Religion, Secularism, and Love as a Political Discourse in Modern China Ting Guo, 2025-10-01 What is the meaning of love in modern Chinese politics Why has love been a crucial political discourse for secular nationalism for generations of political leaders as a powerful instrument to the present day This book offers the first systematic examination of the ways in which the notion of love has been introduced adapted and engineered as a political discourse for the building and rebuilding of a secular modern nation all the while appropriating Confucianism Christianity popular religion ghost stories political religion and their religious affects The insights of this exploration expand not only the discussion of the role of emotions in the project of Chinese modernity but also the study of affective governance and religious nationalisms around the world today

Revolution and Its Narratives Xiang Cai, 2016-02-04 Published in China in 2010 Revolution and Its Narratives is a historical literary and critical account of the cultural production of the narratives of China's socialist revolution Through theoretical empirical and textual analysis of major and minor novels dramas short stories and cinema Cai Xiang offers a complex study that exceeds the narrow confines of existing views of socialist aesthetics By engaging with the relationship among culture history and politics in the context of the revolutionary transformation of Chinese society and arts Cai illuminates the utopian promise as well as the ultimate impossibility of socialist cultural production Translated annotated and edited by Rebecca E Karl and Xueping Zhong this translation presents Cai's influential work to English language readers for the first time

Chinese International Students and Citizenship Xiudi Zhang, 2020-02-22 This book investigates how Chinese international students reconfigure their sense of themselves as citizens when they reflect on what Chinese citizenship means in the context of New Zealand Adopting a case study approach it develops a theory relating to the thoughts of Chinese international students the theory is based on the communities schools family and state relationships of both their past and their contemporary daily experiences It finds that the struggles of Chinese young people lie in between being individuals and submitting to the general will of the family state and guanxi a Chinese concept of interpersonal relationships The book argues that the Western literature on citizenship is not sufficient in helping us understand how it is viewed in the Chinese contexts It offers readers a picture of what citizenship means for Chinese young people and the role of citizenship education in Modern Chinese society and demonstrates that the Chinese young people studied re educated themselves on citizenship in a way that is unstable and emotional This book makes important contributions to the literature on Chinese students who are studying abroad by going beyond the well researched topics of academic and social experience to explore deeper understandings of each individual student s relationship to family and the state in China and how the study abroad experience has developed new understandings of individual s relationships to China and new possibilities for contributing to Chinese society on return
