Yana, 2008-04-10 Some scholars have doubted or denied the continuity of the Assyrian people from the times of empire to the present time This work based on a scientific analysis sheds light on the subject and demonstrates the continuous existence of the Assyrian people Assyria northern Iraq was a state grouped about the heavily fortified city of Ashur on the middle of the Tigris River Assyrians had become civilized in the third millennium BC under the impetus of Mesopotamian development They created the first empire known to history that was run by an empire administration The empire created by Sargon Sharukin much earlier in the third millennium did not have an administration to hold it together Toward the close of the Bronze Age 1700 1200 BC Assyria had expanded westward to the middle of the Euphrates River and in the south they held Babylon temporarily Tiglat Pileser I 1114 1076 extended Assyrian rule to the Mediterranean But Adadnirari II 911 891 BC may be called the father of Assyrian imperial administration Empire building was a necessity of economic development which was based on the technological advances caused by the introduction of iron and the alphabet International trade was necessary for the growth of industry and manufacture and the Assyrians became the tools to carry out this historic economic necessity The Assyrian army was the first army to use iron arms The Assyrian Empire was defeated in 612 BC by an alliance of Medes an Iranian people Persians Iran Babylonians and Cythians Since then Assyria has been governed by Persians Greeks Arabs and Turks The Assyrians were the first non Jewish people to accept Christianity and since then Christianity has become their identity They burned all their ancient books that reminded them of their pagan kings Thus with time a dark cloud was cast over their memories that separated them from their glorious past But now and then there were sparks from the remote past that testified to the persistence of memory Only recently has the full national awareness been restored There are still scholars who doubt or deny any link between the ancient and the Modern Assyrians They argue that the Assyrians were all massacred during the destruction of their empire This book sets out to demonstrate that the Assyrians were not all massacred during the destruction of their country in 612 BC and that they emerged as a Christian people in Assyria northern Iraq and the neighboring countries Potamikon: Sinews of Acheloios Nicholas J. BCE The Ancient Engineers L. Sprague De Camp,1990 Describes methods used by early irrigators architects and military engineers to build and maintain structures to serve their ruler s wants Land and Trade in Early Islam Hugh Kennedy,Fanny Bessard,2025-01-20 Land and Trade in Early Islam discusses the latest developments in the field of early Islamic economic and social history and explores the notion of polycentrism and the dialectic between global and local between 700 and 1050 CE The volume explores the political mechanisms and the role of Islamic states in regulating and developing demand in the economy The chapters question the binary of core periphery and demonstrate how the growing scholarship on the liminal regions of the Caliphate has transformed our understanding of the early Islamic world by offering a more nuanced picture of its regional urban and socio economic dynamics Changes in the peripheries of the early medieval Caliphate have traditionally been conceived as resulting from initiatives by the core An increased focus on the comparatively under explored regions in central Asia north Africa south east Asia and the Caucasus has thrown this into question Land and Trade in Early Islam draws on this growing body of scholarship to question the notion of peripherality explore lines of economic influence and interdependence and to better understand the regional economic social and political dynamics of this period
