but also showing what really is in a situation and not just from the point of view of people and their discourse This analysis leads to a classification of beings and to a consideration of the importance of minimality in human existence

Life in the Writings of Storm Jameson Elizabeth Maslen, 2014-09-30 Margaret Storm Jameson 1891-1986 is primarily known as a compelling essayist her stature as a novelist and champion of the dispossessed is largely forgotten In Life in the Writings of Storm Jameson Elizabeth Maslen reveals a figure who held her own beside fellow British women writers including Virginia Woolf anticipated the Angry Young Women such as Doris Lessing and was an early champion of such European writers as Arthur Koestler and Czesław Miłosz. Jameson was a complex character whose politics were grounded in social justice she was passionately antifascist her novel In the Second Year 1936 raised the alarm about Nazism but always wary of communism. An eloquent polemicist Jameson was as president of the British PEN during the 1930s and 1940s of invaluable assistance to refugee writers. Elizabeth Maslen's biography introduces a true twentieth century hedgehog whose essays and subtly experimental fiction were admired in Europe and the States.
