Art and Praise in Kierkegaard's Works of Love Richard McCombs, 2023-12-19 Since art is essential to the love of one s neighbor as oneself and to love s chief goal of building up one another we cannot understand love without also understanding its art Observing that praise is ubiquitous in S ren Kierkegaard s writings Richard McCombs interprets Kierkegaard s Works of Love as a eulogy of love s arts of forgiveness peace making and building up one s neighbor in maturity and charity Kierkegaard stresses love s ability to achieve results calling love irresistible and almost magical in overcoming obstacles to its purposes living the life of faith and love involves skillful attention to the specificity of the episodes in an individual s life and the creative imagining of new ways of enacting these virtues McCombs argues that Kierkegaard s ideas about the art of love reveal limits or exceptions to his individualism and to his anti consequentialism in ethics Art and Praise in Kierkegaard s Works of Love explores Kierkegaard s distinct praises of love through texts like Works of Love The Brothers Karamazov and Middlemarch to illustrate complement and sometimes correct Kierkegaard s profound account of love s art and wisdom suggesting ways that the art of praise bears on other questions in aesthetics ethics and religion Love Jane Lahr, Lena

The Revolutionary Art of Love Bianca Briciu,2021-10 The Revolutionary Art of Love From Romantic Love to Global Compassion offers a complex description of love as a personal emotion and as an intersubjective ethical experience of connection Its purpose is to deconstruct cultural myths about love proposing instead a framework for understanding love s contribution to the well being of individuals and social systems The uniqueness of the book lies in its interdisciplinary scope articulating love as a form of connection to the self others and the world in general It examines its role in mental health sexuality emotional intelligence and social responsibility Bianca Briciu s bold new book is an invitation to reclaim the power of the human heart from institutional constraints by redefining love as a complex human capability similar to intelligence or creativity The cultivation of love opens us to the ethics of interconnectedness and responsibility of caring for life Framing love as a revolutionary art articulates the subtleties of different experiences of love as expressions of an insufficiently explored human capability with transformative potential Clark Hulings and the Art of Work James D.

A Matter of the Heart T. D. Burns, 2004 While recovering from a heart transplant a strange dream kept returning Bob Hunter found himself once again on a small lobster boat bobbing up and down in the ocean in front of a beautiful lighthouse he had never seen before A number of colorful lobster floats and a stack of lobster traps were on the boat in front of him Waves crashing and exploding against a rocky shore in front of the lighthouse sending giant sprays of white foam into the air A girl in a white dress was standing on a rocky ledge to the left of the lighthouse and waving He knew that somehow she was waving at him As the sequence of dreams returned he would find himself walking up to her as she opened her arms to greet him She was one of the most beautiful girls he had ever seen Her long auburn hair and white dress were gently flowing in the breeze off of the ocean He would always wake up just as he approached Over a period of time he developed an unexplainable and obsessive love for her even though he knew she could not possibly be real Bob Hunter was an artist and a naturalist and painted a picture of both the lighthouse and the girl in his dreams A new acquaintance saw the painting of the lighthouse and told him it was real as she had visited and photographed the same lighthouse She encouraged him to travel to the area to see if he could find a reason for his dreams The dreams had no rhyme or reason Bob had never seen a lobster boat and could not believe that the lighthouse in his dreams actually existed The only way he could rid himself of these dreams was to follow his friend s suggestion and travel to the lighthouse and begin a search for the lady of his dreams
