Savage Mirror:

The Poetry of Place Louisa Mackenzie, 2011-01-01 The sixteenth century in France was marked by religious warfare and shifting political and physical landscapes Between 1549 and 1584 however the Pl iade poets including Pierre de Ronsard Joachim Du Bellay R my Belleau and Antoine de Ba f produced some of the most abiding and irenic depictions of rural French landscapes ever written In The Poetry of Place Louisa Mackenzie reveals and analyzes the cultural history of French paysage through her study of lyric poetry and its connections with landscape painting cartography and land use history In the face of destructive environmental change lyric poets in Renaissance France often wrote about idealized physical spaces reclaiming the altered landscape to counteract the violence and loss of the period and creating in the process what Mackenzie following David Harvey terms spaces of hope This unique alliance of French Renaissance studies with cultural geography and eco criticism demonstrates that sixteenth century poetry created a powerful sense of place which continues to inform national and regional sentiment today

The Crisis from Within: Historians, Theory, and the Humanities Nigel Raab, 2015-05-19 In The Crisis from Within Nigel Raab explores weaknesses that emerge when using interdisciplinary theories in historical analysis With chapters that focus on knowledge language memory imagining and inventing and civil society the analysis reveals how theoretical applications can be the source of interpretive confusion By drawing from a global range of historical works Nigel Raab demonstrates how this problem concerns all historical sub fields From science in the seventeenth century to communism in the twentieth century theories often overdetermine analysis in a way the historian never intended After the enthusiastic reception of theory for over a generation The Crisis from Within argues that the time has come to pause and think seriously about how we wish to proceed with theory Cultural Exchanges between Brazil and France Regina R. Félix, Scott D. Juall, 2016-07-15 Brazil and France have explored each other's geographical and cultural landscapes for more than five hundred years The Brazilian je ne sais quoi has captivated the French from their first encounter and the ingenuity of French artistic and scholarly movements has intrigued Brazilians in kind Ongoing Brazil France interactions have resulted in some of the richest cultural exchanges between Europe and Latin America In Cultural Exchanges between Brazil and France leading international scholars evaluate these reciprocal transnational explorations from the earliest French interventions in Brazil in the sixteenth century to the growing mutual influence that the nations have exerted on one another in the twenty first century Original interdisciplinary essays examine cross cultural interactions and collaborations in the social sciences intellectual history the press literature cinema plastic arts architecture cartography and sport The comparative cultural method used in these analyses deepens the collective treatment of crucial junctures in the long history of often harmonious but also sometimes ambivalent and occasionally contentious encounters between Brazil and France during the age of colonization made by engaging with the aural aspects of supposedly silent images Colonial depictions of the North and South American landscape and its indigenous inhabitants fundamentally transformed the European imagination but how did those images reach Europe and how did they make their impact In Sound Image Silence noted art historian Michael Gaudio provides a groundbreaking examination of the colonial Americas by exploring the special role that aural imagination played in visible representations of the New World Considering a diverse body of images that cover four hundred years of Atlantic history Sound Image Silence addresses an important need within art history to give hearing its due as a sense that can inform our understanding of images Gaudio locates the noise of the pagan dance the discord of battle the din of revivalist religion and the sublime sounds of nature in the Americas such as lightning thunder and the waterfall He invites readers to listen to visual media that seem deceptively couched in silence offering bold new ideas on how art historians can engage with sound in inherently mute media Sound Image Silence includes readings of Brazilian landscapes by the Dutch painter Frans Post a London portrait of Benjamin Franklin Thomas Edison's early Kinetoscope film Sioux Ghost Dance and the work of Thomas Cole founder of the Hudson River School of American landscape painting It masterfully fuses a diversity of work across vast social cultural and spatial distances giving us both a new way of understanding sound in art and a powerful new vision of the New World Canadian Practitioner, 1903 Rethinking Celtic Art Duncan Garrow, 2008-10-01 Early Celtic art typified by the iconic shields swords torcs and chariot gear we can see in places such as the British Museum has been studied in isolation from the rest of the evidence from the Iron Age This book reintegrates the art with the archaeology placing the finds in the context of our latest ideas about Iron Age and Romano British society The contributions move beyond the traditional concerns with artistic styles and continental links to consider the material nature of objects their social effects and their role in practices such as exchange and burial The aesthetic impact of decorated metalwork metal composition and manufacturing dating and regional differences within Britain all receive coverage The book gives us a new understanding of some of the most ornate and complex objects ever found in Britain artefacts that condense and embody many histories United States Naval Medical Bulletin for the Information of the Medical Department of the Navy ... United States. Navy Dept. Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, 1913 United States Naval Medical Bulletin, 1913 Shadows of the Heavens Gareth Lewis, 2013-10-01 Not even half way into its first century the empire is riven by strife hidden behind a polite facade With political factions vying for imperial influence regional politics subverting imperial law and society still recovering from recent wars how much is due to mythic beings many no longer believe in A scholar's death triggers a series of events which could unravel the tenuous empire drawing into the deadly game a young enforcer searching for his childhood friend an examiner who desperately wants to avoid politics a masked woman whose curiosity could cost her everything and a prince with nothing better to do This volume collects the fifteen part story Caricature and National Character Christopher J. Gilbert, 2021-04-19 According to the popular maxim a nation at war reveals its true character In this incisive work Chris Gilbert examines the long history of US war politics through the lens of political cartoons to provide new unique insights into American cultural identity Tracing the comic representation of American values from the First World War to the War on Terror Gilbert explores the power of humor in caricature to expose both the folly in jingoistic virtues and the sometimes strange fortune in nationalistic vices He examines the artwork of four exemplary American cartoonists James Montgomery Flagg Dr Seuss Ollie Harrington and Ann Telnaes to craft a trenchant image of Americanism These examinations animate the rhetorical and indeed comic force of icons like Uncle Sam national symbols like the American Eagle political stooges like President Donald J Trump and more as well as the power of political cartoons to comment on issues of race class and gender on the home front Throughout Gilbert portrays a US culture rooted in and riven by ideas of manifest destiny patriotism and democracy for all yet plagued by ugly forms of nationalism misogyny racism and violence Rich with examples of hilarious and masterfully drawn caricatures from a diverse range of creators this unflinching look at the evolution of our conflicted national character illustrates how American cartoonists use farce mockery and wit to put national character in the comic looking glass historical meaning is shaped through performance Ceremonial Entries, Municipal Liberties and the Negotiation of Power in Valois France, 1328-1589 Neil Murphy, 2016-06-27 In a fresh examination of the French ceremonial entry Neil Murphy considers the role these events played in the negotiation between urban elites and the Valois monarchy for rights and liberties Moving away from the customary focus on the pageantry this book focuses on how urban governments used these ceremonies to offer the ruler or his representatives petitions regarding their rights liberties and customs Drawing on extensive research he shows that ceremonial entries lay at the heart of how the state functioned in later medieval and Renaissance France Emotion in the Tudor Court Bradley J. Irish, 2018-01-15 Deploying literary analysis theories of emotion from the sciences and humanities and an archival account of Tudor history Emotion in the Tudor Court examines how literature both reflects and constructs the emotional dynamics of life in the Renaissance court In it Bradley J Irish argues that emotionality is a foundational framework through which historical subjects embody and engage their world and thus can serve as a fundamental lens of social and textual analysis Spanning the sixteenth century Emotion in the Tudor Court explores Cardinal Thomas Wolsey and Henrician satire Henry Howard Earl of Surrey and elegy Sir Philip Sidney and Elizabethan pageantry and Robert Devereux Earl of Essex and factional literature It demonstrates how the dynamics of disgust envy rejection and dread as they are understood in the modern affective sciences can be seen to guide literary production in the early modern court By combining Renaissance concepts of emotion with modern research in the social and natural sciences Emotion in the Tudor Court takes a transdisciplinary approach to yield fascinating and robust ways to illuminate both literary studies and cultural history Renaissance Ethnography and the Invention of the Human Surekha Davies, 2016-06-02 Giants cannibals and other monsters were a regular feature of Renaissance illustrated maps inhabiting the Americas alongside other indigenous peoples In a new approach to views of distant peoples Surekha Davies analyzes this archive alongside prints costume books and geographical writing Using sources from Iberia France the German lands the Low Countries Italy and England Davies argues that mapmakers and viewers saw these maps as careful syntheses that enabled viewers to compare different peoples In an age when scholars missionaries native peoples and colonial officials debated whether New World inhabitants could or should be converted or enslaved maps were uniquely suited for assessing the impact of environment on bodies and temperaments Through innovative interdisciplinary methods connecting the European Renaissance to the Atlantic world Davies uses new sources and questions to explore science as a visual pursuit revealing how debates about the relationship between humans and monstrous peoples challenged colonial expansion The Voyage of Thought Michael Wintroub, 2017-07-13 A journey in the history of science across the shifting religious epistemic and technical practices on a remarkable sixteenth century voyage
