Committee, 2010-03-11 This report examines the recommendations of the Commission on Scottish Devolution the Calman Commission specifically the parts which relate to relations between the two parliaments The Scottish Affairs Committee concludes that closer cooperation between the UK and Scottish parliaments and governments is only possible if backed up by political will Removing procedural barriers is only one part of improving communication and cooperation structural changes alone will not make the difference The Committee s key findings are the Government should make time for a regular State of Scotland debate to include devolved matters The UK and Scottish governments have given a positive response to the idea of appearing before committees of either Parliament the idea of a Scottish Super Grand Committee composed of Scottish MPs

MSPs and Scottish MEPs should be revisited changes should be made to allow UK and Scottish parliamentary committees to work together positive consideration should be given to whether Scottish ministers can give evidence to UK Parliament committees examining Scotland Act Orders arrangements should be made to remove any unnecessary barriers to access for MSPs visiting Westminster a programme of exchanges and secondments with the Scottish Parliament should be funded and encouraged by the House
