Souris Report Charlotte Lewis, 2015-11-03 While society and social security have established the age proper for retirement many seniors just aren't ready to pack it in then They leave their jobs but want to remain independent of their families and continue a lifestyle that accommodates their individual sense of living This most often cannot be accomplished by moving in with the kids The idea of likeminded people sharing a roof spawned the independent living communities to which today's seniors are flocking No more mowing the lawn property taxes window washing cooking every meal true retirement is accomplished by moving to a senior living community Yes this should be the ideal scenario But it isn't always utopia The elder generation wants to retain its independence and its dignity Life in a retirement community does not guarantee either The stories and incidents in this book have been gathered from former and current residents of senior living communities their families and past and present employees of several different senior communities The retirement facility in this book is fictional But similarities to actual communities are almost impossible to avoid as they are basically so much alike

Transportation in an Aging Society, 2004 Population Aging and Housing Diversity in Poland Greta E.

Garniss,2024-12-09 This book provides new and original insight on the senior living housing needs in Poland It focuses on housing needs of the 60 74 age group that are generally more mobile and not in need of services offered in care homes The book not only shows that seniors prefer to live independently as long as possible but also touches upon their primary conditions for this such as properties near goods services and social networks in modern buildings that have common amenities that meet their needs as they age The book also discusses the transformation of economic social and cultural changes leading to the creation of a new housing options for younger seniors living in many cities in Poland With the book concluding that there is need for more diverse housing choice for senior living than is currently available it provides an interesting read for academics professionals and local regional and national social service agencies that work with seniors

Elderly Housing Arthur E. Gimmy,Michael G. Boehm,1988 The Aging Client and Long-Term Care Jacqueline E. Figas,2008 The Wisdom Years Barbara Skye Boyd,2019-06-03 Aging requires courage Adapting to the constantly changing aspects of our body mind and soul does not come easy for most seniors This book addresses the realities we must face as we begin to think about retirement including what happens to our bodies and minds The author chose walking as her method of addressing her own aging Part adventure part reflection this book invites you to join the writer on her journey into aging and the gift of the Wisdom Years as they appear before all of us if we are mindful enough Offering tools for facing retirement aging and even our own deaths this book is a guide for living intentionally into a process that is inevitable The Gallup Poll Frank Newport,2015-11-09 This work is the only complete compilation of polls taken by the Gallup Organization the world s most reliable and widely quoted research firm in calendar year 2013 It is an invaluable tool for ascertaining the pulse of American public opinion as it evolves over the course of a given year and over time documents changing public perceptions of crucial political economic and societal issues It is a necessity for any social science research The Aging Population and the Competitiveness of Cities Peter Karl Kresl,Daniele Ietri,2010-01-01 While much of the current literature on the economic consequences of an aging population focuses on the negative aspects this enlightening book argues that seniors can bring significant benefits such as vitality and competitiveness to an urban economy The authors illustrate the ways an aging population can have a positive impact on urban centers including the move by large numbers of seniors from the suburbs to the city where their disproportionate consumption of education and the arts helps rejuvenate city centers Given this the authors conclude that a large and active senior population has the potential to assist a city in the achievement of its strategic economic objectives The book includes analyses of the effects of population aging on best practices in 40 cities in the US and EU with surprising results as well as interviews with city officials and leaders Academics researchers and public officials in the areas of urban development public policy and aging will find much in this original approach to interest and provoke debate Diversities Old and New S. Vertovec,2015-03-23 Diversities Old and New provides comparative analyses of new urban patterns that arise under conditions of rapid migration driven diversification
