Serve And Learn Implementing And Evaluating Service Learning In Middle And High Schools:

Serve and Learn Florence Fay Pritchard, George I. Whitehead, III, 2004-07-22 This volume provides a framework grounded in theory and best professional practice to design implement and evaluate service learning projects that address authentic community needs It demonstrates ways collaborative service learning can enhance students intellectual development promote their academic achievement strengthen their citizenship

Serve and Learn Florence Fay Pritchard, George I. Whitehead, III, 2004-07-22 This volume makes two important contributions First it provides a framework grounded in theory and best professional practice that middle and high school teachers their students and community partners can use to design implement and evaluate service learning projects that address authentic community needs Second it demonstrates ways collaborative service learning can enhance students intellectual development promote their academic achievement strengthen their citizenship skills and accelerate the kinds of educational accountability and reform initiatives emphasized in the national educational standards movement and the 2002 No Child Left Behind Act Serve and Learn Implementing and Evaluating Service Learning in Middle and High Schools provides what may be the only comprehensive guide to implementing assessing and celebrating service learning in today s middle and high schools emphasizes and explicates a collaborative approach to service learning in which teachers students and community partners team together to advance learning and meet genuine community needs demonstrates how service learning teams use key elements of standards based education multiple intelligences theory and cooperative learning to guide project development implementation assessment and evaluation offers optional designs for service learning projects that are suitable for use by interns and beginning teachers as well as by experienced and master teachers and that can be used in a developmental sequence by school and community partners to build from small individual projects toward school system and community wide projects and includes end of chapter activities that help those who use the book as a text to practice the model and its strategies and use results to create their own service learning projects The book is organized in three parts that present service learning along a theoretical to practical continuum Part I lays the foundations for the method by proposing a collaborative model for service learning Part II explicates this model and explains the four sets of processes that teams use to commit to a project cooperatively determine students project outcomes and ways to measure them develop learning activities to help students achieve outcomes and then evaluate their projects and celebrate growth Part III provides resources for carrying out the collaborative model A wide range of educators will find this book useful Its distinctive contributions and features are particularly valuable for teacher educators students and community partners already committed to service learning projects to those who are introducing service learning into their practice and to instructional supervisors school administrators and community agencies seeking to create a climate for service learning or to enrich initiatives already underway

A Practical Guide to Service Learning Felicia L. Wilczenski, Susan M. Coomey, 2007-06-03 School is so

boring I hate it Why do I have to learn this stuff I ll never use it What does this class have to do with anything As school psychologists and school counselors how often do you hear this Chances are many of the students referred to you do not have any cognitive impairment or emotional disability They are bored and disengaged from school Some students may be struggling with personal and career identity issues Others come to you when interpersonal concerns or emotional distress interfere with their ability to learn Still others have learning disabilities cognitive impairment or psychological disorders that hinder their academic progress In this era of standards based instruction and No Child Left Behind the bottom line for schools is students academic performance The intense pressure on teachers to close the achievement gap and to produce students who achieve academically also pressures you to find effective interventions to promote school success Ultimately the goal of your work is to enable academic learning to take place for both regular and special education students The challenge is enormous
