It covers the history of the regulatory offensive in New York and strategies of control and their effectiveness touching on such subjects as professional standards, rate setting, reimbursement, criminal prosecution, and consumers. Invaluable reading for health care professionals involved in the management of nursing homes, it concludes with some of the lessons learned from this experience for the health sector as a whole. While regulations have changed since 1980, David B. Smith has written a new preface which puts the study in perspective. Book jacket Ethics, Law, and Aging Review, Volume 11 Marshall B. Kapp, 2005-09-01 We are now engaged in a movement that de-emphasizes the reliance on institutional forms of long-term care for disabled persons needing ongoing daily living assistance and converges on the use of non-institutional service providers and residential settings. In this latest edition of Ethics, Law, and Aging Review, Kapp and ten expert contributors help us examine the forces and potential for changing the long-term care industry both positively and negatively and address this paradigm shift from the impersonal public psychiatric institutions of the 1960s and 1970s to the present-day assisted living environments that have been fueled by economic, social, political, and legal forces. Most important, this volume identifies obstacles to change and enlightens service providers, advocates, and key policy makers to the pitfalls that can largely interfere with positive outcomes as a result of long-term care deinstitutionalization. Topics explored include: Community-based alternatives for older adults with serious mental illness; Failing consumer-directed alternatives to nursing homes; Ethics of Medicare privatization The Long-Term Care Legal Desk Reference Barbara Acello, 2006 Long-term Care and Medicaid United States. Congress. House. Committee on Energy and Commerce. Subcommittee on Health, 2005 Vulnerable Populations in the Long-Term Care Continuum Paul R. Katz, MD, 2003-11-17 Since publication of the last series volume focusing on emerging systems, long-term care has continued to evolve. This present volume brings to the forefront issues related to populations of varying age groups that have been neglected or under-reported. The chapters focus on populations or groups of professionals that are integral to long-term care as recipients of services or as care providers. The authors present evidence to foster the creation of new paradigms of care and inform policy makers of the need for innovation. Topics examined include: Pediatric Skilled Nursing Facilities; Mental Health Services; Management of AIDS Patients; Chronic Illness and Disability in the Prison Setting; Sexuality in long-Term Care; Decision Making for Vulnerable Populations in the Nursing Home Legal Guide for Long-term Care Administrators Peter J. Buttaro, Emily L. H. competence in the field of social law However the Member States are increasingly modernizing social services and social welfare protection attempting to make social services more efficient by increasingly looking to the market for the provision of such services This policy move brings social services into the radar of EU law The EU response to this sensitive issue has resulted in a piecemeal and fragmented approach towards the treatment of a new policy area of Social Services of General Interest SSGI in EU law and policy This book is a first contribution towards charting how SSGI have emerged as a special category of SGI in the EU the reaction of the Member States and stake holders and how policy is being made through new governance processes carve outs and safe havens in legislation and soft law especially in the light of the new values of the EU introduced by the Treaty of Lisbon 2009 It takes an inter disciplinary approach and will be of interest to lawyers economists and political scientists who are interested in EU policy making as well as practioners EU and national policy makers Ulla Neergaard is Professor of EU law at the Faculty of Law University of Copenhagen Denmark Erika Szyszczak is a Jean Monnet Professor of European Law ad personam Professor of European Competition and Labour Law at the University of Leicester Barrister Littleton Chambers UK Johan W van de Gronden is Professor of European Law at the Radboud University of Nijmegen The Netherlands Markus Krajewski is Professor of Public and International law at the University of Erlangen Nuremberg
