Sebeok,Jean Umiker-Sebeok,2012-12-06 Although semiotics has in one guise or another flourished uninterruptedly since pre Socratic times in the West and important semiotic themes have emerged and developed independently in both the Brahmanic and Buddhist traditions semiotics as an organized undertaking began to bloom only in the 1960s Workshops materialized with a perhaps surprising spontaneity over much of Europe Eastern and Western and in North America Thereafter others quickly surfaced almost everywhere over the literate globe Different places strategically allied themselves with different legacies but all had a common thrust to aim at a general theory of signs by way of a description of different sign systems their comparative analysis and their classification More or less permanent confederations were forged with the most diverse academic disciplines and amazingly varied frameworks were devised suited to the needs of the times and the sites to carry the work of consolidation forward Bit by bit mutually supportive international networks were put together Today it can truly be asserted that semiotics has become a global enterprise This of course is far from saying that the map is uniform or even that world wide homogeneity is in the least desirable While our conjoint ultimate goal remains steadily in focus the multiplicity of avenues available for its realization is inherent in the adventure of the search itself Aboriginal Sign Languages of The Americas and Australia D. Umiker-Sebeok,2013-03-09 1 THE SEMIOTIC CHARACTER OF ABORIGINAL SIGN LANGUAGES In our culture language especially in its spoken manifestation is the much vaunted hallmark of humanity the diagnostic trait of man that has made possible the creation of a civilization unknown to any other terrestrial organism Through our inheritance of a cultured language culture is in a sense bred into man And yet language is viewed as a force which can destroy us through its potential for objectification and classification According to popular mythology the naming of the animals of Eden while giving Adam and Eve a certain power over nature also destroyed the prelinguistic harmony between them and the rest of the natural world and contributed to their eventual expulsion from paradise Later the post Babel development of diverse language families isolated man from man as well as from nature Steiner 1975 Language in other words as the central force animating human culture is both our salvation and damnation Our constant war with words Shands 1971 is waged on both internal and external battlegrounds This culturally determined ambivalence toward language is particularly apparent when we encounter humans or hominoid animals who for one reason or another must rely upon gestural forms of communication

From Semiotics towards Philosophical Metaphysics Abraham Solomonick, 2017-05-11 This book introduces new approaches to semiotics and metaphysical philosophy innovations that show how mature semiotics naturally leads to new vistas in philosophical thinking It also demonstrates how researchers change their initial formulations over the course of their research arriving at fresh results that sometimes conflict with their original interpretations In order to do this the book gathers together a series of papers by the author composed over the course of more than 30 years of semiotic studies The ideas presented in these essays lead to conclusions that differ significantly from some currently accepted philosophical views The volume concludes with a section that presents some practical implementations of these theoretical concepts related to issues such as the construction of new scientific languages and introduces a new format for bibliographies that may be more helpful to readers of scientific literature than the standard presentation in use today
