Saving China Canadian Missionaries In The Middle Kingdom 1888 1959:

Saving China Alvyn J. Austin, 1998 Saving China Alvyn J. Austin, 1989-06-01 Canadian Missionaries, Indigenous Peoples Alvyn Austin, Jamie S. Scott, 2005-01-01 Christian missions and missionaries have had a distinctive role in Canada's cultural history. With Canadian Missionaries Indigenous Peoples, Alvyn Austin and Jamie S. Scott have brought together new and established Canadian scholars to examine the encounters between Christian Roman Catholic and Protestant missionaries and the indigenous peoples with whom they worked in nineteenth and twentieth century domestic and overseas missions. This tightly integrated collection is divided into three sections. The first contains essays on missionaries and converts in western Canada and in the arctic. The essays in the second section investigate various facets of the Canadian missionary presence and its legacy in east Asia, India, and Africa. The third section examines the motives and methods of missionaries as important contributors to Canadian museum holdings of artefacts from Huronia, Kahnawaga, and Alaska, as well as China and the South Pacific. Broadly adopting a postcolonial perspective, Canadian Missionaries Indigenous Peoples contributes greatly to the understanding of missionaries not only as purveyors of western religious values but also as vehicles for cultural exchange between Native and non-Native Canadians, as well as between Canadians and the indigenous peoples of other countries.

Studies in Asian Mission History, 1956-1998 Arnulf Camps, 2000-02-15 In this volume the miscellaneous writings of Arnulf Camps are published. They deal with the activities of Catholic missionaries during the last five centuries in nine countries situated between Turkey and Japan. This research focussed on the discovery of hidden, unknown, or forgotten sources. New insights were gained into the reception of the Christian faith in China and Japan, the missionary efforts to enter the Mogul Empire, the composition of the first Sanskrit grammar by a western scholar, the controversial study of Islam by a Franciscan missionary in China, the vain attempt to enter Afghanistan by Mill Hill missionaries, the pioneering work of the founder of Catholic education in Kandy, the policy and practice of establishing local churches in China, India, and Vietnam, and the missionary reform by the first Apostolic Delegate in China. Missiologists and historians will find in this book new material as well as new insights.

The Canadian Protestant Experience, 1760 to 1990 George A. Rawlyk, 1994 Five leading Canadian religious historians address the Canadian Protestant experience. Each author considers a separate period, taking into account the major underlying themes of the time and noting the influence exerted by key personalities. As this collection shows, Protestantism had its most profound effects on Canadian life in the nineteenth century. As the twentieth century unfolded, however, Canadian Protestantism, battered by demographic change, profound inner doubt, so-called modernity, and secularization, was gradually pushed to the periphery of Canadian experience. The contributors are Phyllis D. Airhart, Nancy Christie, Michael Gauvreau, John G. Stackhouse Jr., and Robert A. Wright.

Missionary Encounters Robert A. Bickers, Rosemary Seton, 2013-11-05 Describes the exceptional wealth of missionary archives and the major contributions they can make not only to the study of the processes of Christian evangelism and

Western imperialism but also their value in documenting and analysing the nature of Western encounters with indigenous societies

history of millions of displaced Chinese who fled the Communist Revolution and recounts humanitarian efforts to find homes for them outside China Entrenched bigotry in predominantly white countries the spread of human rights Cold War geopolitics and the Vietnam War shaped refugee policies that still hold sway The Dominion and the Rising Sun John D. Meehan,2004 The Dominion and the Rising Sun is the first major study of Canada's diplomatic arrival in Japan and by extension East Asia It examines the political economic and cultural relations forged during this seminal period between the foremost power in Asia and the young dominion tentatively establishing itself in world affairs An overview of Canada's initial foray into Pacific affairs it begins with the opening in 1929 of the Canadian legation in Tokyo Canada's third such office overseas and concludes with the outbreak of hostilities in 1941 Primarily a diplomatic history the book also explores the impact of traders interest groups and missionaries on Canadian attitudes toward Japan during the interwar years More fundamentally it examines Canada's diplomatic coming of age closely revealing its important Pacific dimension a fact overlooked by historians until now as well as the disjunct between Canada's commitment to peace and its trade with an aggressor Meehan suggests that Canada's initially benign view of Japan its reluctance to adopt positions in advance of its Anglo American allies and its lucrative Pacific trade led to a credibility gap in its policies towards East Asia The Dominion and the Rising Sun charts Canada's relationship with Japan and is essential reading for those interested in Canadian history international relations and Asia Pacific studies

Turbulent Times and Enduring Peoples Jean Michaud,Jan Ovesen,2013-12-16 Scattered across the South East Asian massif a few dozen ethnic groups numbering around 50 million maintain highly original cultural identities and political and economic traditions against pressure from national majorities They face the same challenges The means by which social change has been imposed by the lowlanders are similar from country to country and the results are comparable The originality of this book lies in the combination of multi disciplinary mixing of social anthropology history and human geography multi culturality grouping together several cultural contexts trans nationality straddling five countries and bridging the traditional divide between South China and Mainland South East Asia and history reaching back 300 years

Cultivating Connections Alison Marshall,2014-06-18 In the late 1870s thousands of Chinese men left coastal British Columbia and the western United States and headed east For them the Prairies were a land of opportunity there they could open shops and potentially earn enough money to become merchants The result of almost a decade's research and more than three hundred interviews Cultivating Connections tells the stories of some of Prairie Canada's Chinese settlers men and women from various generations who navigated cultural difference These stories reveal the critical importance of networks in coping with experiences of racism and establishing a successful life on the Prairies North American Foreign Missions, 1810-1914 Wilbert R. Shenk,2004 The year 1810 marks the start of the North American foreign missions movement a movement begun with typical American enthusiasm and vigor but in need of practical grounding This volume explores important facets of the development of North American foreign missions paying particular attention to the role

agencies like the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions ABCFM played in shaping the theology theory and policy of evangelistic activities overseas Written by leading experts on missions and religious history this volume is distinguished by its focus on key events taking place at the home base rather than on happenings in the foreign mission field In doing so these insightful studies shed light on important yet neglected topics including the impact of debates about slavery on foreign missions the emergence of distinctive mission strategies for women the role of the social gospel as a missionary ideology and the contribution of foreign missions to the creation of a global evangelical network Contributors Alvyn Austin Ruth Compton Brouwer Wendy J Diechmann Edwards Janet F Fishburn Paul Harris David W Kling Charles A Maxfield III Susan Wilds McArver John F Piper Jr Dana L Robert Richard Lee Rogers Wilbert R Shenk Carol Ann Vaughn bThis excellent volume will command widespread attention not only for its display of scholarly expertise but for the fresh and revealing light it throws on the principal landmarks and major themes in the history of missionary expansion overseas b Andrew Porter Kings College London Challenge the Strong Wind David Webster, 2020-03-01 In 1975 Indonesian forces overran East Timor just days after it declared independence from Portugal Canadian officials knew the invasion was coming and endorsed Indonesian rule in the ensuing occupation Challenge the Strong Wind recounts the evolution of Canadian government policy toward East Timor from 1975 to its 1999 independence vote During this time Canadian civil society groups and NGOs worked in support of Timorese independence activists by promoting an alternative Canadian foreign policy that focused on self determination and human rights After following the lead of key pro Indonesian allies in the 1970s and 80s Ottawa eventually yielded to pressure from these NGOs and pushed like minded countries to join it in supporting Timorese self rule David Webster draws on previously untapped government and non government archival sources to demonstrate that a clear eyed view of international history must include both state and non state perspectives The East Timor conflict serves as a model of multilevel dialogue citizen diplomacy and novel approaches to resolving complex disputes

Methodist Church on the Prairies, 1896-1914 George Emery, 2001-05-03 The Methodist Church met the challenge with a centralized polity and a cross class gender variegated evolving religious culture It relied on wealthy laymen to raise special funds while small gifts fed its regular funds Young bachelors from Ontario and Britain filled the pastorate although low pay inexperience and poor supervision caused many to quit Membership growth was slow due to low population density and church resistant elements in the Methodist population bachelors immigrant co religionists and transients and missions to non Anglo Saxon immigrants in Winnipeg Edmonton and rural Alberta spread Methodist values but gained few members In The Methodist Church on the Prairies 1896 1914 the first scholarly study of church history in the prairie region George Emery uses quantitative methods and social interpretation to show that the Methodist Church was a cross class institution with a dynamic evangelical culture not a middle class institution whose culture was undergoing secularization He demonstrates that the Methodist s achievement on the prairies was impressive and compared favourably with what Presbyterians and Anglicans achieved Undiplomatic History Asa McKercher, Philip Van Huizen, 2019-04-30 When the field of Canadian history underwent major shifts in the 1990s international history became marginalized and the focus turned away from foreign affairs Over the past decade however the study of Canada and the world has been revitalized Undiplomatic History charts these changes bringing together leading and emerging historians of Canadian international and transnational relations to take stock of recent developments and to outline the course of future research Following global trends in the wider historiography contributors explore new lenses of historical analysis such as race gender political economy identity religion and the environment and emphasize the relevance of non state actors including scientists athletes students and activists The essays in this volume challenge old ways of thinking and showcase how an exciting new generation of historians are asking novel questions about Canadians interactions with people and places beyond the country s borders From human rights to the environment and from medical internationalism to transnational feminism Undiplomatic History maps out a path toward a vibrant and inclusive understanding of what constitutes Canadian foreign policy in an age of global connectivity

Revivalists Kevin Kee, 2006-06-26 In Canada the latter half of the nineteenth century marked a profound break with the settler past and the beginning of an age of commercialization Kevin Kee shows how Protestant evangelists used theatre film and jazz to make religion personally relevant to their audiences Revivalists Kevin Bradley Kee, 2006 How prominent Canadian revivalists used commerce and entertainment to advance their Christian causes
