Senses Of Modernism Technology Perception And Aesthetics:

The Senses of Modernism Sara Danius,2019-01-24 In The Senses of Modernism Sara Danius develops a radically new theoretical and historical understanding of high modernism The author closely analyzes Thomas Mann's The Magic Mountain Marcel Proust's Remembrance of Things Past and James Joyce's Ulysses as narratives of the sweeping changes that affected high and low culture in the age of technological reproduction In her discussion of the years from 1880 to 1930 Danius proposes that the high modernist aesthetic is inseparable from a technologically mediated crisis of the senses She reveals the ways in which categories of perceiving and knowing are realigned when technological devices are capable of reproducing sense data Sparked by innovations such as chronophotography phonography radiography cinematography and technologies of speed this sudden shift in perceptual abilities had an effect on all arts of the time Danius explores how perception notably sight and hearing is staged in the three most significant modern novels in German French and British literature The Senses of Modernism connects technological change and formal innovation to transform the study of modernist aesthetics Danius questions the longstanding acceptance of a binary relationship between high and low culture and describes the complicated relationship between modernism and technology challenging the conceptual divide between a technological culture and a more properly aesthetic one

Touching Space, Placing Touch Mark Paterson,Martin Dodge,2016-02-24 Given that touch and touching is so central to everyday embodied existence why has it been largely ignored by social scientists for so long What is the place of touch in our mixed spaces of sociality work domesticity recreation creativity or care What conceptual resources and academic languages can we reach towards when approaching tactile activities and somatic experiences through the body How is this tactile landscape gendered How is touch becoming revisited and revalidated in late capitalism through animal encounters tourism massage beauty treatments professional medicine everyday spiritualities or the aseptic touch free spaces of automated toilets How is touch placed and valued within scholarly fieldwork and research itself integral as it is to the production of embodied epistemologies How is touch involved in such aesthetic experiences as shaping objects in sand or encountering fleshly bodies within a painting The goal of this edited collection Touching Space Placing Touch is twofold 1 To further advance theoretical and empirical understanding of touch in social science scholarship by focussing on the differential social and cultural meanings of touching and the places of touch 2 To develop a multi faceted and interdisciplinary explanations of touch in terms of individual and social life personal experiences and tasks and their related cultural contexts The twelve essays in this volume provide a rich combination of theoretical resources methodological approaches and empirical investigation Each chapter takes a distinct aspect of touch within a particular spatial context exploring this through a mixture of sustained empirical work critical theories of embodiment philosophical and psychoanalytic approaches to gendered touch and touching or the relationship between visual and non visual culture to articulate something of the variety and variability of touching experiences The contributors are a mixture of established and emerging researchers within a growing interdisciplinary field of scholarship yet the volume has a strong thematic identity and therefore represents the formative collection concerning the multiple senses of touch within social science scholarship at this time

Borden concludes that as an integral part of modern life car driving is something to be celebrated and even encouraged making Drive a timely riposte to anti car attitudes and those blind to the richness of life behind the wheel

Joyce's Ulysses Philip Kitcher, 2020-06-11 Though James Joyce was steeped in philosophy and humanism he has received too little attention from contemporary philosophers in comparison to many of the other titans of modernist fiction This book probes the possibilities for thinking philosophically about Joyce's masterpiece Ulysses presenting readings by renowned scholars such as David Hills Garry L Hagberg Vicki Mahaffey Martha C Nussbaum Sam Slote Wendy J Truran and Philip Kitcher who also provides an introduction to the volume that considers broader themes and situates Ulysses as a work of philosophical interest For the central characters of Ulysses Leopold Bloom Molly Bloom and Stephen Dedalus How to live is an urgent question Each must either start anew or attempt to recover lost paths Chapters plumb the depths of the philosophical quandaries that present themselves to these characters reflections on death and overcoming disgust Leopold Bloom's evocations of conscious thought the dominance of vision in our thinking about the senses identity and the possibility of revising one's values are only a handful of the subjects covered in the volume Ulysses is an intrinsically and deeply philosophical work and these readings provide new inroads and firm orientation for Joyce's project Readers will come away with renewed appreciation for one of our greatest works of literature in the English language and deepened understanding of Joyce's attempt to offer alternative ways of structuring and enriching the world of our experience

Giraffes in the Garden of Italian Literature Deborah Amberson, 2017-12-02 Writing in 1926 Carlo Emilio Gadda 1893 1973 acknowledges his peculiarity within the Italian literary field by describing himself as a giraffe or a kangaroo in Italy's beautiful garden of literature Gadda's self characterization as exotic and even ungainly animal applies in equal measure to Italo Svevo 1861 1928 and Federigo Tozzi 1883 1920 authors who like Gadda thwarted efforts at critical classification Yet the ostensible strangeness of these three Italian authors is diminished when their writing is considered within the framework of modernism a label traditionally avoided by the Italian critical establishment Indeed within a modernism preoccupied with human embodiment these Italian literary giraffes find their kin Here the central nexus of body subjectivity and style that informs and binds the writing of Svevo Tozzi and Gadda resonates with a modernist renegotiation and revalorization of a human body whose dignity and epistemological authority have been contested by social and technological modernity

Lee Miller's Surrealist Eye Lynn Hilditch, 2022-11-14 American born artist Lee Miller 1907 1977 has been increasingly championed by scholars and curators for her Surrealism inspired photographs Her captivating images of Paris in the late 1920s and early 1930s her dreamlike portraits of desert landscapes and sexually suggestive architecture taken in Egypt in the mid 1930s and her witty yet often disturbing photographs of the Second World War and its aftermath have been widely discussed However while popular interest in Miller's colourful life and photographic work has been rapidly growing during the past forty years her true worth as a prominent Surrealist artist has been somewhat overlooked This new collection of essays addresses this issue revalidating Lee Miller's Surrealist position not simply as a muse friend and collaborator with the Surrealists but as one of the twentieth century's most important and influential female Surrealist artists

The Culture of Yellow Sabine Doran, 2013-09-26 This is the first book to explore the cultural significance of the color yellow showing how its psychological and aesthetic value marked and shaped many of the intellectual political and artistic currents of late modernity It contends that yellow functions during this period primarily as a color of stigma and scandal Yellow stigmatization has had a long history it goes back to the Middle Ages when Jews and prostitutes were forced to wear yellow signs to emphasize their marginal status Although scholars have commented on these associations in particular contexts Sabine Doran offers the first overarching account of how yellow connects disparate cultural phenomena such as turn of the century decadence the yellow nineties the rise of mass media yellow journalism mass immigration from Asia the yellow peril and mass stigmatization the yellow star that Jews were forced to wear in Nazi Germany The Culture of Yellow combines cultural history with innovative readings of literary texts and visual artworks providing a multilayered account of the unique role played by the color yellow in late nineteenth and twentieth century American and European culture Women, Travel, and Writing in the Interwar Era Ann Catherine Hoag, 2024-07-31 Women Travel and Writing in the Interwar Era engages feminist temporal and narrative theories to offer fresh examinations of interwar era accounts by women about travel and movement and considers the use and limitations of time as a subversive force in their texts This book makes a significant contribution to the under examined study of women s travel writing between the wars and synthesises and applies a variety of feminist narrative and postcolonial theories to excavate new understandings of the intersection between women travel and time in writing The book studies the emergence of the aviatrix after the Great War and moves through to the representations of war in women s travel on the brink of World War II Each chapter offers a unique theoretical framework and examines how experiences of time impact perceptions of women s bodies and identities their engagement with history and discourse and the problematic influence on colonialism Women Travel and Writing in the Interwar Era is essential reading to any student or researcher in the field of women s travel writing as well as scholars of gender studies war and interwar history and cultural heritage Technology, Literature and Culture Alex Goody, 2013-04-25 Technology Literature and Culture provides a detailed and accessible exploration of the ways in which literature across the twentieth century has represented the inescapable presence and progress of technology As this study argues from the Fordist revolution in manufacturing to computers and the internet technology has reconfigured our relationship to ourselves each other and to the tools and material we use The book considers such key topics as the legacy of late nineteenth century technology the literary engagement with cinema and radio the place of typewriters and computers in formal and thematic literary innovations the representations of technology in spy fiction and the figures of the robot and the cyborg It considers the importance of broadcast technology and the internet in literature and covers major literary movements including modernism cold war writing postmodernism and the emergence of new textualities at the end of the century An insightful and wide ranging study Technology Literature and Culture offers close readings of writers such as Virginia Woolf Samuel Beckett Ian Fleming Kurt Vonnegut Don DeLillo Jeanette Winterson and Shelley Jackson It is an invaluable resource for students and scholars alike in literary and cultural studies and also introduces the topic to a general reader interested in the role of technology in the twentieth century Automotive Empire Andrew Denning, 2024-07-15 Winner of the 2025 Nicolas Joseph Cugnot Award In Automotive Empire Andrew Denning uncovers how roads and vehicles began to transform colonial societies across Africa but rarely in the manner Europeans expected Like seafaring ships and railroads automobiles and roads were more than a mode of transport they organized colonial spaces and structured the political economic and social relations of empire both within African colonies and between colonies and the European metropole European officials in French Italian British German Belgian and Portuguese territories in Africa shared a common challenge the transport problem While they imagined that roads would radiate commerce and political hegemony by collapsing space the pressures of constructing and maintaining roads rendered colonial administration thin ineffective and capricious Automotive empire emerged as the European solution to the transport problem but revealed weakness as much as it extended power As Automotive Empire reveals motor vehicles and roads seemed the ideal solution to the colonial transport problem They were cheaper and quicker to construct than railroads overcame the environmental limitations of rivers and did not depend on the recruitment and supervision of African porters At this pivotal moment of African colonialism when European powers transitioned from claiming territories to administering and exploiting them automotive empire defined colonial states and societies along with the brutal and capricious nature of European colonialism itself Ulysses, Film and Visual Culture Philip Sicker, 2018-09-13 Shows how Joyce s narrative styles and his protagonists perceptions are shaped by visual technologies including dioramas stereoscopes mutoscopes and film
