Sentencing And Society International Perspectives:

Sentencing and Society Cyrus Tata, Neil Hutton, 2017-03-02 Combining the latest work of leading sentencing and punishment scholars from twelve different countries this major new international volume answers key questions in the study of sentencing and society It presents not only a rigorous examination of the latest legal and empirical research from around the world but also reveals the workings of sentencing within society and as a social practice Traditionally work in the field of sentencing has been dominated by legal and philosophical approaches Distinctively this volume provides a more sociological approach to sentencing so allowing previously unanswered questions to be addressed and new questions to be opened This extensive collection is drawn from around one third of the papers presented at the First International Conference on Sentencing and Society Almost without exception the chapters have been revised cross referenced and updated The overall themes and findings of the international volume are set out by the opening Introduction and the closing Reflections chapters Research findings on particular penal policy questions are balanced with an analysis of fundamental conceptual issues making this international volume essential reading for sentencing and punishment scholars criminal justice policy makers and graduate students

Sentencing and Society Cyrus Tata, Neil Hutton, 2003 Sentencing and Society Cyrus Tata, Neil Hutton, 2017-03-02 Combining the latest work of leading sentencing and punishment scholars from twelve different countries this major new international volume answers key questions in the study of sentencing and society It presents not only a rigorous examination of the latest legal and empirical research from around the world but also reveals the workings of sentencing within society and as a social practice Traditionally work in the field of sentencing has been dominated by legal and philosophical approaches Distinctively this volume provides a more sociological approach to sentencing so allowing previously unanswered questions to be addressed and new questions to be opened This extensive collection is drawn from around one third of the papers presented at the First International Conference on Sentencing and Society Almost without exception the chapters have been revised cross referenced and updated The overall themes and findings of the international volume are set out by the opening Introduction and the closing Reflections chapters Research findings on particular penal policy questions are balanced with an analysis of fundamental conceptual issues making this international volume essential reading for sentencing and punishment scholars criminal justice policy makers and graduate students

Punishment and Process in International Criminal Trials Ralph Henham, 2017-03-02 International sentencing has become significant given the numerous events on the world stage which have focused attention on the justifications and adequacy of punishment for heinous crimes such as genocide and crimes against humanity In addition to providing a detailed evaluation of the philosophical and theoretical difficulties raised by this rapidly developing area of international criminal justice this book provides an integrated socio legal analysis of the law and process of international sentencing It considers the rationale and development of international sentencing structures and processes the nature and scope of legal and procedural constraints on decision making as well as access to justice and rights issues The book discusses sentencing within the context of international criminal law and examines internationalized trial processes and alternative mechanisms for resolution In seeking to comprehend the punishment of international crimes through the comparative contextual analysis of trial processes it challenges our present understanding of how and why particular sentencing outcomes are produced and the perceived legitimacy of international trial justice

Law and Social Change Sharyn L Roach Anleu,2009-10-29 This is a timely new edition of Sharyn L Roach Anleu s invaluable introduction to the sociology of law and its role as a social institution and social process Discussing current theory and key empirical research from a diverse range of perspectives Law and Social Change gives relevant examples from various cultures and societies to provide a sociological view which goes beyond more jurisprudential approaches to law and society The book provides coverage of major classic and contemporary social theories of law is informed by empirical research drawn from several countries societies includes up to date and relevant examples This thoroughly updated edition engages with modern scholarship and recent research on globalization whilst also looking at related issues such as the internationalization of law and human rights It explores recent reforms at local and national levels including issues of migration and refugees the regulation of anti social behaviour and specialist or problem solving courts and also provides a clear accessible introduction to research methods used in the socio legal field Direct and wide ranging this text will be essential reading for students and researchers on social science and law courses and in particular those taking sociology legal theory criminology and criminal justice studies

Changing Attitudes to Punishment Julian Roberts, Mike Hough,2013-01-11 Throughout the western world public opinion has played an important role in shaping criminal justice policy At the same time opinion polls repeatedly demonstrate that the public knows little about crime and justice and holds negative views of the criminal justice system This book consisting of chapters from leading authorities in the field is concerned to address this problem and draws upon research in a number of different countries to address the issues arising from this state of affairs Its main aims are to explore the changing and evolving nature of public attitudes to sentencing to examine the factors that influence public opinion and to bring together recent international research which has demonstrated ways in which public attitudes can be changed to propose specific strategies to respond to the crisis in public confidence in criminal justice

Imaginary Penalties Pat Carlen, 2008 This book is concerned to explore the idea of imaginary penalties and to understand why the management of criminal justice and criminal justice systems has so often reached crisis point It will be essential reading for anybody seeking to understand some of the root causes of increasing prison populations social harms such as recidivism and domestic violence and the increasingly important role of criminal justice within systems of governance

Offender Supervision in Europe F. McNeill, K. Beyens, 2013-11-26 Offender supervision in Europe has developed rapidly in scale distribution and intensity in recent years However the emergence of mass supervision in the community has largely escaped the attention of legal scholars and social scientists more concerned with the mass incarceration reflected in prison growth As well as representing an important analytical lacuna for penology in general and comparative criminal justice in particular the neglect of supervision means that research has not delivered the knowledge that is urgently required to engage with political policy and practice communities grappling with delivering justice efficiently and effectively in fiscally straitened times and with the challenges of communicating the meaning legitimacy and utility of supervision to an insecure public This book reports the findings from a survey of European research on this topic undertaken during the first year of a European research network that spans twenty countries As such it provides the first comprehensive review of research on offender supervision in Europe opening up an important new field of enquiry for comparative social science and offering the prospects of better informed democratic deliberation about key challenges facing contemporary justice systems policymakers and practitioners and the societies they seek to serve

Decisions to Imprison Rasmus H. Wandall, 2016-05-13 Rasmus Wandall uses quantitative and qualitative methods from studies carried out in Denmark to address the formal and informal norms and ideologies that are used to generate decisions to imprison Focusing on the operations of the courtroom participants his work investigates how court decision making is organized to allow the sentencing procedure to be open to more than its formal legal framework while at the same time keeping the sentencing within the boundaries of law and legal validity The author uses the theory of law's operational closure developed by Niklas Luhmann The theory provides an advantageous point of departure to capture the close and subtle interactions between law's need for validity and for contextual openness in every legal operation including court decision making

The Virtual Prison Julian V. Roberts, 2004

Analyses the effectiveness and implications of community custody for offenders and society as a whole Fear of Crime Helmut Kury, 2008 The Routledge Handbook of European Criminology Sophie Body-Gendrot, Mike Hough, Klara Kerecsi, René Lévy, Sonja Snacken, 2013-08-15 This new book brings together some of the leading criminologists across Europe to showcase the best of European criminology This Handbook aims to reflect the range and depth of current work in Europe and to counterbalance the impact of the sometimes insular and ethnocentric Anglo American criminological tradition The end product is a collection of twenty eight chapters illustrating a truly comparative and interdisciplinary European criminology The editors have assembled a cast of leading voices to reflect on differences and commonalities elaborate on theoretically grounded comparisons and reflect on emerging themes in criminology in Europe After the editors introduction the book is organised in three parts five chapters offering historical theoretical and policy oriented overviews of European issues in crime and crime control seven chapters looking at different dimensions of crime in Europe including crime trends state crime gender and crime and urban safety fifteen chapters examining the variety of institutional responses exploring issues such as policing juvenile justice punishment green crime and the role of the victim This book gives some indication of the richness and scope of the emerging comparative European criminology and will be required reading for anyone who wants to understand trends in crime and its control across Europe It will also be a valuable teaching resource especially at postgraduate level as well as an important reference point for researchers and scholars of criminology across Europe

Alternatives to Prison Anthony Bottoms, Sue Rex, Gwen Robinson, 2013-01-11 As the UK and many other western societies face up to the consequences of a rapidly increasing prison population so the search for alternative approaches to punishment and dealing with offenders has become an increasingly urgent priority for government policy and society as a whole This book reports the results of the research programme commissioned by the Coulsfield Inquiry into Alternatives to Prison which was funded by the Esme Fairbairn Rethinking Crime and Punishment initiative It is written by leading authorities in the field and provides a comprehensive authoritative and wide ranging review of the range of issues associated with the use of noncustodial sanctions examining experiences in Scotland and Northern Ireland as well as England and Wales Law and Society Matthew Lippman, 2014-09-12 Law and Society offers a contemporary yet concise description of the structure and function of legal institutions along with a lively discussion of both criminal and civil law as well as basic legal doctrine Unlike comparable books on law and society available today Matthew Lippman takes an interdisciplinary approach to integrate distinctive coverage of diversity inequality and globalism through an organized theme in a strong narrative This practical and invigorating text provides readers with a better understanding of the connection between law and society and the impact recent literature on crime justice international human rights and law has had to promote that connection Sentencing in the Age of Information Katja Franko Aas, 2005-02-25 How does the fact that we live in information societies reflect on the nature of penal discourse and practice Applying media and communication studies to sentencing and penal culture Kate

Franko Aas offers a lucid and innovative account of how punishment is adjusting to a new cultural climate marked by growing demands for information processing transparency and accountability This significant book explores a number of recent penal developments such as risk assessment instruments sentencing guidelines and computerized sentencing information systems and argues that they are instruments of justice with so called Macintosh traits offering pre programmed answers and solutions Franko Aas touches upon issues of decision making at a distance the exercise of discretion databases disembodiment and the changing nature of subjectivity She explores information technology as a cultural environment with profound implications for the nature of penal knowledge governance and identity constitution Sentencing in the Age of Information is essential reading for scholars and students interested in sentencing penal culture criminology sociology of law and media and communication studies Joint winner of the 2006 Hart Socio Legal Studies Association Book Prize Crime Policy in America Shahid M. Shahidullah,2015-11-21 The second edition of Crime Policy in America describes the process of policy making and the substantive nature of policy directions in crime and justice in America particularly from the beginning of the 1970s This book examines the nature of presidential policy making in crime and justice from Nixon to Obama congressional policy making since the birth of the Bill of Rights and judicial policy making since the promulgation of the Judicial Act of 1789 The perspective of this book is deeply historical sociological and legalistic Historically the book has explored the evolution of different policy strategies at different periods of American history sociologically it scrutinized the impact of the get tough policy paradigm on crime and justice and from a legal perspective it has examined the conflict and the consensus of Congress and the federal judiciary on different issues of crime and justice from drug crimes to sex crimes to counterterrorism The second edition of the book has particularly illuminated the changing directions of US crime policy from the dominance of the get tough approach in the 1980s and 1990s to a more balanced approach to crime control and prevention in the beginning of the 21st century Contemporary Challenges to Criminal Justice Paul Behrens,2023-12-28 This study provides a critical examination of seminal issues within the main areas of criminal justice its theoretical framework domestic and comparative criminal justice transnational and international criminal law Exploring some of the most interesting challenges arising in these fields it examines the impact of public morality on sentencing policy murder and the mandatory life sentence genocide and the notion of magnitude and incitement to terrorism Taking an approach that is fully integrated in contemporary criminal justice scholarship it offers a diverse and expert perspective With a comprehensive introduction and conclusion drawing the various strands together it offers a rigorous coherent overview of the key issues in play in contemporary international criminal justice This diversity and expertise ensures its appeal to a large audience of students scholars and practitioners of criminal justice around the world Children and Young People in Custody Blyth, Maggie,Robert Newman,Wright, Chris,2009 Over the last decade the reformed youth justice system has seen increases in the numbers of children and young people in custody a sharp rise in indeterminate sentences and the continuing deaths of young prisoners This report brings together contributions from leading experts to critically examine current policy and practice
