Satyajit Ray Beyond The Frame:

Satyajit Ray: An Intimate Master Santi Das, 1998-10-16 Satyajit Ray An Intimate Master is an invaluable sourcework for studies in the work of Satyajit Ray and offers fascinating reading at the same time. Specially commissioned articles by experts and some of Ray's closest associates, relations and friends provide insights into the entire range of the creativity of Satyajit Ray, one of the world's greatest filmmakers as artist and designer, writer and filmmaker, and the environment that nurtured him. The contributions unravel features never before touched upon, all those subterranean elements that went into the making of his films and his artistic character. They should serve to open up new approaches to and possibilities for fresh readings of Ray's works in fiction, design and filmmaking alike. The 400 odd illustrations, several of them appearing in print for the first time, bring together a wide range of film stills, working stills, book illustrations, early drawings and sketches, layouts for advertisement insertions, film posters, brochures, portraits, caricatures, jacket designs, giving viewers a rare chance of studying the entirety of Ray's visual imagination and artistic craftsmanship. The memoirs and analytical and critical pieces are supplemented by a comprehensive and thoroughly authenticated documentation covering Ray's biography, a chronology of his films, filmography, synopses and cast credits, awards and honours, his contributions to works by others, discography, bibliography, citations received on several occasions, the text of his earliest literary work, reproductions of his earliest artistic works and portfolios on the making of Pather Panchali, his masterwork, and his involvement with Sandesh, the popular children's periodical launched by his grandfather that Ray revived in 1961 from a passionate concern for the enlightenment of children, a project that grew to be a passion of his in his last years. A selection of reviews of Ray's films, national and international, arranged chronologically and filmwise, offer a record of the world's perception of and response to his films over four decades in historical perspective. The volume as a whole, the product of several years' research, has drawn on the rich collection of relevant documentary and archival material and memorabilia lying with the Ray family and with the thoroughness that has gone into its documentation, it will be for several years to come the most authoritative and exhaustive and reliable work on Satyajit Ray.

Cinema, Emergence, and the Films of Satyajit Ray Keya Ganguly, 2010. This is a deeply researched, theoretically sophisticated and organic study. Keya Ganguly's intellectual tour de force in this analysis of the great Indian film maker Satyajit Ray will provide a benchmark for future studies of the subject. Partha Mitter, author of The Triumph of Modernism: Indian Artists and the Avant Garde, 1922-1947. What distinguishes Ganguly's book from the more fashionable approaches to non-Western cinema is her willingness to assert the importance of European theory, specifically writings on film by Eisenstein, Benjamin Kracauer, Balázs, among others, as a way to elaborate Satyajit Ray's contributions in the larger postwar context of an international New Wave cinema movement. She does this with extraordinary intelligence and finesse, and the result is an illuminating statement on how a cinema that seems nostalgic for a disappearing cultural past can in fact be read for the first time, perhaps for its intimations of an as yet unrealized futurity. Rey Chow, author of Sentimental
